NOVELTY AND GOOD TASTE ARE THE SALIENT FEATURES OF FARMER'S GOOD COSTUMES.

MANY MORE NEW STYLES ON EXHIBITION THIS WEEK.

In our spacious and well-lighted Showrooms we are making a grand exhibition—commencing from to-day—of

BEAUTIFUL EVENING COSTUMES.
BLACK, MOLE, AND NAVY VELVETEEN ROBES.
FACED CLOTH AND SERGE COATS AND SKIRTS.
CREAM ROBES AND COAT AND SKIRT COSTUMES.
SHORT SERGE, COATING SERGE, COATS AND SKIRTS.

In all of the above classes of Costumes we are exhibiting for the first time some rich and rare styles—quite new to Farmer's and Sydney. They represent the last lingering ideas of Fashion—artistic in conception, excellent in value, and created to please our patrons.

This week we have added many new and essentially attractive and becoming creations. The styles are at once handsome and distinguished, whilst the prices are undoubtedly modest. For example:—

A very artistic Evening Costume, designed in Royal Blue Satin, with a Tunic Overdress of unique design, consisting of milk white bugles and beads, embroidered on Black Net. Decolletage and front of bodice is adorned with handsome garniture of milk white beads and bugles and platinum net, which is reproduced on waistband and foot of skirt. A distinguished novelty.

A smart Short Coat Costume is shown in faced Suiting Cloth, designed with new roll-collars, covered wide black braid, skirt of coat decorated wide band of floral braid and tabs and buttons, fasten frog ornaments. Colours: Royal Blue, Amethyst, Vieux Rose, and Navy. Price, £5/15/6.

Latest design in Short Coat Costumes, collarless Coats, lined stripe tailor satin, made of Cheviot All-Wool Serge, coats button over and fasten on left side close to neck, nicely trimmed with braid on neck, front, and foot of coat, smart tailored effect. Colours: Amethyst, Navy, and Reseda Green. Price, 78/6.

Artistic Cream Coating Serge Coats and Skirts, new Short Coats, 28in long, lined twill silk, collarless, most artistically finely-braided around neck and yoke, fine white and sky blue braid, outlined wide military braid, pretty ornamental braid effect, decorated side of coat. Price, 84/.

Smart style in Cream Cheviot Serge, short 28in Coat Costumes. Price, 45/.

Pretty Cream Serge Robe Dresses, chic, tasteful styles, prettily trimmed braid, bodice and skirt. Kimona bodice cut in one, with two sleeves. Also in Navy, Amethyst, and Brown shades. Price, 49/6.

Large assortment of Black Velveteen Dresses, chic styles, at 49/6, 55/6, 65/, 72/6, 78/6, to 7½ gns.

Splendid value in Navy Coating Serge Coats and Skirts. Coats 36in long, nicely lined, black satin roll collar, trimmed at sides 3 rows wide braid, cuffs also nicely trimmed. Perfect tailor-cut and fit. Price, 59/6.

Farmer's supply ready-to-wear Coats and Skirts. The difficulty of obtaining Coats and Skirts to fit ladies of large proportions no longer exists. THE SKILL OF THE EXPERT.

The fact that we are FAMILY GROCERS and TIP-TOP TEA MEN cannot TOO FREQUENTLY be ANNOUNCED. It concerns the PEOPLE what TEA they DRINK and WHAT PRICE they PAY for the SOOTHING SEDATIVE.
TEA lends itself to the ART of the SKILLED EXPERT to a GREATER extent than probably any OTHER of NATURE'S PRODUCTS; and, as we are in ALL things UP-TO-DATE, it follows that the TEA MAN at

THE NEW PALACE EMPORIUM

CONFORMS to the RIGID REQUIREMENTS demanded of the SUCCESSFUL TEA BLENDER.

The SUCCESSFUL TEA MAN must be a man of singular DISCRETION and COSMOPOLITAN INSIGHT to GAUGE to a NICETY the POPULAR TASTE in TEA. Necessarily the demand for a MILD INNOCENT TEA must be met, as well as a ROUGH SHARP TEA. He must respond, too, with a tea with a DELICIOUS AROMA and FINE SYRUP FLAVOUR, a tea for the folk who abhor sugar and milk, and a tea for the AFTERNOON SIPPER.
The TEAS we OFFER are the FINEST that COME to AUSTRALIA, and those at the HIGHER PRICES are the CHOICEST to be FOUND in the MARKET.
The element of ECONOMY, of COURSE, ENTERS into TEA as well as EVERYTHING ELSE we SELL under the INFLUENCE of

ANTHONY HORDERNS' FAMOUS LOW PRICES,

Recognised THROUGHOUT AUSTRALIA as the LOWEST IN THE LAND.

ESTABLISHED 1863. SECONDHAND PIANOS.

By Secondhand Pianos, we do not mean Worn-out Instruments. That class of Piano we send to auction, where they are sold as they are described.

We advise that Secondhand Pianos come into our hands in Exchange for New Instruments.

If they are Structurally Sound and by Known Makers they are thoroughly repaired and renovated; in fact, put in a condition for many, many years' service; and their prices are an ATTRACTION.

Then, we take Pianos which, although Second-hand, have been so little used as not to require repairs.

SUCH PIANOS ARE LOW-PRICED.

Of that class we have a fine LIPP and SOHN'S SEMI-GRAND, in Ebonised Case, Condition Good, Price a Surprise.

THE LOST IPHIGENIA.

BY AGNES AND EGERTON CASTLE.

[ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.]

CHAPTER XVII.—Continued.

The torn voice rose and fell in agonised cadence. Even while with one hand Lothnar passionately gestured for the restorative, with the other he clasped the inert weight against his breast. Then his head was bent, seeking the lips silent for evermore.

With an ejaculation, "This must not be!" Dr. Baumann rushed forward. But Webel arrested him:

"Austoben lassen! Let him storm himself out . . . !" said he. He was quite unconscious of the tears that were rolling down into his beard.

No sooner had his mouth touched that of the dead man than Lothnar relinquished his grasp and fell on his knees as if stricken; his face pressed into the bedclothes, his hands clasped above his head.

Frau Bertha had checked her sobs. She laid her child back upon her bed and with deliberate movements rearranged her husband's head on the pillow, smoothed the disordered clothes about him, folded the stiffening arms, next she drew the sheet over his face. Upon that face an unearthly serenity was settling ever more deeply—majestic rebuke of eternity to the futile human passion that raged about its rest.

She remained a moment, wrapped in a fierce composure, looking down at the convulsed figure on the other side of the bed.

"Take shame, Herr Lothnar," she said suddenly, with anger, "to disturb the peace of the dead—" The tears rushed back upon her. "Do I not lose my all?" she sobbed; "yet do you see me rail against the will of the Almighty?"

Every conventional instinct, every inherited tradition of the God-fearing simple burgher class from which she had sprung, had risen outraged within her, and rang in her voice.

Lothnar rose from his kneeling posture, and stood glaring at her, wordless. Then his gaze fell upon the sheeted outline. He staggered, and the doctor caught him by the elbow. But, like some wounded wild beast, the touch stung him into strength of fury again.

"Los!" he thundered; steadied himself, and breathed heavily through his nostrils. A torrent of words broke from him. It was Friedhelm's widow he denounced, and, behind her, Fate that had blundered:

"Your all—you smug little kitchen wife! What do you know of it?—what was he to you? A man to cook for, to cosset and plague, and give squalling children to! Any one else, any coxcomb of a lieutenant, would have served you as well . . . will serve you as well—miserable creature who could not even keep life in his splendid frame! Impotent fools that you are! Had I been here, do you think I would have let him go . . . You are resigned to the will of the Almighty! It comes easy to you. I—I—I!"—he struck forehead and breast alternately with frantic gesture—"I will have none of the God who mars His own handiwork. What am I without him? His is mine; he is necessary to me. My friend, the brother of my soul—more than that—the instrument of my art! Er ist mir notig, versteht ihr mich alle?"

His eyes with their mad fire ran once more from face to face, to fall back on the shrouded figure. "I cannot go on without him. He is my Hippolytus!" His voice rang piteously of a sudden. "It is not true," he cried, and seemed like a man breaking from a trance or a delirium. "Did anyone say that Hippolytus was dead?" He plucked at the sheet with an uncertain touch; and, as if the strength to lift it had failed him, fell against the bed, and from that to the floor.

"This is best," said the doctor, wiping his forehead.

Sarolta, trembling in every limb, stood now holding on to the chair, as Webel and the doctor carried the unconscious man out of the room. What seemed a long while passed in the awful silence left behind. All at once Frau Bertha turned like a tigress:

"If you please, Fraulein, you will leave me alone with my dead."

The girl started from her miserable trance, and mechanically held out her arms for the child.

"Ach nein!" cried the other. "I keep my little one! Am I to have nothing left to me?"

To the sound of the widow's loud sobbing Sarolta dragged herself from the room which had held such unimaginable calamity that night. By the open door of her own attic she remained listening, breathless; ever and anon creeping to the head of the little stairs to hearken for what sounds could reach her from below. Once she told herself desperately that she must go to him—he had fallen as helpless as the dead man. What if he, too, were dying! But an invincible physical reluctance held her. Then suddenly she heard his voice in the hall—harsh, impatient—

"Come, then, Webel—"

The outer door was closed very softly by someone from within, and a slow step came up the stairs. It was the doctor returning to the death chamber.

She went back and flung herself exhaustedly, dressed as she was, on her bed. But it was not to sleep.

Beneath and beyond the anguish and grief and terror lay a pain sharper than all the rest—a question piercing and not to be answered. Lothnar had looked upon her, and had not seen her! What was she, then, to him?

CHAPTER XVIII.

"Unbelievable catastrophe; I am heartbroken," telegraphed Madame Costanza to the widow.

Telegrams and wreaths of every description, messages of regret and sympathy from all quarters of the musical world, poured into the little wooden house. Almost the whole of Frankheim, rich and poor, drove or tramped out of the Ost Thor to the garden gate, with a tribute that ranged from the many-streamered gold laurel wreath to the bunch of wild flowers tied with a black string.

The funeral itself was a pageant such as Frankheim had rarely seen. The Opera Chorus sang a hymn round the open grave under the beating finger of Webel. Not a Musik Verein in the land but had sent its deputy. Yet the great artist was not so much regretted as the good fellow. It seemed that he had been an unobtrusive but generous helper of struggling comrades, and kindly anecdotes about him flew from lip to lip. Many shops were closed for the day; so was the theatre indefinitely.

"If it had been for a royal personage, it could not have passed off differently," said the widow, proudly lifting her crepe-veiled head, and looking round through swollen eyelids at the group of sympathetic female friends who had flocked to her house after the ceremony. "The Grand-Duke was represented, and even the Dowager Grand-Duchess—ach, she sent a wreath of immortelles!"

"We saw it best, Bertha, we saw it!" cried the friends in chorus.—"Black and yellow immortelles—reizend!"

"And that of the Berlin Conservatorium—ach, that was beyond words lovely—allerliebst!"

Wreath after wreath was re-enumerated with much ejaculation and clacking of tongues, and Frau Reinhardt felt great comfort steal upon her soul.

Presently the heads drew closer together. One, only one, had been conspicuous by his absence. The Herr Doktor Lothnar had not stirred outside the Altschloss since the night of his friend's death. None had seen him but Webel and his servant. The Archduke had sent his physician, who had been refused admittance. It was rumoured that Webel was in deep anxiety.

A lady tapped her forehead significantly; another, not to be outdone, vowed that she knew, on the best authority—her Anna-Lise was a niece of Doctor Lothnar's own cook—that the composer had not swallowed bit or sup since—

The widow had drawn herself up and compressed her lips at the first mention of Lothnar's name. A deep grudge she bore him now. Was it not his opera that had killed her Friedhelm? Ah, and was not the deathbed scene an unforgettable outrage? Yet through grief for the loss of her husband the world-renowned composer should lose his wits was a tribute more startling than any other to the dead man's memory. So, though she darkened with dislike, she swelled with pride.

While friends thus administered comfort to the bereaved, Sarolta sat miserably alone in the little room where she had been so tremblingly joyful.

Frau Bertha had scarcely spoken to her since their parting on the night of death; but, whenever they had met, the widow had shot dreadful glances at her—glances charged with hatred, with accusation and scorn.

"What have I done?" thought Sarolta wearily. Not that she cared very greatly; this was a minor trouble indeed, compared with the tide that swept her soul. Grief for Friedhelm, anxiety for her own future, her dismal isolation in this striken house—everything was swamped in the bitter waters of her own misery. The longing for the smallest sign from Lothnar, combined with a growing apprehension, possessed her utterly.

"Have a care, Sarolta!" What had Friedhelm meant by his warning? In the pain and horror of the moment she had failed to grasp its ominous significance. Now the words recurred again and again with terrifying insistence. What if it had been no delirium, but a vision in death of some peril which threatened her? What peril? She only knew of one that could affect her—the loss of Lothnar's love. She could not contemplate that.

When the early twilight of this funeral day began to fall, Frau Hegemann, who had a bat-like fondness for the darker hours, made her appearance at the wooden house; and, Frau Bertha's other company having departed to their own hearths, she remained on in long conclave with the widow.

The inner folds of the human heart shelter singular impulses. To none of her honest intimates did the mourner give her confidence; it was to this harsh and gloomy soul that she chose to lay bare the hidden wound—perhaps because she had always felt that Frau Hegemann hated Sarolta.

"He called her thou . . . with his last breath—he called her thou!"

"No man can be trusted with a wanton," said Frau Hegemann bitingly.

The widow broke into wrath. Her Friedhelm had never been of such. God forgive her if she had suspected him! Yet, what could his warning have meant?—what was it that she, his own true wife, had ignored?

"Seek not to know," advised the hag. "Have I not learned the ways of artists?"

The other gave way to tortured sobbing. "My Friedhelm!" My Friedhelm!"

"Ach, in Heaven's name, blame him not, the girl being what she is! Did I not see from the first moment, in Paris?—how could you think she would spare your husband, when Dr. Lothnar himself has not escaped her?"

In some inexplicable way Frau Bertha found a kind of consolation in the thought. It was true the creature had had the boldness, the unheard-of effrontery, to go alone, day after day, to the Altschloss, in spite of all one could say to her—"and him not six weeks bereaved."

The two women caught at each other, each in her new mourning. Then, trembling from head to foot, the widow cried she would as soon keep a snake in the house.

"I will take her back," said Frau Hegemann grimly. "This very night."

Sarolta lifted a flushed face from her pillow, and stared at the gaunt black figure that stood at the foot of her bed like some cruel image of fate.

"Rise, Fraulein Vaneck, and pack."

The girl gazed uncomprehendingly.

"It is impossible that you should remain here," proceeded the rasping voice.

Sarolta sat up, her heart beating to suffocation.

"Why—who says so?" she stammered. Was this Lothnar's order? And what could it portend?

"That is a question, Fraulein, which you must answer for yourself. Frau Reinhardt declines to keep you—that should be enough. I am waiting to take you back to my house, this night."

"To-night?"

"Yes, to-night. Your packing need not detain you for any undue length of time, I should imagine."

With this sneer at the girl's modest wardrobe, Frau Hegemann withdrew.

It was next day that rumour ran like wildfire through Frankheim with an extraordinary tale.

THRILLING AEROPLANE FLIGHTS.

On Saturday afternoon at the conclusion of the Ascot race meeting the promised bi-plane ascent became an accomplished fact, under severe adverse conditions. During the afternoon the general opinion was that the flight would not be attempted, for although the north-east wind was never strong, there was a gustiness that airmen do not appreciate. A cheer greeted the appearance of the machine, and was renewd when her pilot (Mr. Leslie MacDonald) took his seat, and set the engine in motion. Steering towards Botany Bay at a height of between 500 and 600 feet, it was at once apparent that the conditions up aloft were not favourable. On the homeward turn the machine manoeuvred in such a way as to thrill the spectators—rising at an acute angle, then suddenly pitching forward and downward—but one of the numerous attendants remarked, "It's no good up there, but he's riding through splendidly."

The descent was made a short distance from the starting point, and Mr. MacDonald was warmly congratulated.

After a brief consultation, it was decided to risk another flight, and again the crowd cheered lustily as the airman mounted the machine. The second ascent was even more exciting, but was safely negotiated at a similar altitude. The most disappointed man on the ground was Mr. Herbert Garratt, who was to have accompanied Mr. MacDonald had reasonable air conditions prevailed; but on his return from the first flight Mr. MacDonald approached the manager and said emphatically, "I cannot take a passenger."

WHAT TO DO WITH OUR GIRLS.

The demonstrational exhibition and bazaar, "What to do with our girls," that has been held in the Town Hall for the last ten days, was brought to a close on Saturday night. The returns are not yet available, but the guild officials state that the venture was a financial success.

"VENGEANCE FOR DEFEAT."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—I crave space to correct a false impression likely to be created by your headline to the Woollahra Labour League's resolution. You say that our motion means "vengeance for defeat." I am at a complete loss to discover in what way we have shown ourselves vengeful. The members who carried the resolution are, I believe, endowed with a full measure of Christian charity, and their action was prompted by no baser motive than honesty. When the Liberals followed up their political annihilation of ex-Mayors Meacle, of Paddington, and Watkins, of Waverley, by hounding these gentlemen out of municipal life as well, the quality of vengeance seemed to be rampant in the land, but one looked in vain for any reference to it in the columns of the daily press. The Woollahra league's resolution embodies an obvious fact—that the Labour movement is no place for men who distrust the Federal Labour Government, and who ignore the party's aims and ideals. The progressive movement has more serious work to do than help to bolster up the vested interests of little State cliques, and it really matters nothing to the wage earner—high or low—whether reform comes through the Federal or the State legislature. The point is that reform is necessary and that through the blindness of some of the State members the Federal Labour Ministry has been denied the chance of accomplishing it. There is no question of vengeance; it is purely a question of fitness. If certain State members are content to allow the weight of their representative positions to be used against the Federal Labour Government then they become a distinct menace to the solidarity of the movement throughout Australia. Outside the ranks of the Labour party, Messrs. Holman, Beeby, and the rest would have no more influence with democratic electors than Messrs. Cook, Ferguson, and Colonel Onslow; inside the Labour party they have boundless potentialities for mischief. No doubt, the progressive electors who support the Labour party would like to see the ranks of the movement close up again, and a solid front presented to the reactionaries; but how can peace and harmony reign, and a big united effort be made in the future, if recognised leaders may break away in times of stress and gravity, when every ounce of the party's fighting strength is required to uphold the party colours? The members of unions and leagues are in no mood for mincing matters, and unless the seceders fall into line very soon they will get little support at State elections from the most active and self-sacrificing members of the party.

Mr. Holman and Mr. Beeby, and the lesser lights, who seem to be incapable of even thinking for themselves, are at perfect liberty to do and say what they like, but they have no right to masquerade as Labour representatives, while they flout the decision of the Labour Conference, and ignore the platform and objective of the party. I am, etc.,

WOOLLAHRA LABOUR LEAGUER.

WONDERFUL CURE OF PSORIASIS.

"I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M.Ds. psoriasis, and others leprosy, commencing on my scalp; and in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skilful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in the form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labour, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there would be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Springs. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One Dr. —— treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs; feet badly swollen; toe-nails came off; finger-nails dead and hard as a bone; hair dead, dry, and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God, how I did suffer.

"My sister wouldn't give up; said, 'We will try Cuticura.' Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka, there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got Cuticura Resolvent, Ointment, and Soap. I commenced by taking Cuticura Resolvent three times a day after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura Ointment morning and evening. Result: Returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper." (Signed) Hiram E. Carpenter, Henderson, N.Y., U.S.A.

The above remarkable testimonial was written January 19, 1880, and is republished because of the permanency of the cure. Under date of April 22, 1910, Mr. Carpenter wrote from his present home, 610 Walnut-street, So., Lansing, Mich., U.S.A.:—"I have never suffered a return of the psoriasis, and although many years have passed I have not forgotten the terrible suffering I endured before using the Cuticura Remedies."—Advt.

AMUSEMENTS.

HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.

Both afternoon and evening there were immense attendances at Her Majesty's Theatre, where "Jack and the Beanstalk," with Misses Sybil Arundale, Firmin, and Eaton in favourite songs, and Messrs. Neil Kenyon and Jack Cannot in the leading comic characters, was warmly welcomed. There will be matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

THEATRE ROYAL.

"Our Miss Gibs" drew another great audience on Saturday at the Theatre Royal, where the final performances of the favourite gaiety piece are announced for Wednesday afternoon and evening. On the latter occasion, the farewell of the Royal Comic Opera Company, Messrs. J. C. Williamson will devote half the proceeds to the Sydney Hospital Centenary Fund. Reserved seats and early door gallery tickets are available at Paling's.

CRITERION THEATRE.

"A Woman in the Case" entered upon its last six nights to a crowded house on Saturday. Mr. George Willoughby's Company will now give their final matinee on Wednesday, and will make their farewell next Friday evening, subsequently visiting Goulburn, Yass, Cootamundra, Wagga, and Albury, en route to Melbourne, where they open Saturday week at the Theatre Royal.

"THE DOLLAR PRINCESS."

The Theatre Royal, which will remain closed on Thursday and Friday, will be reopened on Saturday for the season of J. C. Williamson's New Comic Opera Company. "The Dollar Princess," with Leo Fall's fascinating music, will be revived. Misses Young, Godwin, Sargent, Messrs. Roberts, Greene, Kirby, Perry, and Gillies will be in the cast. The plan opens at Paling's this morning.

"THE GAY GORDONS."

On Saturday evening next the Clarke-Meynell English Comic Opera will open at the Criterion Theatre in "The Gay Gordons," a vivacious musical comedy in a Highland setting. This dashing piece will be picturesquely staged under Mr. F. Winn's direction, with Miss Florence Imeson, Mr. Lincoln, Mr. Graves, and a dozen new artists, in the cast. The plan opens at Elvy's this morning.

ADELPHI THEATRE.

There was a tremendous attendance at the Adelphi Theatre on Saturday night, every seat being filled, and the gallery presenting to the eye the proverbial "sea of faces." "The Bad Girl of the Family" has now been running six weeks, and Mr. George Marlow is accordingly preparing for an early production of "Under Two Flags," with Miss Ethel Buckley as Cigarette. There will be an elaborate scenic and equestrian display.

"THE GRAY KIMONA" MATINEE.

"The Gray Kimona," a bright Japanese musical comedy, written by D. H. Souter, was revived at the Criterion Theatre on Saturday in aid of the Hospital Saturday Fund. The composer, Mr. F. Wynne Jones, conducted the music, which, on renewed hearing, proved as graceful and melodically attractive as ever. The orchestra was especially "on the spot." The amateur chorus proved a little behindhand in the action of their songs, but Miss Amy Murphy, Miss Pressy Preston, Mr. R. B. Orchard, and other principals assisted the whole to success. Owing to the fine weather, which so much furthered the collection compaign in the streets, the attendance was not large, but all services were voluntary, and Sir Rupert Clarke and Mr. Clyde Meynell freely lent the theatre. During the afternoon Miss Nellie Mortyne and other artists sold the new picture-books of "A Woman in the Case," published by Messrs. George Robertson and Co., which include, not only all the illustrations of the original London production, but some vivid portraits ad groups in which Miss Mabel Trevor and the other artists of the George Willoughby Company are portrayed.

BOX PLANS FOR THE SOUSA SEASON.

Messrs. Carnegie and Sons announce that they have completed all arrangements for the opening of the box plan for the Sousa Band concerts this morning, and seats may now be secured at their music warehouse, 80 King-street. Ample time is allowed for country residents to avail themselves of the special facilities afforded by "mail coupon" booking, which enables them to make certain of their seats by merely filling in and mailing the "coupon," as per the conditions set forth in our advertising columns on Saturday. The first concert, as already notified, will take place at the Town Hall next Monday evening.

HOSPITAL FUND CONCERT.

At the Town Hall this evening a concert will be given in aid of the Hospital Saturday Fund, at which the programme will open with Tschaikowsky's "1812 Overture," by the State Military Band, under Captain W. G. Bentley, followed by the part-songs by the St. Cecilia Ladies' Choir, under Mr. Hector O. Fleming. The assisting artists will be Mme. Slapoffski (Tosti's "Good-bye" and "The Holy City"), Misses Iris de Cairos Rego, Emilie Lambert, Minnie Gallagher, Messrs. Tanelli, Bryce Carter, Harold Whittle, and Ernest Truman. Mr. H. N. Southwell is hon. director.

TIVOLI THEATRE.

The new artists at the Tivoli Theatre had a stirring reception from the usual packed audience on Saturday, and the turns they put on were well deserving of it. Mr. Rickards's latest importations include the seven Perezoffs, a company of comedy jugglers, Reichen and his troupe of performing dogs, Cadwell and Verne, sketch team, and Delino, trick wire-walker. The last-named gave a performance which sent a thrill through most of those who watched him. Balancing on a slack wire, he seemed as much at home as standing on a solid floor, but he juggled with clubs and balls, changed his clothes, climbed a ladder, sat on a chair, and rode a bicycle—all on nothing more substantial than a thin steel wire. Reichen's dogs are also artists in the balancing line. They were just plain ordinary dogs, but they know their work, and appear to enjoy it. Standing stiffly on their front legs, they balance themselves, head downwards, cleverly on Reichen's extended hand, on his fingers, on his forehead, or on a stick, and also turn somersaults on to his hand. One little chap with a knowing look in his eye take the comedy part of the turn, and he caused a good deal of laughter. The seven Perezoffs gave a boisterous and laughable juggling turn, in which, attired as waiters, two of them set a table for dinner in record time. One stood at the table, whilst the other passed the things to him simply by throwing them across the stage. They juggled cleverly with plates, lamps, and any old thing that was handy. Other members of Mr. Rickards's company also provided many enjoyable items.

NATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE.

Popular as ever, the National was packed to the doors on Saturday night for the latest change of programme. The most distinguished stranger probably is Hassan, a juggler of Eastern fame, who introduces several new features into the performances commonly given by jugglers and illusionists. One of rather novel characteristics is a weight-lifting feat with his eyebrows. He carried a granite block, weighing over 60lb, across the stage. Others who contributed to a most enjoyable programme with clever turns were Harland and Rollison (comedy musicians), Armstrong and Verne (musical comedy artists), George Banveen, the National Duo, Watts and Lucas, Sandy Donaldson, Joe Gilbert, Walter Whyte, and Olga Pennington.

WEST'S PICTURES.

West's Pictures, Ltd., gave their last exhibition in the Glaciarium on Saturday. To-night they will reopen the new Princess Theatre, until recently known as the Bijou, adjoining the Glaciarium. The star attraction at both the Palace Theatre and the Glaciarium, which were crowded, was Mr. W. G. Barker's picture production of "King Henry VIII.," in which Sir Beerbohm Tree played Cardinal Wolsey. In reproducing this great Shakespearian play the aim of the management has been to hand down to an Australian public a representation not only of some of the best acting on the English stage, but also of English manners and customs of Elizabethan times. The interstate eight-oar race, the Oxford and Cambridge race, and the Camorra trial in Italy are included in the programme. The usual matinee will be held on Wednesday and Saturday.

This evening the management will produce for the first time an Australian picture by Australian artist, entitled "One Hundred Years Ago."

OPENING OF NEW PRINCESS THEATRE.

This evening the management of West's Pictures Ltd., will open their new theatre, recently known as the Bijou, but from this evening to be known as the Princess Theatre. As is generally known, the new theatre is adjacent to the Glaciarium, where this management are accustomed to attract large crowds. In view of the ice skating season, West's Pictures have spent many hundreds of pounds in remodelling, redecorating, reseating, and generally modernising this popular picture resort. From this date nothing but first-class attractions will be shown in this theatre, also in conjunction with the Palace in Pitt-street, of which the West's management have secured a lease for the winter. Performances will start at 8 o'clock sharp this evening.

LYCEUM THEATRE.

The Lyceum Theatre was packed at both exhibitions on Saturday. Mr. C. Spencer's local picture production of "The Fatal Wedding" is still the star attraction. Long and loud applause greeted the various scenes, and it is unlikely that the film will be replaced for some considerable time. The well-known drama is an entertainment in itself, but there are other popular films, including "Adrift," a drama of intense interest; "The Cossacks," and "The Arizona Romance." To-day, in addition to "The Fatal Wedding," a new batch of subjects will be presented. These include comic, dramatic, and scenic pictures. The usual matinees will be held on Wednesday and Saturday, and a change of bill will take place on Thursday night.

THE LYRIC THEATRE.

Good audiences were the rule at this pretty and popular photo-play house during the week. The Saturday sessions were crowded in every portion of the house. Monday's change of programme contains the following varied assortment of films:—Pathe English Gazette, an illustrated budget of home views; Indian and the Maid, a romantic Indian drama; Foolshead's Soiree, a comedy; Where the Wind Blows, a drama; Calino's Lost Lunch, described as a screamer; and the Cambridge-Oxford Boat Race. This event, which took place in England on April 1st, is shown for the first time in Australia, and depicts all the incidents of the race.

COLONIAL THEATRE NO. 1.

This beautiful picture house maintained its customary standard during the week, and on Saturday was crowded at all performances. The first of the bi-weekly changes of programme takes place to-day, and continues to-morrow and Wednesday. The pictures are:—Antigumna, a dramatic picture; Bobby and Toto, a comedy, in which these two youthful comedians figure; His First Commission, a sensational melodrama; Catrona, a scenic film depicting the grandeur of this old-world place; Nick Winter and the Money-coiners, a detective film; and Jack's Birthday, a humorous study.

COLONIAL THEATRE NO. 2.

If any demonstration is needed as to the popularity of the continuous programmes in the picture theatres in Sydney, a visit to the newest playhouse of this description, the Colonial No. 2, will prove amply satisfying. "Full house" cards were on view the major part of Saturday. The change of programme for to-day, Tuesday, and Thursday includes the following:—Girls of the Plains, a western American drama; Pathe Australian Gazette, Commonwealth events illustrated; Two Reformations, billed as one of the finest sentimental and character dramas ever produced; Tweedledum, Too Late, another film of this well-known comedian; Diamond Star, a high art drama; and Adventures of a Piece of Paper, a humorous picture.

EMPIRE PICTURE PALACE.

The new management of the Empire Picture Palace has now been thoroughly tried, and if attendance is any test of the public appreciation, the success of the new management is assured. On Saturday night a new star appeared in a fascinating juggling turn, and those who have the opportunity of seeing this Victor Martin should make the most of it. The new programme of pictures promises to excel last week's in interest and diversity of theme.

THE AMERICAN PICTURE PALACE.

The programme of the American Picture Palace may safely be said to improve every week, and in keeping with the enterprise of the management of these pictures the attendances are increasing every session. On Saturday the programme included all branches of cinematographic art, of the highest standard. The comic films were of the best, and the dramatic and instructive pictures were all received with great applause. The special catering for ladies and children is meeting with excellent return.

THE KING'S THEATRE.

The pictures shown at the King's Theatre realised the promise of the management to excel all previous exhibitions. The blending of comedy, drama, and instruction was most tasteful, and the entire change of programme that is promised for Monday shows every likelihood of being even better than all previous shows at this theatre. Pathe's pictures are a special feature of the exhibition at the King's, and are unusually good.

THE ALHAMBRA.

The pictures shown at the Alhambra included a tasteful selection of comedy, drama, and scenery. A great feature of the display on Saturday was Pathe's local gazette of happenings in two capitals, Sydney and Melbourne, which was received with intense interest by the packed audience. Indian dramas and a very good Russian film represented the dramatic side of programme, and all the other films shown were in keeping with these. An excellent programme is promised for Monday.

STANDARD THEATRE.

The idea of having two performances nightly has caught on at the Standard Theatre, and the management has resolved to continue the innovation. The programme submitted is a highly creditable one, and includes the Travers, in a new artistic musical speciality act, introducing post horns, banjos, bells, cornets, and operatic trumpets, etc. The turn was a specially interesting one, and the artists were loudly applauded at its conclusion. La Belle Zuida, who is billed as "queen of the slack wire," made her first appearance, and created a good impression. Lovell and Nolan gave an interesting and amusing sketch, "The New Recruit," while Addie Crump, a motto balladist, who made her first appearance, was well received. Grace Rooney, Carla Montes, Little Charlie, Wynn Rhodes, Wal Cottier, and others contributed to the evening's amusement.

ANCELON-CHAPMAN RECITALS.

Mr. Douglas Ancelon and Miss Stella Chapman will direct the first recital entertainment by their students, at St. James's Hall, on June 15, when both artists will contribute to an attractive programme of dramatic items varied by music.

SYDNEY CITY MISSION MEETING.

The 49th annual meeting and concert of the Sydney City Mission will be held at the Town Hall to-morrow night, when the speechmaking will be varied by an attractive musical programme, to which Misses Bessie Fraser, L. Jamison, Lilian Frost (grand organ), Mr. C. Rolfe, and the combined choirs, band, and orchestra will contribute.

WALTER THOMAS MILLS.

Professor Walter Thomas Mills, M.A., the orator and actor, will open a season of lectures in the Protestant Hall on Saturday night. The box plan opens at Cole's Book Arcade this morning.

WIRTH'S CIRCUS.

Messrs. Wirth Bros. concluded a very successful season at Prince Alfred Park on Saturday night. The huge marquee was crowded in the afternoon, and at night considerable difficulty was experienced in finding seating accommodation for all those who desired to witness the show. Considerable enthusiasm was shown, too, and many of the popular lady performers were showered with bouquets of flowers. The performance was a brilliant one, the programme bristling with clever and sensational turns.

A POWERFUL LEAGUE.

The report of the Political Labour League is interesting in view of the strenuous efforts made by Labour sympathisers of recent years to organise their forces. It is shown that the membership of the league in January last, when the annual conference was held, totalled nearly 100,000. The number of electorates represented was 81, while 100 unions sent delegates, being a great increase on the previous year. The 81 electorates sent 177 delegates, representing 27,000 members; while the 100 unions had 206 delegates to represent their 72,000 members. Seven electorates were not represented at the conference, and some others omitted to furnish complete returns, so that the league membership as given is incomplete. Very few of the union delegates had more than one vote, of the union delegates six had two votes each, and two three votes each, while one league representative had two votes and another four votes.

RACKED BY A DISORDERED LIVER.

AWFUL STRAINING CAUSED BY VOMITING.

ANOTHER SPLENDID CURE BY BILE BEANS.

Mr. T. J. Tinker, of 229 Ascot Vale-road, Ascot Vale, Melbourne, says:—"The disordered state of my liver upset me altogether. I had severe bilious attacks, followed by great fits of vomiting, which would upset me for days, so great was the straining. My kidneys were affected, and I suffered from pains in the back, and I felt I was not able to do much, as in stooping I had much difficulty to straighten my back again. I commenced taking Bile Beans, and soon found they gave me much relief. The pains and fits of vomiting soon ceased, and after I had undergone a complete course, I felt really well again, and my cure was complete. To keep one in perfect health one or two Bile Beans occasionally are an excellent thing."

A supply of Bile Beans should be kept in every home, for they are the most reliable medicine for all stomach and liver troubles. When feeling at all out-of-sorts, a few doses of Bile Beans soon put one right, and are often the means of preventing a serious illness. Bile Beans end headache, constipation, biliousness, liver disorder, indigestion, flatulence, bad breath, general debility, sickness, poor blood, anaemia, and female ailments. Sold by all chemists and stores at 1s 1½d and 2s 9d per box.—Advt.

LIGHT BLUES WIN.

EIGHT-OAR RACE.

A DECISIVE VICTORY.

GREAT STRUGGLE FOR SECOND PLACE.

SPLENDID SPECTACLE.

The New South Wales interstate eight-oar crew won a splendid victory on the Parramatta River on Saturday afternoon.

There were two great outstanding features of the contest the impartiality of the crowds, and the magnificent ovations which were bestowed upon the victors in their triumphant career over the championship course. The cheers were not all for New South Wales. There was a splendid exhibition of endurance and skill in the heroic efforts of three other States to overhaul the local champions. They were all in a bunch, rowing as if for their lives, no one giving an inch to the other. The plucky Tasmanians were struggling with the unyielding Victorians, and the South Australians threw out a definite challenge to both, responding stroke for stroke, and sprint for sprint.

It was a splendid struggle this ding-dong race between the greens, the whites, and the dark blues. In the intensity of it New South Wales was almost forgotten. It was like a separate event, something that had been taken clean out of the programme and made a speciality of. The officials on the umpire's boat breathed only by accident, and the crowds on shore and stream sent out shout after shout of encouragement.

Sympathy was largely with the game South Australians. They had come a long way to test their strength and skill, and were putting up the best fight of the day. Their performance was in the nature of a surprise packet to the large assemblage of capable rowing critics who focussed their gaze upon it. It had been agreed beforehand that the South Australians, owing to their method of rowing, could not make a good showing. But the unexpected happened. The whites threw into their work an amount of courage, determination, and energy which largely made up for other defects, and at one period of the race gave them second place. They were a hot lot. But in the end the opinion of the critics was confirmed. The pace was too terrific to last, and the gallant South Australians, with their last ounce of fighting strength spent, fell behind Victoria and Tasmania somewhere about two miles from the starting point. Everyone noted the incident with regret. A harder fight was never put up on the Parramatta River, and the whites deserved to win if ever a crew did.

Meanwhile Victoria and Tasmania continued to row a splendid race, side by side some four or five lengths astern of New South Wales, with Queensland and Western Australia hopelessly out of it in the rear.

The New South Wales men really had a day out. From the outset they were not pressed or troubled. The first few lifts took them to the front, and their long, knife-like boat was the first thing which the expectant crowds on the banks, from the start to the finish of the course, saw. At every point where the crowds converged great shouts of applause went up, followed by rallying cries of encouragement as the pursuing boats came hot in the rear.

It was a sight worth seeing, these eights gliding gracefully along on a sheet of water, smooth as glass. A more perfect day for such an event could not have been made to order. The afternoon sun sent down beams of gold which gladdened, but did not dazzle, and the whole colour scheme was in keeping with the day.

It was at the finishing point of the race that the intensest excitement prevailed. There was a scene not easily to be forgotten. Thousands of people were crowded on every vantage point ashore, and the river, within the prescribed limits, was a mass of moving craft. Every imaginable kind of boat had been pressed into service, crowded with passengers to the utmost carrying capacity. Steam launches, motor boats, rowing skiffs, and the rest, were huddled together, with no room to spare.

There were a few anxious moments, and then the invincible light blues came into view, rowing as one man, and sending their boat along with powerful, even strokes. No suggestion of hurry or bustle was manifest. The New South Wales eight simply glided along like a ship when it is launched. Every movement denoted ease and grace. The light-blue men swung to and fro with rhythm and power, defying the desperate efforts of the Victorians and Tasmanians to decrease the gap separating them. And, at the supreme moment, the combined crowds cheered. Probably a more vigorous cheer was never before heard by a winning crew. It was an outburst of pent-up enthusiasm which could no longer be controlled.

The whole scene suddenly changed. Numerous craft got away from their sardine formation, and broke the cordon which held them. There was a mad rush to get a close look at the victors, and the river of glass became a sea of troubled waters. The battlers at this time were side by side—New South Wales, Victoria, and Tasmania. It was the end. They rested on their oars, their frail craft rocking in the wash of the steamers, and their minds bewildered by tumults of applause and the shrieking of whistles.

The vagaries of the Harbour Trust vessels during the progress of the racing disconcerted not a little the Rowing Association officials on the umpire's boat, and the references to the offending craft were not complimentary. At the very commencement of the day's proceedings one Harbour Trust vessel, conspicuous by a table in the stern crowded with bottles and glasses, headed straight for the starting point of the scullers. With a few more turns of the propeller it would have been right upon them. The umpire, however, warned the vessel back with a vigorous direction through the megaphone. This particular incident was responsible for two things—it churned up the water right in front of the scullers and delayed the start of the sculling race.

The sins of the Harbour Trust did not end with delaying the sculling championship. After a start had been effected a second vessel, flying the same tell-tale flag, suddenly appeared upon the scene, and followed up the scullers so closely as to give them its wash over a considerable part of the course. This transgression provoked words of the colour and strength of mustard. "I will say something to those fellows," emphatically remarked the umpire at the conclusion of the race. And he said it on the way up through the megaphone to prevent a repetition of the offence during the eight-oar contest. "Ah! There's the little brute," said the umpire as the launch was overhauled. "Hi, you!" he shouted, "don't get on the course like that again. You washed those sculls right down the river." The only response to the umpire's rebuke were black looks directed from the launch.

It was quite evident that the umpire was not taken seriously, for further remarks had to be made to the first offending boat—the one with the tempting display of bottles and glasses. At a critical stage of the eights it appeared to be about to bore in again upon the crews. The megaphone was once more requisitioned, but, as the result was not satisfactory, the umpire took the law into his own hands by boring in upon the Harbour Trust boat, and forcing it out of harm's way.

In the sculling championship the Tasmanian holder of the title had it all his own way. He started furiously, maintained a good lead, and finished an easy winner. J. R. Towns put up a good fight for New South Wales, but was outclassed. The Victorian was hopeless, and he retired from the contest. The Tasmanian was loudly cheered all the way, the onlookers appreciating his excellent performance in true sportsmanslike fashion.

Following were the prominent officials of the day:—Managing committee, Messrs. V. Horniman, N. J. M'Donald, D. G. Bathgate, Allan Ramsay, E. E. Keary, R. B. Fitzhardinge, and J. Blackman; umpire, Mr. V. Horniman; starter, Mr. J. M'Gregor; judge, Mr. J. Degotardi; timekeepers, Messrs. A. E. Nash, W. Kerr, and Dr. Burne.

Among the visitors on the umpire's boat were Judge Backhouse, Messrs. E. W. Knox, J. Russell French, W. Cope, A. G. Milson, Pilcher, K.C., Dr. Ward, and Mr. Hogue (ex-Minister for Public Instruction).

THE RACING

SCULLING CHAMPIONSHIP.

Course from near Ryde Bridge to judges' line near Gladesville Bay; distance 2½m.

Cecil M'Villy, 12st (Tasmania) 1
John R. Towns, 13st (New South Wales).. 2
H. R. Stevens, 11st (Victoria) 0

The tide was rather against the rowers, and there was a breeze of some strength heading the boats, but the water had hardly a ripple on it. The men gave the starter no trouble, and on gun fire they jumped away at fully 38 strokes per minute. In ten seconds M'Villy led by a few feet, which he rapidly increased to a length, and at Uhr's Point he had made his lead two lengths, the time being 1m 14s, and the distance rather less than 400 yards. To the surprise of all, it was seen that Towns was only almost on even terms with Stevens, and yet was fully extended. The first half-mile, as nearly as could be judged, for there is no definite mark for this distance, took 3m 14s to row. M'Villy led Towns two lengths, and Stevens, who was now failing, by another two lengths. M'Villy went rather too far into Ryde Bay, but his course had the advantage that he had some shelter from the wind and tide.

Passing the beacon on Blaxland's Point, which formerly marked the mile distance, and on this occasion was covered over with a white cloth, M'Villy passed close to the shore in 5m 48s, leading Towns three lengths.

The mile mark was reached in the excellent time of 6m 20s, a very good performance on the day. Towns had dropped back another length, and Stevens was outpaced. The Tasmanian was sculling well. He had the length, catch, swing, and, indeed, all the good points of a brilliant young sculler of great promise, reminding one of the rowing of W. Fogwell at his best. On the other hand, the sculling of Towns was a marked contrast. He rowed with any amount of energy, but the application of his strength was not the right way, and it did not produce speed. He was sluggish, and had no dash or catch, but any amount of labour.

Putney was passed in the good time of 9m 31s, and here M'Villy was about six lengths in front, rowing as well as ever, and was practically the winner, for Towns was done, and Stevens had been passed by the steamers following.

The 1½-mile mark was reached in 10m 40s, and the two miles in 14m 7s. Unfortunately, the distance marks are hard to pick up, being either behind prominent points, or not large enough to be easily discernable for a following steamer, which must keep a distance behind the rowers. They could be made more useful if they were depicted by flags.

Towns made a fine spurt from near Gladesville to the finish, but M'Villy had no need to respond, for he won comfortably by six lengths, in 15m 50⅗s, the time taken by Mr. W. T. Kerr.

The win was particularly well received, and the young Tasmanian deserved it. Some few months ago he came to George Towns for instruction, and his two months' stay greatly assisted him in mastering the fine art of sculling. He is not yet perfect, but his future career should equal that of his best predecessors.

The boats lined up under orders from the starter at 4.15 p.m., and would have been sent away at that time but for a protest from Victoria, which was either not ready, or feared some of the boats had way on them. The starters were:—New South Wales (No. 1, south side), Victoria, Tasmania, South Australia, Queensland, and Western Australia.

After a little delay Mr. McGregor got them away to an excellent start, much to the pleasure of the onlookers.

Who led for the first few strokes no one could say with certainty, but if there was any advantage on the first furlong it was in favour of Victoria.

Passing Uhr's Point (about 350 to 400 yards) New South Wales had perhaps 20 feet the better of the next crew, which seemed to be Tasmania, but might have been Victoria, so close were they. At this part of the contest a length and a half or even less would have covered all six crews.

Just after clearing the end of Uhr's jetty New South Wales got going with a great swing, and was clear at about the half-mile, but Victoria, South Australia, and Tasmania were on perfectly even terms, and rather too close together. New South Wales came over to Victoria's water too soon, being then not more than two lengths ahead. Victoria seemed to feel this, and edged closer to Tasmania, which could not give way because of South Australia. The oars clashed slightly, but there was no claim for a foul. The crews were too busy for that. The umpire had ordered Victoria to keep out, but it was far easier to order than to obey. However, all ended without any real interference with any crew's chance of winning.

The beacon, Blaxland's Point, was reached by Sydney with a lead of about three lengths, in 4m 38s, which, considering it was slack water, and that there was a head wind, was very fine pace indeed. The question was "who was second." Probably this honour lay with South Australia, but again it might have been Tasmania or Victoria. They could not be separated.

Astern were Western Australia, and not so far off as it had been expected they would be, and last came Queensland, a crude team.

The mile was passed by New South Wales in the good time of 5m 15s, with a lead of fully three lengths, and now South Australia had about 15 feet the better of Tasmania, which in turn led Victoria perhaps as much as 5 feet.

At Putney Point New South Wales still held three or four lengths with ease, but the other three were still on even terms. To be heard on all sides was the expression, "What do you think of South Australia?" It was surprising that a crew, which in practice had found no favour from the host of critics, some at least of whom know the game, should upset all predictions and catch hold of even Tasmania. The time at Putney was 7m 34s, but as the 1½ mile mark is stowed away just out of sight, the leading crew had passed before the timekeeper was in a position to see it, consequently this was missed.

At Tennyson wharf Tasmania was second, and either Victoria or South Australia third, the last two crews showing signs of tiring. This was not surprising, for the test of stamina in these three boats was of the severest character, and when athletes are tired their form deteriorates. However, the most that can be charged against the crews is that for a few lengths they faltered.

At Cabarita the winners were well in front and rowing as nicely as their best friends could wish. The doubtful question was as to which of the next three game fighters would secure second honours. Victoria was two or three feet ahead of Tasmania, and a half-length of South Australia, and several lengths away was Western Australia, still rowing a hard snappy stroke.

At Gladesville wharf the time was 13m 22s for New South Wales, which held a lead of three or four lengths, but was now not fully extended. Tasmania was a half-length from South Australia, and Victoria a couple of feet further behind. The two and a half mile mark was reached in, as nearly as could be determined, in 14m 30s. This was the end of the triangular dual, which had lasted for nearly the whole distance. South Australia parted company with the other two, much to the regret of every sportsman on the steamers.

At Peter Kemp's boathouse Tasmania led Victoria. It looked to be all over. Coach Sid Edwards smiled. Then Victoria, gathering up every ounce, made a last and desperate effort. Only a few lengths to go, and Tasmania still in front, but in the last five strokes there was more push in the Victorian boat.

The judge's decision was: New South Wales won by two and a half lengths; Victoria beat Tasmania by one-third of a length for second place; South Australia fourth, one and a half lengths further away; Western Australia fifth, Queensland distanced.

OFFICIAL DINNER.

In the evening, about three hours after the termination of the rowing carnival, about 150 persons sat down to the association's complimentary dinner to the rowers, visitors, coaches, managers, and a few prominent persons who favour the sport. This function was held at Sargent's in Market-street. Mr. Q. L. Deloitte presided, as president of the N.S.W. Rowing Association. He had on his right Mr. Roger Fitzhardinge, stroke and selector of the N.S.W. crew; and on his left Mr. C. G. Davis, stroke for Victoria. Amongst the numerous company were noticed Mr. Tu[illegible]r, Minister for Customs, Judge Backhouse, Messrs. A. E. Nash, Edgar Lucas, Alex. Thomson, M. A. H. Fitzhardinge, C. J. Goldie, V. Horniman, George Towns, Dr. A. Burne, J. W. Scott, J. M'Gregor, J. Degotardi, N. J. M'Donald, G. E. Upward, J. Blackman, A. R. Thomson, and others.

The president gave the usual loyal toast, then he toasted the winning oarsmen, and all who had to do with them. He thoroughly enjoyed the racing, was pleased New South Wales won the eights, complimented Victoria, Tasmania, and South Australia on the wonderful race for the places they ultimately filled, and most heartily congratulated the Tasmanian sculler on his really brilliant win. It was excellent sport, said Mr. Deloitte. A gentleman interjected that he gave five guineas for his ticket, and what he saw was worth the money. Very brief responses were made by Messrs. R. B. Fitzhardinge (stroke) and W. J. Middleton (coach) of New South Wales, and by Mr. C. M'Villy, the Tasmanian sculler.

Dr. Alfred Burne proposed "The Losers." He considered the racing the best he had seen in 30 years. The toast was responded to by Messrs. C. G. Davis (Victoria), A. J. Shepherd (coach of Victorians), C. J. Whyte (South Australia), G. M'Kenzie (Tasmania), White (Western Australia), C. Horburg (coach of the lastnamed crew), S. B. Boland (Queensland), the Victorian sculler, H. R. Stevens, and J. R. Towns, of this State.

Mr. Tudor proposed the N.S.W. Rowing Association, which was responded to by Mr. V. Horniman.

Dr. Burne spoke of the great work done by the committee, led by such capable and energetic men as Messrs. A. E. Nash and A. Thomson. Mr. Nash stated that not only was the carnival a rowing success, but that it was also a financial success. Mr. G. E. Upward proposed "The Chairman," and was supported by Mr. J. J. Sharp, of South Australia.

INTERSTATE EIGHT-OAR CHAMPIONSHIP.

NEW SOUTH WALES. SOUTH AUSTRALIA. TASMANIA. VICTORIA.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA. QUEENSLAND.

NEW SOUTH WALES LEADING OFF MORTLAKE.

P.L.L. AND THE MINISTRY.

ALBURY, Saturday.

At a meeting of the Political Labour League some prominent members of the league spoke very strongly against the action of those who are calling for the resignations of State Ministers, because of their attitude. It was regretted that the industrial powers of the Commonwealth were restricted and ineffective, but members held that the position would be immeasurably worse as far as New South Wales is concerned if the present Government was disrupted.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

At a meeting of the Albert Park branch of the Political Labour Council last night, a discussion took place on the attitude of Messrs. M'Gowen, Holman, and Beeby in regard to the referendum.

It was moved that the branch obtain an expression of opinion from the Federal conference of the Labour party as to whether the action of these members of Parliament constituted a breach of the Labour platform; if so, whether steps should not be taken to deal with them.

Mr. Elmslie, M.L.A., said that while regret must be expressed at the attitude of those members they should leave them to the Labour organisations in their own State to be dealt with.

The motion was lost on the casting vote of the president.

SOUTH AUSTRALIAN WHARFS COMMISSION.

The action of the New South Wales Government 10 or 12 years ago in purchasing the privately-owned wharfs in Sydney Harbour is about to be followed by the South Australian Government with respect to wharfs and water frontages at Port Adelaide and Port Pirie. Last year the Verran Government introduced a bill with this object, and it was carried in the House of Assembly with little or no opposition. In the Legislative Council the measure was postponed for further inquiry, and that inquiry is being made by a Royal Commission, which will arrive in Sydney to-morrow morning. Evidence will be taken at the Harbour Trust's offices from representatives of the Harbour Trust, the Railway Department, and the Navigation Department, and shipping and business people, on Wednesday and following days. Before returning to Adelaide the commission will make similar inquiries in Melbourne.

THE PROTESTANT C. OF E. UNION AND VESTMENTS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—In to-day's issue of the "Herald" there is a letter signed "C. E. Hawley, president Church Defence League."

In this letter Mr. Hawley speaks evil of the ruler of the Church in the diocese of Sydney, a prelate who is also Metropolitan of New South Wales and Primate of Australia and Tasmania.

The Archbishop's offence in Mr. Hawley's eyes is that his Grace, judging "after the law," has, in accordance with the law, commanded the discontinuance of the vestments. I write to point out that Mr. Hawley has been singularly fortunate—or he may think unfortunate—in his use of a quotation of "the words of a wise priest of our Church some four years ago." The quotation your correspondent gives ends with the words, "Even if Paul found an unjust blow on the face a little too hard for his patience, though it was by order of the High Priest, I need not quote his words on the occasion, but commend them for a study to all concerned."

Obviously the application Mr. Hawley desires and seeks to convey is that the Archbishop is the high priest who has caused an unjust blow to be struck, and he commends the Apostle's words on the occasion "for a study to all concerned." Be it so, let us study them. "Then, said Paul, unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whited wall, for sittest thou to judge me after the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law? And they that stood by said, Revilest thou God's High Priest? Then said Paul, I wist not, brethren, that he was the High Priest, for it is written thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people."—Acts xxiii., 3-5. Surely, now, it is high time to "commend" the Apostle's words "for a study" to the president of the "Church Defence League."

I am, etc.,

CANTERBURY PARK RACE CLUB.

VERONITE WINS A DOUBLE.

BRACKENBURG THE CANTERBURY HANDICAP.

Favoured by beautifully fine and bright weather on Saturday, the Canterbury Park May Meeting attracted a very large attendance. The going was excellent, and the card was run through without serious accident. Several matters engaged the attention of the stipendiary stewards, who were not satisfied with the manner in which the jockey W. Bennett handled Flavescent in the Park Stakes, and gave the rider some advice as to future action. The running of Flavinia in the Stewards' Mile was also the subject of inquiry, which was adjourned until Wednesday next; while a protest lodged by the owner of Merei against the prize for the Canterbury Handicap being awarded to Brackenburg was dismissed. The general arrangements were efficiently carried out under the supervision of the secretary, Mr. W. L. Davis. Results:—

HURDLE RACE of 80 sovs., second horse 10 sovs, third 5 sovs. from prize. About 2m.

Mr. S. Bedford's ch g Minore, by Holbrook—Clothilde, 5yrs, 7st 11lb, incl. 1lb over (L. Gray) 1
Messrs. Lewis and Petersen's blk g The King, 5yrs, 9st 12lb (J. Freeland) 2
Mr. J. Farrell's br h Argument, aged, 9st 4lb, incl. 4lb over (P. Houseman) 3

Other starters: Lemonwood, 10st 2lb (W. Crimp); Good Shot, 9st 1lb, incl. 1lb over (W. Hall); Emerald Isle, 9st (H. Jury); Elegy, 9st (J. Harvey); Cim, 9st (G. Phillips).

Betting: Even money on Lemonwood, 5 to 1 each v Minore and The King, 7 to 1 v Good Shot, 8 to 1 v Emerald Isle, 20 to 1 each v the others.

The King moved off in front, and held command as they raced past the judge's box for the second time down the hill, and along the back to the far corner, where Elegy moved up within a couple of lengths of The King. Minore was four lengths further back, with Good Shot at the head of the others. Coming round the bend Minore ran up level with The King, and the pair entered the straight on terms, but as they crossed the last obstacle Minore drew out and won by three lengths from The King, who was a similar distance in front of Argument. Good Shot was four lengths off fourth, with Lemonwood close up, followed by Elegy and Cim half a furlong away last. Lemonwood hit the first obstacle, and parted with his rider. Time, 3m 52s.

FLYING HANDICAP of 80 sovs, with a sweepstake of 1 sov added; second horse 10 sovs, and third 5 sovs from stake. 6f.

Mr. G. Clarke's b g Veronite, by Projectile—Spray, aged, 7st 5lb, including 2lb over (W. H. Smith) 1
Mr. P. Nolan's blk m Adjacent, 5yrs, 7st 6lb (F. Hood) 2
Messrs. Litchfield and Parker's br h Mavus, 4yrs, 7st 8lb (F. Mead) 3

Other starters: Oweenee, 9st 9lb (D. Bethke); Lethargy, 7st 6lb (A. G. Phillips); Specimen, 7st 6lb (J. Campbell); Pensant, 7st 6lb (J. Wilson); Beebeeru, 7st (E. Seabrook); Malsterette, 7st (E. Islip); Pretext, 6st 7lb (G. Matthews); Currawinya, 6st 9lb, including 2lb over (J. Osborne).

Betting: 2 to 1 v Veronite, 5 to 2 v Mavus, 6 to 1 v Beeberu, 7 to 1 v Oweenee, 12 to 1 v Adjacent, 14 to 1 v Lethargy, 20 to 1 each v the others.

From a straggling start, Mavus, Oweenee, and Veronite were first away, and on terms Veronite and Oweenee passed the five furlongs post, with Lethargy and Mavus at their heels; then followed Malsterette, Beebeeru, Currawinya, and Adjacent. After passing the half-mile post Oweenee dropped back, and her place alongside the favourite was taken by Adjacent, the pair being just in front of Oweenee and Mavus, with Beebeeru at the head of the others. In that order they came round the bend and into the straight, and at the distance Veronite and Adjacent were still fighting it out, but inside the half-distance the favourite prevailed, and won by a head, with Mavus a couple of lengths off third. Oweenee was close up fourth, followed by Pensant, Beebeeru, and Currawinya, with Pretext last. Time, 1m 14½s.

STEWARDS' MILE of 80 sovs, with a sweepstakes of 1 sov added; second horse 10 sovs, and third 5 sovs. 1m.

Mr. R. Feehley's br g R.F., 5yrs, 8st 2lb (M. Connell) 2
Mr. W. M. M'Curley's ch g Tristram, 5yrs, 7st 7lb (G. M'Curley) 3

Other starters: Flavinia, 9st (S. Lindsay); Salladay, 8st 10lb (A. Hood); C.H., 8st 6lb (R. Abbott); Arum, 7st 12lb, inc. 5lb over (W. Gullum); Golden Dawn, 7st 8lb, inc. 1lb over (J. Dillon); Genette, 7st 7lb (F. Hood); La Pistol, 7st 7lb (R. Brennan).

Betting: 2 to 1 v R.F., 5 to 2 v Flavinia, 9 to 2 v Salladay, 20 to 1 each v the others.

When fairly going Fortius and Flavinia took charge, and raced past the judge's box, closely followed by La Pistol and Arum, who were succeeded by R.F., Tristram, and C.H. Flavinia lost her place as they opened up the back stretch, where Fortius and C.H. were disputing the lead clear from Genette, Flavinia, R.F., and Salladay, after whom came La Pistol and Tristram. That order was preserved round the bend, but when nearing the home turn Fortius took charge, and when heads were in line for the judge's box Fortius drew clear from R.F., Salladay, and Tristram. Holding his own in the run home, Fortius won by a length from R.F., who was three lengths in advance of Tristram. La Pistol was close up fourth, followed by Golden Dawn, Salladay, Flavinia, and C.H., with Genette and Arum in the rear. Time, 1m 43½s.

Betting: 2 to 1 v Prince Yattendon, 4 to 1 each v Harley and Idyia, 10 to 1 v Lord Modan, 14 to 1 v Bon Frisco, 20 to 1 each v the others.

Prince Yattendon and Flavescent made play, but passing the judge's box Flavescent, Marvel Queen, and Lord Modan were disputing the lead just in advance of Idyia, Harley, and Prince Yattendon. Racing down the hill Flavescent drew out two lengths from Marvel Queen and Idyia, who were succeeded by Gladys D., Prince Yattendon, and Lord Modan. As they opened up the back stretch Idyia took charge from Marvel Queen, after whom on close terms came Harley, Prince Yattendon, and Flavescent, with Bon Frisco coming through. Idyia came round the bend and into the straight a couple of lengths from Bon Frisco, after whom came Marvel Queen and Moville. Bon Frisco headed Idyia ere the distance was reached, and coming on won easily by four lengths from Harley, who was a length and a half in front of Idyia; then followed Marvel Queen, Moville, Prince Yattendon, Chrissie, Lord Modan, and Meadow King, with Gladys D. last. Betting: 2 to 1 v Posaune, 3 to 1 v Merei, 4 to 1 v Arbor, 10 to 1 each v Brackenburg and The Royal Friar, 15 to 1 each v the others.

Playwright was first to show out, but as they came round the bend Brackenburg, Arbor, and Rose of Lancaster were bunched in the lead, followed by Posaune and The Royal Friar. In that order they turned into the straight, and Arbor passed the judge's box with Posaune, Rose of Lancaster, and The Royal Friar at his girths, with Brackenburg and Black Reynard at the head of the others, and Playwright last. Without change they moved down the hill, and Arbor showed the way along the back just in front of The Royal Friar, Rose of Lancaster, Posaune, and Brackenburg, after whom came Posaune, Merei, and Lady Splendors. They closed up as they entered the straight, and Brackenburg, running out wide, was in front at the distance, and got home by a length from Merei, who was half a length in advance of Black Reynard. Posaune was close up fourth, followed by Arbor, Rose of Lancaster, and Playwright, with Lady Splendors last. Time, 2m 17½s. A protest for interference was lodged against the winner, but was dismissed.

Holline jumped off in front of Lady Maltster, Veronite, and Lord Hybla, and at the end of the first furlong Holline was still leading from Lady Maltster, the favourite, Valjean, Holliston, Game King, and Borambil. Nearing the half-mile post, Lady Maltster ranged up alongside Holline, and a length behind the pair came Veronite, Dan Patch, and Holliston. That order was preserved round the bend and into the straight, but the favourite had the measure of the opposition ere the distance was reached, and coming on, won easily by three lengths from Lord Hybla, who was a neck in front of Holline. Game King was close up fourth, followed by Miss Project, Holliston, Dan Patch, and Asturias, while Salop acted as whipper-in. Time, 1m 16½s.

ASCOT RACING CLUB.

The attendance at Ascot on Saturday was equal to the patronage accorded the mid-week pony and galloway fixtures. The track was first-class going, and fields, with the exception of that in the Fourteen Hands Handicap, were numerically above the average. The Maiden Handicap was run in divisions, Normanton winning the run-off from Yandon, who started "odds on." Whisper accounted for the Ascot Handicap. Details:—

LACROSSE.

OPENING OF PREMIERSHIP GAMES.

A GRADE.

PETERSHAM v BALMAIN.

Played on Birchgrove Oval, and won by Petersham by 12 goals to 5, after a game in which both sides showed excellent lacrosse, the winners combining and passing well. Mr. W. Sparks refereed.

UNIVERSITY v MOSMAN.

These teams met on the Domain, and after a hard and fast game, Mosman won by 7 goals to 4. For the first two quarters there was little between either team, after which play slackened, the better condition of Mosman prevailing.

WAVERLEY v SYDNEY.

Before a good gathering of club supporters at the No. 2 Sydney Cricket Ground, Sydney defeated a much improved Waverley team by 8 goals to 5. It was some little time before the teams found any combination, after which high-class lacrosse was seen.

MANLY v STANMORE.

Manly made their initial effort in the senior grade, but were beaten by a strong Stanmore team by 13 to 2. The game was not as one-sided as the scores indicate, but the losers badly need a good "home-man." Knox is as yet unavailable for this position. Mr. R. Rowe refereed.

B GRADE.

Sydney B defeated Petersham B 5-1, at Sydney Cricket Ground No. 2.
Burwood defeated Birchgrove 6-4 at St. Luke's Park.
Manly beat Katandra College 4-1, at Moore Park.

NEW SOUTH WALES CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNAMENT.

CAMPBELL'S TRIPLE SUCCESS.

The New South Wales championship tournament was concluded on the Double Bay courts last Saturday. There was only a moderate attendance, although the weather was delightful for spectators, but the extreme humidity of the atmosphere proved very enervating for the competitors, some of whom, as the penalty of success, were seldom off the courts during the day. Campbell, for instance, played 10 sets 76 games, but this was a light task compared with that of Roxburgh, whose day's work consisted of 11 sets 96 games, and would have been still heavier but that he scratched for the singles handicap. Miss Blair, with 8 sets 60 games, also had quite enough exercise for one day.

The finals of the championship were disappointing from the fact that the element of excitement of a close finish was absent from all of them; in fact, each of the five was won in straight sets.

The singles championship is generally regarded as the principal event on the programme by Sydney people, and this was contested by H. Rice, of Sydney, and A. Campbell, who is at present qualified for Victoria. Campbell, by birth a New South Wales man, first represented Victoria in interstate contests, having qualified by residence. Returning to New South Wales he played against Victoria, and has again returned to Melbourne, and qualified for Victoria by residence. With each change his game has improved, and on Saturday his victory was assured after the completion of the first set. Campbell did not open at such speed as against Parker on the preceding day. He appeared to be playing with the thought of the doubles, which were to follow, in his mind, and trying to win with no more exertion than was necessary, so that he varied his rushes to the net with spells of back-court play. Rice led at 2-1, but Campbell then dealt Rice some reverse twist services, which the latter could not return straight when he took them on the forehand, though, strangely enough, they gave him no trouble when the backhand return was practicable. A run of three games in succession gave Campbell a lead of 4-2, and then came the longest game of the match, deuce being called eight times before Rice won it. Campbell's service gained him the eighth game, at which time he led 5-3. Rice, however, is always dangerous when his opponent is ahead, and he came with a rush which carried him up to and past his opponent at 6-5. He could not, however, get any further, for Campbell made a determined effort, and volleying perfectly ran out at 8-6. The subsequent two sets afforded little interest. Rice deteriorated and Campbell improved, so that the latter only lost four games in the two sets.

The doubles championship, in which Fisher and Parker met Campbell and Rice, was of much the same character. There was a good struggle for the first set, Fisher showing out so well that he was mainly responsible for the Maoriland pair leading at 4-1. Good lobbing and centre returns by Rice helped to capture Parker's service, and Fisher lost his by missing three smashes, which put Campbell and Rice in the lead for the first time. Campbell's service was won, and the first set was scored to him and his partner to four games. The second and third sets went to the same pair by the same margin of scores. Individually Rice was perhaps the best of the four; his centre returns were very profitable, as Fisher and Parker were always in doubt as to which should go for them, a frequent occurrence when a right-hander and a left-hander are associated. Campbell and Rice are, of course, a similarly constituted pair, but they have played together so frequently that this trouble has been overcome. Parker was much below form, having no dash, and making numerous errors.

The mixed championship, in which Campbell and Miss Stewart met Rice and Mrs. Ford, was played in the morning, and the Sydney pair began so well, leading at 4-1, that they looked dangerous. Gradually, however, Campbell and Miss Stewart recovered their lost ground, the play-off all being of high class. After pulling this set out of the fire, the Victorian pair went right ahead, and were never threatened with defeat.

In the ladies' singles championship, Miss Stewart's strokes were too strong for Miss Collings, who fought hard, but had not the strength nor speed of her adversary.

Miss Stewart scored her third championship of the meeting by winning the ladies' doubles, with Miss Blain, from Mrs. Parbury and Mrs. Antill. The home pair made a stubborn resistance, and won three games in succession after losing the first nine. Miss Stewart and Miss Blain then took the set. Miss Stewart is unquestionably far superior to any lady in New South Wales, and she is still improving, as during the meeting she has demonstrated her ability to volley, having acquired this since her last visit.

C. V. Bowker was successful in the open singles, an event which he won when it was first put on the programme, about eight years ago. He had a hard fight for it this year with Roxburgh, and thus had his revenge for a defeat by that player and Utz in the open doubles in the morning, when partnered by E. Rice. L. Carr won the schoolboys' championship for the second time in succession, and Miss M'Donald did similarly in the schoolgirls' championship. The value of the lob was well demonstrated by P. and R. Winning, who annexed the doubles handicap mainly through that stroke. Lloyd and Miss Lloyd, who won the mixed handicap, play an attractive game, both coming in to volley.

MAY MEETING.

GAY BOB WINS GLENHUNTLEY HANDICAP.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

The V.A.T.C. held is May meeting at Caulfield to-day, and despite cloudy weather, there was a good attendance.

The racing started with the Hurdle Race, for which Keadool was always a good favourite, and taking command half a mile from home, won easily from Acer.

The five entrants for the two-year-old event went to the post, and odds were freely laid on the Williamstown winner, Jemlah, but he was cut down at the distance by Durdans, who beat him easily.

There were 11 starters for the Glenhuntley Handicap, and Mil, who was recently purchased in Sydney by the Indian trainer F. Scott, was a strong favourite, with Ballenger next in demand, but neither took any part in the finish. Golden Cairn set the pace, but after passing the distance, Gay Bob had his measure, and the Warrnambool cup winner scored comfortably from Roseview, who cut Golden Cairn out of second place in the last few strides.

There were only four runners for the Steeplechase, and Central Green, who was favourite, won easily from Acute Angle.

Burston was retired from the Glenhuntley Handicap in favour of the Glenferrie Welter, and the opposition in the last named event, being somewhat weak, he was made a hot favourite. At one time he was at odds on, but, with the backing of Brasseur, he eased to even money. Burston was always going well in the race, and he eventually won in hollow fashion from the outsider Pistol. Brasseur was unlucky in losing several lengths at the post. Another easy win was that registered by Full Sail in the Brighton Handicap. He was a strong favourite, and nothing in the race could make him gallop. Details:—

KHARTOUM HURDLES, 2m and 64yds.

Mr. Hawthorn's Keadool, by Regained—Lady Lovell, 10st 7lb (P. Cosgrove) 1

Altar Boy made all the early running, attended by Fleet Maid and Flag Lieutenant. Going out of the straight Fleet Maid ran to the front, and along the back acted as pacemaker to Flag Lieutenant, Altar Boy, Keadool, and Acer. The favourite took command at the railway side from Black Native and Acer. Keadool was not afterwards troubled, winning by four lengths from Acer, who was two lengths clear of Black Native. Flag Lieutenant was fourth, Fleet Maid and Altar Boy next, and Regretful last. Time, 3m 56s.

Betting: 9 to 4 v Central Green, 5 to 2 each v Acute Angle and Player, 6 to 1 v Hinuera.

Maltese Cross led into the straight from Golden Cairn, Burston, Kerlie, and Pistol. BASEBALL.

OPENING OF SEASON.

GRAND CHAMPIONSHIP FIELD DAY.

At Petersham Park on Saturday afternoon ideal weather favoured the introduction to Australia of a Baseball Field Day. There was an attendance of nearly 2000 spectators. Considering the undertaking was in a great measure experimental and there had been no time for training, the showing of the local men was creditable.

Results:—

100yds Foot Race, boys under 14.—W. Checkley (Burwood), 1; W. Campbell, 2. Won by a breast.

100yds Foot Race, boys over 14.—J. Agnew (Petersham Juniors), 1. Won easily.

Boys' Battery Work, four pitches and throw by catcher to second.—Tyrell and South (Petersham Juniors), 1; Wenholz and Barberie (Hurlstone College), 2; Fisher and Guyatt (Parramatta), 3. Won after three ties.

Teams' Relay Race. Heat winners: Leichhardt, University, Mosman-North Sydney, Waverley No. 1. Final: Waverley (N. Fatry, B. Dunn, H. Woolcott, and H. Coombe), 1.

Baseball Distance Throw.—H. Woolcott (Waverley), 106yds, 1; H. Franks (Leichhardt), 103½yds, 2. American record, 142 yards 9½ inches.

Run and Slide to Base (30yds), boys.—Wenholz (Hurlstone), 1; Moriarty (Petersham), 2. Won after two ties between three boys.

Infield Play, throw from home plate to short stop, to first, to third, then to catcher.—University (F. E. McElhone, C. V. Single, A. D. Watson, and E. P. Barbour), 1.

Circling the Bases, touching each, 3 turns, 120yds.—Championship time test. R. V. Minnett (Mosman-North Sydney), and J. F. Dever (Burwood), tied in 15 2-5s. American record, 13 4-5s.

Accurate Throwing Contest, distance, 30yrs, through 2ft hoop.—F. E. McElhone (University), 1; A. Chapman (Surry United), 2.

The exhibition games aroused enthusiasm. In the schools game, Petersham's combination was superior to High School, whom they defeated in four innings by 6 to 4. Senior teams captained by C. Simmonds and C. Franks, produced some fine work, the Frank's aggregation winning by 3 runs to 2 in three innings.

Roy will run 100yds on the same grounds next Saturday. The stakes are £20. W. Beck will meet L. Fairbairn, and J. M'Cue, the winner of Manning's last handicap, will be matched against M. Moylan. THE FRUIT TRADE.

Once again the fruit trade is the centre of discussion. Periodically the price of fruit in Sydney almost obscures other matters of public interest for a time, and then the subject dies out. That at least has been the case in the past. Whether Mr. Griffith's proposal comes to anything definite or not, it has been the needful spark to fire an ever-smouldering discontent. There is no denying that the position of the trade is unsatisfactory; neither the consumer nor the grower is satisfied with conditions as they are. This is a country where fruit grows luxuriantly, and it is a shocking state of things that city people of limited means should be unable to purchase fruit on account of the high price, and fruit should be rotting in the country orchards very often because growers say that it does not pay them to pick and pack it. That is what happens only too often, and we badly want that wasted fruit brought to a hungry people.

Will the introduction of the barrow system remedy the position? We think that it will certainly prove a benefit to a large section of the community. And in the consideration of this question it is of the highest importance that it should be always remembered that it is concerned in the preservation of public health. In a country such as this it is desirable in every way that more fruit should be eaten. At the present it cannot be disputed that in only too many families fruit is a luxury. Yet it need not be if the matter of distribution is once settled. If the barrow system is adopted, however, it must be accompanied by the strictest supervision. The hawkers must be licensed and kept under proper control. The condition of the fruit must also be a matter of constant investigation. We want cheap fruit for the masses, but good wholesome fruit also. Good sorts at the top and a putrid mass beneath is not the kind of purchase that can be tolerated. Yet very often that is the experience with the casual, apparently uncontrolled hawkers that now dodge about the city. People who buy fruit in the street do so from reasons of economy, and the majority of them are not prepared to indulge in an argument, and take what they are given, which is very often rubbish.

We have already a considerable barrow trade done in Sydney, although nothing in comparison with that anticipated by Mr. Griffith. If we are to have that trade, still more so if we are to have an extension of it, then it must be surrounded by proper safeguards for the public. Cheap fruit is at times sold in our city streets now, but very often it is dear fruit nominally sold at a very moderate price. If the barrow system is to be given a trial let it be then under the strictest control. Let the hawkers be licensed and their barrows plainly numbered. We do not think that the system will do a great deal of harm to the shops. It is to meet a demand that the shops do not meet. The vast majority of the people who will buy at these barrows in the street have to walk past the shop windows to-day and go without fruit. It will be found, we think, that as a general thing the fruit sold on the barrows will not be equal to that sold in the shops. Yet it will be sound and wholesome, and appreciated by those whom circumstances decree have to be often content with "something less than the best." Moreover, there is nothing to prevent the shopkeeper running a barrow outside in addition to his indoor trade if he so wishes. He could thus get through a lot of second-quality fruit, and perhaps avoid that loss which is claimed to be largely the cause of high prices at present. Whether there is a "ring" at work, or whether the prevalent uniform prices are merely a coincidence, we don't know. If there is a ring the barrowmen will probably smash it.

From the standpoint of the consumer, who cannot afford to purchase fruit at shop prices, ruling in Sydney year in and year out, the barrow system decidedly has much to recommend it. It is a simple, controllable system that should enable the vendors to sell cheaply. And it is impossible for the system to be successful without benefiting fruitgrowers generally. To be successful it means a much greater demand and distribution of fruit, therefore heavier sales. Growers should not only obtain a higher price for their second-grade fruit, but will find a market for a great deal of fruit that at present is not even marketed. And it must be remembered that just as everybody cannot afford to buy first-class fruit, neither can every grower always grow such fruit. There are plenty of orchards at present almost valueless, which can produce a lot of wholesome fruit of medium quality, giving a remunerative return to the orchardist where, at present, he practically gets nothing. And there are plenty of people who will be glad to buy such fruit at a moderate price.

The position of the fruitgrower, however, will never be satisfactory until there is a great reform in our railway system. It has been pointed out in these columns before that in the Young district alone a great quantity of choice fruit such as peaches and apricots goes waste practically owing to the heavy rates charged by the railways to carry that fruit quickly to market. And the same thing applies to other districts. The writer has seen fruit in the country dropping off the trees because it did not pay the growers to send it to Sydney. And remembering the thousands of children to whom such fruit would be a delicious luxury it must be admitted that the present system is unsatisfactory and demands attention. It is argued that this matter is viewed in a different light by the grower and the consumer; that the one wants a high price for his fruit and the other wants to buy cheap. Obviously there is a large amount of truth in the statement. But growers generally would be content to receive a moderate profit in place of not being able to sell their fruit as at present, and buyers to give that price in preference to not having fruit at all. All in all, we think both parties are anxious, to use a homely but effective phrase, for a "fair deal."

And wherever the fault the majority on either side are not getting a "fair deal" under existing conditions.

ITEMS.

The official estimate of the Victorian wheat crop for season 1910-11 is 2,298,089 acres, yielding 34,813,019 bushels, an average of 14.52 bushels per acre.

Such is the effect of the season in Riverina on the chaff market, that one large grower within seven days sold several stacks of hay to be cut by him into chaff at an advance; the second sale of 2s 6d a ton on the first, and two days after at an advance of 5s a ton on the second sale.

Settlers who are planting vineyards in the southern States are relying very largely upon the department to supply cuttings true to name. Purple Cornichan and Flame Tokay, export varieties, are most in demand.

A commissioner from Java recently visited South Australia to buy dairy cows. The difficulty in that country is that the cows soon become unproductive. An attempt is now being made to cross Australian breeds with the Java animals in the hope of producing a cross which will be able to stand the influence of the climate.

The prospects of the vignerons at Mildura have greatly improved since the distillation plant, to treat the surplus and produce low-grade spirit, has been got into working order. Many who were on the verge of retiring from the industry are now doing well. It is reported that another distillation plant will be erected before next season.

A peculiar kind of white aphis is playing havoc this year with the turnip crops in the vicinity of the Old Bar (writes our Jones' Island correspondent). Spraying would be useless to cope with the pest, as the under-portion of every leaf is smothered, and would be required to be burned up. They are not only eating the turnip leaves, but also those of the beetroot and radish plants. When the leaves are eaten, and the stems begin to decay the smell of these, together with that of the insects, is said to be very obnoxious. One vegetable grower of 25 years' experience says he has never known anything like the pest before.

Messrs. H. J. Gavel and Co., Condobolin, report the sale of Micabil station on the Lachlan River, comprising an area of over 25,000 acres, to Mr. G. M. Gavel, of Gulgo.

WEEKLY NOTES.

A BUDGET FOR FARMERS.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture is anxious to place the man on the land in possession of all departmental information likely to be of use to him, and to this end he has decided upon the publication of a weekly budget setting forth the results of experiments relating to primary production, supplemented by whatever other information may have been gathered by the departmental experts. Hitherto much of this information has been made public through the "Agricultural Gazette," but Mr. Trefle thinks this might be improved upon if it were made available through the columns of the press. He therefore proposes to supply the press from week to week with a budget of up-to-date information, classified in a convenient form, and to leave it to the various newspapers to publish such portion of the budget as may be thought fit. Mr. Trefle explained that reports which would be too lengthy for inclusion in the weekly notes and any matters of special importance would be published as usual in the "Agricultural Gazette," or in the shape of bulletins. These matters would be referred to in the notes, and any farmer who wanted details would thus know where to get them. The notes will be issued under conditions designed to secure simultaneous publication in the press.

IRISH BLIGHT.

Mr. F. Marshall, Forest Reefs, writes:—"A farmer some eight miles distant sent several potato tops to the Agricultural Department for a microscopic test recently, and received a reply that they were blight affected. The crop, which has had time to submit to the disease long since, and was not sprayed, is comparing favourably to the best dug. Several growers are finding that dipping in formalin has proved a disadvantage, and that where the seed was not dipped a better yield has been obtained."

THE DURHAM CATTLE.

Mr. Fred D. Badgery writes:—In your Monday's issue you quote the views of "Pack Saddle," who is very possibly one of our Shorthorn breeders. At any rate, he has studied the subject upon which he has given his views. I am presuming, however, to differ with him in his opinion that our Shorthorn cattle have lost in the points of quality and early maturity. I think in the lastnamed point they have improved, and it is possible that in studying to produce a fair weight at an early age in some herds coarseness has not been carefully excluded. Still, on the whole, I think we have a few studs which have as good cows as we saw in the sixties and seventies, and I think if we were closer to the Argentine demand they could get as good Durhams and Herefords as they obtain from England. I had a good look through English and American cattle. The former have been good for a long time, and Americans have been much improved. Many of the ranchers have very good herds, but I have never seen anything with more perfect quality than those bred by the Messrs. Lee and several other herds, which mostly were started with a strong infusion of the Lee blood. I submit that the parade at the late Royal Show was a feast for the eyes of any connoisseur in the beef or dairy breed. It is true that most of the good old herds have been cleared off to make room for sheep, but even now out west many of the farmers have had good cattle, and, having secured a bull from Lee, Baldwin, Dangar, or Edols (Burrawang), have produced steers up to 800lb at two and a half years with as good quality as you would see at Islington. By quality I mean softness, evenness in shape, and fineness generally. I may, perhaps, express what I mean by quoting the first prize ox at the Royal Show. I thought the second prize had the better in every point except possibly half a hundredweight in weight, which the other obtained by coarseness. "Pack Saddle" is quite right in his advice to breeders and graziers for export. They must keep up the quality of their stock, and not introduce any of the dairy breeds, though a farmer who dairies and fattens his steers can do well with an Ayrshire cross upon his dairy Shorthorns.

BIRD LOVERS.

A correspondent writes:—Permit me space to reply to an interesting article in your paper on the ruthless destruction of "Birds' Nests and Birds' Eggs." I am quite in sympathy with the aim of the writer, and only question the wisdom of his suggestions for the preservation of our beautiful and valuable, though sadly neglected, Australian birds. After devoting nearly 20 years to the study of bird life in Australia, in the open fields, I regret that no other writer has suggested lines to work upon for the preservation of our native birds. A printed poster stuck up here and there periodically, with a list of protected birds is of little use. The writer of your article speaks of the destruction of nests and eggs. His remarks are all too true. Is the child to blame, or does the fault not lie with those responsible for his education? The Australian child is not the vandal that he is, unfortunately, often branded. He is too often only inquisitive, and is but seeking information which has openly been denied him. He resorts to methods of his own, often under the cloak of hypocrisy. Wandering in the bush he sees a pair of little birds, eventually he sees them busy with their nest-building; later he finds a clutch of eggs. He would like that nest and clutch of eggs. They would serve his purpose well, for authentic information at future dates; they would serve the same purpose for the whole school, and all its inmates, if he took them to his teacher for preservation, and thus be the means of saving the nests and eggs of perhaps hundreds of the same species. Here the taking of one set of eggs means the protection of hundreds. No need for more than one set of each species. Then, why not openly encourage the collection? My own experience has been that love for the bird is only fostered with a close acquaintance of the bird. I do not suggest turning thousands of children out as collectors; let the teacher alone take the nest and eggs required. Too many persons erroneously conclude that every egg taken necessarily means a bird less. A closer acquaintance of the valuable writings of such noted ornithologists as Gould, Campbell, and Jackson should convince these people that a collection of eggs scientifically made need not account for the loss of a single young bird. Some of our birds rear one brood, some two, some three, in a year. The taking of the first clutch does not prevent that bird from rearing its usual brood or broods. Much of the damage referred to is the result of the work of the novice. Another advantage to be gained by having a school collection is the fact that the pupil desirous of studying bird life can do so openly, free from the taint of hypocrisy, and under the guidance of a teacher. His every step can be directed in a study full of interest for his young mind. With closer acquaintance a love for the bird will grow; the catapult and dreaded pea-rifle will be laid aside, and we will then have a rapid increase of bird life.

PROFESSOR WATT'S REPORT.

AGRICULTURE FOR 1910.

IMPORTANT CONCLUSIONS.

The Professor of Agriculture has furnished an important report to the Senate of the University of Sydney. Professor Watt has travelled over the greater part of the State since his arrival here. In the course of his travels he visited nearly all the settled districts within easy reach of the railway.

"That New South Wales is a great pastoral State," he says, "is known all over the world, but outsiders have little idea of its resources for dairying, cereal-growing, and mixed farming, and have an exaggerated idea as to its liability to drought. I have been greatly impressed by the success of the pastoral industry, which should continue to flourish even more in the future than it has done in the past. The hardships endured by the pioneers of this industry must have been very great indeed. I may have been fortunate in the 'squatters' I have met, but I have found them to be men who know their business thoroughly, the improvement they have brought about in the merino sheep being only one instance of this. The flocks of New South Wales are remarkably healthy, and the chief enemy of the pastoralist, besides the rabbit and the blowfly, is drought. With increasing railway facilities and greater attention to the conservation of water and fodder, and to the destruction of rabbits, each successive drought should be less serious in its effects.

"The coastal districts of New South Wales are admirably adapted for dairying, and there is room for an immense expansion of this industry here. Many parts of the tableland and western slopes are also suitable for the production of butter and cheese, either as the main products of the farm or as a useful adjunct to cereal-growing. The most favourable inland districts for dairying are where alluvial flats exist along the banks of the rivers, or where a rich soil is combined with a rainfall of over 30 inches, as in the Inverell district. Wherever irrigation can be practised dairying should flourish. If all the dairy herds in the State were as good and as well cared for as the best, the output of butter, in my opinion, would increase at least 50 per cent. without an additional acre of land being utilised for the purpose. There is no reason why careful breeding and selection should not do as much to improve the milking qualities of our dairy cattle as they have done in improving the wool-carrying capacity of the merino sheep. It is satisfactory to reflect that this great and growing industry rests on such a satisfactory basis as the price of butter in London. Our chief competitor on the London market is Denmark, which has nothing approaching the natural advantages of New South Wales.

"I found the agricultural resources of the State to be far beyond my expectations. There are districts in New South Wales capable of growing every cereal and root crop suitable to temperate and semi-tropical conditions. Special crops like tobacco and sugar-cane can also be grown successfully, though their profitableness or otherwise depends on economic and political considerations.

The western slopes and eastern Riverina and parts of the Western plain are admirably adapted for the growth of wheat of excellent quality. Even on the tableland the production of new varieties has made it possible to grow a good milling sample. Though the average yield per acre is low, the cost of production is also low. If all the wheat farmers in the State were farming up to the standard of the best, the average yield would, in my opinion, be increased at least 50 per cent. with very little increase in the cost of production. The area capable of producing wheat in New South Wales must be very great indeed. A few years ago the official estimate was 20,000,000 acres, and since that time wheat has been grown successfully a considerable distance beyond the limit set at that time. As only a little over 2,000,000 acres are at present devoted to the growth of the crop it will be seen that there is room for immense expansion. I have seen enough to satisfy me that there are many millions of acres which only require railway extension to bring them within the zone of profitable wheat culture. Pastoralists whose holdings are situated in the wheat belt within 20 miles of a railway would get a much better return from a combination of wheat and sheep than from sheep alone, and they are gradually turning their attention to cereal growing. The greatest expansion in wheat-growing, however, will probably come from the subdivision of suitable estates or of parts of such estates. Increased railway facilities are urgently required to induce the settlement of wheat-growers on farms of suitable size. In addition to wheat and oats for grain and hay, rotation crops such as field peas and rape should be grown to provide food for crossbred sheep and early maturing lambs. The possibility of doing this is the one great advantage which New South Wales possesses over Canada.

"The soils and climate of the different parts of the State are so varied that conditions can be found suitable for the growth of a great variety of fruits. Sufficient of all of these ought to be grown to supply the local demand. The chief hindrance to the industry is the uncertainty of the market. Greater attention should be given to the growth of such fruits as apples, prunes, and raisins, the surplus of which could be exported. That grapes suitable for wine-making can be successfully grown and wines of high quality manufactured from them has been abundantly demonstrated. The market for these, however, is limited by the fact that Anglo-Saxons are not a wine-drinking people.

"My experience of the agricultural and other conditions of the State convinces me of the wisdom of establishing the teaching of agriculture and allied subjects at the University. The means of imparting elementary agricultural education are fairly complete, the chief defect at present being the absence of a higher training-ground for teachers and experts."

FRUITGROWERS' UNION.

The monthly meeting of the executive of the Fruitgrowers' Union of New South Wales was held at Castle Hill on Saturday afternoon, Mr. J. Neil, president, being in the chair.

Mr. A. Schwebel moved,—"That the Minister for Agriculture be asked to declare Indian white wax scale a pest under the Fruit Pests Act, to enable inspectors to take action towards its eradication." The motion was seconded by Mr. Dale. Mr. W. D. Wrench moved, as an amendment,—"That the question be referred to the branches for an expression of opinion." Seconded by Mr. Rumsey, and carried.

The Under-Secretary, Department of Agriculture, wrote with reference to a request by the union that experiments be made in cool storage with a small number of each of the various kinds of apples from the department's experimental farms, stating that it was considered rather late to undertake such an experiment now. If, however, the fruit was available, a test would be made of the keeping qualities of, say, 20 of the most promising varieties.

The Under-Secretary, Department of Agriculture, wrote with reference to a letter from the union regarding the admission of New South Wales grapes into Queensland, stating that the department recently approached the Queensland authorities with a view to obtaining a modification of their regulations in this connection, but they were unable to accede to the request.

A letter was also received from the Wedderburn branch (Camden district), asking the union to again approach the Government on the matter of the embargo on grapes for Queensland, with a view of seeing whether the regulations could not in some way be modified. Wedderburn district was at present entirely free from phylloxera and other diseases. It was decided, on the motion of Mr. Fripp, seconded by Mr. Wrench, to request the Department of Agriculture to again approach the Queensland Government, with a view to having grapes from clean districts admitted by that State. It was also decided to point out to the department that the proclaimed area at Camden, under the Vines Diseases Act, was too large, and to suggest that the area be divided.

The Under-Secretary, Department of Agriculture, wrote informing the union that the matter of providing increased accommodation at the fumigating chamber was receiving the consideration of the Minister. Mr. Wrench moved,—"That the department be asked if they intended taking over the fumigating chamber at the new municipal markets in Sydney, and also that they be urged to make provision for fumigating fruit whilst in the truck." Mr. Dale seconded the motion, which was carried.

The Under-Secretary, Department of Agriculture, in reply to a letter from the union, asking for a definition of a neglected orchard, wrote stating that climatic conditions might affect specific cases, but generally the department's inspectors deemed an orchard which did not receive timely and adequate care to be neglected. Each inspector was empowered to act in each case as its special circumstances and his common sense demanded. Mr. Schwebel thought it only right that the branches of the union should be asked to give an expression of opinion as to what constituted a neglected orchard, and moved to that effect. Carried.

Mr. Schwebel moved,—"That the union congratulate Mr. Arthur Griffith, Minister for Works, on his recent remarks regarding the distribution of fruit." Seconded by Mr. Dale, and carried.

Mr. Schwebel moved,—"That, in the opinion of the executive, growers' agents should, as well as shippers, be required to provide a statutory declaration that fruit about to be shipped was actually received from the grower named in the certificate." Seconded by Mr. Dale. Mr. S. Fagan moved, as an amendment,—"That the matter be referred to the branches for an expression of opinion." Seconded by Mr. Tosh, and carried.

It was decided to take steps to oppose the granting of the wages claims of the Rural Workers' Union.

RHODES GRASS.

"I might give you a few facts of interest re Rhodes grass," writes a North Coast correspondent. "The paddock I cut in the latter end of February and beginning of March was 15 acres. It was sown in June last year, only I started to feed it off in October, when it was about one foot high. I had nearly three head to the acre on it, and they could not eat it down. It went to seed in spite of them. I closed it up on about January 25, and started to cut seed on February 22. Took altogether 3400lb of seed off the paddock, and have been feeding off it and milking the cows ever since. The crop I am cutting shortly is from seed sown in December last. It would cut five tons of hay to the acre. It is in scrub land, and cutting hay is out of the question. I might also say that this seed was also taken from the paddock in its very early stages of seed, before it was properly matured. We were only a week cutting enough seed to sow 40 acres, but it came up splendidly, a lot better than I expected. I have paspalum paddocks, and cattle won't look at them while they can get the Rhodes in this district. It is truly a wonderful fodder grass, and will grow where other grasses will not, and stock are very fond of it. It is suitable for hay, and will carry more stock to the acre than any known grass."

PASTURES PROTECTION BOARDS

BEGA.—At the monthly meeting of the Eden Pastures Protection Board Mr. C. O. Furness, inspector of stock, reported that grass was plentiful throughout the district, as was water. During the month successful work in rabbit destruction was done by strychnine and phosphorus poisoning. The board dissented from the views of the Goulburn Board that the Pastures Protection Act should be amended, making dipping of all sheep compulsory.

COOMA.—The Pastures Protection Board has fixed the rates for the current year at 1d per head for large stock, and one-sixth of a penny per head for sheep. The board resolved to co-operate with the Coonabarabran board in an effort to obtain the right for boards to appear before local land boards when any proposed curtailment or revocation of any t.s.r. or c.r. or w.r. was being dealt with. The inspector of stock reported that the past month was the driest April for many years, and that, although there is fair feed throughout the district, rain was badly needed. There was a plentiful supply of water, and all springs are running strongly. Stock are in good condition. A large number of fat sheep were despatched to Flemington during the month. In the mountains blowflies had been very troublesome, causing a very serious loss in wool. In most cases the greater part of the body has to be shorn to dislodge the maggots. The assistant rabbit inspector reported that hand poisoning was being pursued with on a number of holdings, but the results generally were not sufficient. In some places there are very few rabbits.

DAIRYING.

WEST MAITLAND.—The first case in which a district dairyman was charged with an offence under the Pure Foods Act came before the police court during the week. Dr. Dick, medical health officer of the combined Hunter districts, gave evidence that the defendant's premises and milk pails were in a dirty condition, and the charge being proved, the defendant was fined £5 and costs. Superintendent Saunders, who prosecuted, pointed out that the case was brought to show dairymen their liability under the Pure Foods Act. The act was stringent, and instructions had been issued to see that regulations were rigidly enforced.

MECCA OF NO LICENSE.

DOMINION'S EXAMPLE.

WORK OF THE RECHABITE ORDER.

Mr. Charles W. Churchill, Past Chief Ruler of the English Independent Order of Rechabites, who, in company with Mr. John Philipson, High Chief Ruler, is touring the world in the interests of temperance, arrived in Sydney on Saturday.

"The primary reason of our visit to Australia," said Mr. Churchill, "was to attend the jubilee celebrations of the Victoria district, which took place in March. Ultimately, however, it was decided to extend the tour over a much wider field. Our first break in the journey was India, where we travelled 500 miles and held a series of meetings, principally at the military stations, as our membership is largely made up of soldiers.

"I am glad to say that the order in the Commonwealth has shown great progress, where there are now connected with it some 65,000 members. In the whole Empire—outside the British Isles—there are about 84,000 members. Altogether, including these, the Order stands to-day at 530,000 strong, counting 220,000 juvenile members. The juvenile part of the order has been a great success within recent years. During the last 10 years between 60,000 and 70,000 juveniles have been transferred to the adult section, and they have retained their temperance principles.

"While being a friendly society, the order is a strong progressive temperance organisation.

"The order is very strong on the matter of actuarial solvency. At last valuation in England of the 'future assets and solvency' branch, the order showed a degree of solvency of 20s 1 2-3d for every £1 of liability. This odd 1 2-3d represented a £53,000 surplus. In the Australian Commonwealth the order is standing strong for a similar satisfactory position. It is reported by the Government actuaries of the different States to be in a sound financial position.

"I feel that every one of these States has a bright future before it. This country has a splendid destiny to look forward to, provided the individual States work together for the common end."

WELCOME IN SYDNEY.

The visiting members of the Independent Order of Rechabites of Great Britain were welcomed by the New South Wales branch of the society at a dinner on Saturday at Masonic Hall, Castlereagh-street. Brother John H. Wise, D.C.R., presided.

Proposing the toast of "The Guests," the chairman said he was voicing a welcome to the visitors on behalf of 5500 Rechabites in New South Wales. When the Order started there were only 259 members and £150 of capital, but now the membership roll stood at 9500, and the financial side was represented by £54,000 (Cheers.) Since the initiation of the Order in New South Wales a strong fight for temperance had been maintained. The great value of the principle they represented found ample demonstration in the increased longevity of their members. During the last 11 years the annual death rate was only 3.13 per 1000. This was a record that it would be hard to beat. The average death rate with the general public was 8 to 12 per 1000 per annum.

Brother John Philipson, in reply, said that the mission of propaganda had so far been wonderfully successful in Australia. In regard to the temperance aspect of the work, it was quite evident that in many points the legislative position in Australia was far ahead of what obtained in England. They hoped, however, to accomplish much in Great Britain. Mr. Asquith had given a promise that the Licensing Bill would be brought before Parliament. It was confidently expected that the temperance cause would accomplish a good deal more than it did on the last occasion. When in Queensland he had an interview with the Premier, and it was gratifying to be able to state that a bill had been prepared for submission to the next Parliament, which would place the temperance movement in a better position than it ever was in before.

A visit to New Zealand had revealed the fact that the Dominion was the Mecca of the temperance reformer. The benefits derived from no-license were palpable; they were manifested in the social and spiritual tone of the people. The efforts put forth by New Zealand in the abolition of the drink traffic were only the beginning of what the country was to accomplish in the reform movement. It would be closely watched by the world. There could be no question, no matter what their opponents might say, that no-license was beneficial. It did not mean prohibition, but, nevertheless, it prohibited. It meant reform, and by moral suasion persons that were formerly addicted to drink had been induced to give it up. Where the consumption had previously been 10½ gallons per head it had now fallen to 2½ gallons.

Alderman Walker said that their opponents had defeated the no-license attempt at the elections, but the victory was secured by vituperation and misstatements. When the matter came before the electors at the next elections the majority vote would be on the side of no-license. "I hope it will then be able to give them a kick that will roll them down the hill," he concluded.

Brother C.W. Churchill said that temperance was making great strides in all parts of the world.

Archdeacon Boyce said that the most advanced liquor law in Australia was that of New South Wales. The poll taken in October last was the greatest yet taken in the British Empire for temperance. Nearly 400,000 people had voted their support to the great movement.

A CIVIC RECEPTION.

NEWCASTLE, Saturday.

Brother J. Philipson, high chief ruler of the Independent Order of Rechabites, and Brother C. W. Churchill, past high chief ruler, arrived here from Sydney on Friday. They were accompanied by Brother J. H. Wise, district chief ruler, and Bro. W. H. O'Donnell, D.S.J.T. The party was accorded a civic welcome by the Mayor (Alderman Sheddon) at the council chambers. They were afterwards received and entertained at Hamilton, by the Rechabites of the district.

CITY MISSION.

Reference was made in no less than 38 churches yesterday to the good work being accomplished by the Sydney City Mission. The work of the mission lies principally among the submerged, the unfortunate, and the waifs and strays of city life, and before various Congregational, Presbyterian, Methodist, and Baptist congregations on Sunday testimony was borne to the Christianising and beneficent influences in badly-needed quarters that followed the efforts of the city missioners.

AUSTRALIAN JOURNALISTS' ASSOCIATION.

REGISTRATION GRANTED.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

This morning the Commonwealth Industrial Registrar, Mr. Stewart, resumed the hearing of the application by the Australian Journalists' Association, to be registered as an organisation of employees under the Commonwealth Conciliation and Arbitration Act, and the objections put forward in relation thereto. Mr. Frank Brennan (Messrs. Brennan and Rundle), appeared for the applicant association. The objectors were represented thus: Mr. Duffy, K.C., and Mr. Lewers (instructed by Messrs. Lynch and M'Donald) for the Sydney Daily Newspapers' Association; Mr. Schutt (instructed by Messrs. Blake and Riggall), for the proprietary of the "Argus," and other Victorian papers; Mr. Lewers (instructed by Messrs. Lynch and M'Donald), for Mr. Geo. J. Reeve, chief of the staff on the "Sydney Morning Herald," and seven other Sydney journalists holding the positions of sub-editors, news editor, leader of the staff, or city editor.

Mr. Schutt pointed out, as the matter stood, when the hearing was adjourned, a conference had been arranged between the parties. That conference had been held, but no agreement had been arrived at with respect to the matters in dispute. His clients wanted the rules altered to exclude from members of the association, editors-in-chief, chiefs of the reporting staff, editors of departments, such as sporting, agricultural, and financial, permanently employed as such on the metropolitan newspapers. This the officers of the association would not agree to at the conference. He wished to object to rule six of the constitution, which provides for members being elected by a secret ballot.

The Registrar: Is the objection in the original objections?

Mr. Schutt: No, it is a new objection.

Mr. Brennan: Before anything is done in regard to this new objection, we want time to consider the question.

The Registrar: This is most irregular to bring forward a new objection at this stage of the proceedings.

Mr. Schutt: I thought this was to be a meeting of give and take on both sides. This objection was to have been brought forward at the conference, but it was overlooked. I think we might have another conference, at which counsel could be present.

The Registrar: I don't want to delay the matter any further, and if there is any possible chance, I want to see the matter settled at once.

Mr. Brennan: I must oppose any further adjournment.

Mr. Lewers: The conference yesterday was not really a conference, as the officers of the association had no authority to do anything.

Mr. Brennan: We have considered the matter from every standpoint, and we object to a further adjournment. We have had a conference, and we went as far as possible in the direction set forth by Mr. Duffy at the opening hearing.

The Registrar: Then I will proceed to give my decision, unless counsel has anything further to add.

Mr. Schutt: I have nothing further to say.

Mr. Lewers: We object to rule 6, because we think that the association should be open to all journalists of good character.

The Registrar: Do you know of any union or club that has an open ballot for membership. Take the Melbourne Club, for instance. There is a secret ballot there.

Mr. Lewers: I don't think this association is on the same grounds as an association club.

The Registrar: I think that every union has got this provision in its rules.

Mr. Lewers: As I represent the Sydney newspapers, I would like to point out that there is a slight difference in the nomenclatures of the persons employed. The duties are distributed differently from those on the Melbourne papers, and those duties carried out in Melbourne by the editor and chief of staff are performed in Sydney by the gentlemen mentioned before, the chief sub-editor and the chief reporter, sporting, financial, and agricultural editors. I am told that our objections, if agreed to, will only affect one per cent. of the proposed members of the union. It would only affect the chief officers of the papers.

Mr. Brennan: That is not so. Continuing, Mr. Brennan, in answering the objections, claimed that there was no question as to whether journalism was an industry. That fact had not been disputed. The association claimed that all those calling themselves journalists, and whom the association called journalists, should be admitted to the benefits and responsibilities of the association if they so wished. They commenced by being against exclusion of individuals or classes in any way. They said that once you began to exclude persons you soon ran into the very difficulty with which they were faced now. They understood from Mr. Duffy that he had in his mind certain persons who should be excluded, and they had not gone much further in the hearing before the Sydney papers expressed a wish to have other persons excluded.

Mr. Lewers explained that these were the same persons as mentioned by Mr. Duffy, only under different titles.

Mr. Brennan: In this definition they would have an indefinite number of persons who might be excluded. There was the financial editor, the agricultural editor, the sporting editor. All of those officers were interchangeable, and a man might be a reporter one day and an editor or sub-editor the next. The same thing applied to leader writers.

Mr. Lewers: We only want that rule to apply to those permanently employed in such capacity.

Mr. Brennan: We are forming the association for all time, and it does not follow because a particular paper is at present situated in a particular way that it will continue to be for an indefinite time. If the leader writers and sub-editors wanted to come into the union they should be allowed to do so. What were the practical objections to their doing so? The law held out the invitation to people to register to do away with such things as strikes and lockouts. Was it possible that the great daily newspapers were afraid that under any rule of the Court they would be forced to pay wages they were unwilling to pay. If that was so, then it was a strong point that these men should be allowed to join the association. There might be, at some remote period, some proceedings before the Court, although he did not think there would be, and there might be an appeal for preference for unionists, all other things being equal, but everybody knew that such an appeal would not be forthcoming because, although it might well be held in other industries that one man might be as good as another, yet no one would venture to say that such a state existed in regard to journalists. There was too wide a difference between the men employed to warrant such an assumption.

The Registrar: Keep in mind that an award is the very last thing to think of. There are so many things under the Act which can be taken advantage of before an award is asked for.

Mr. Brennan: One of the original objects in forming this union was to prevent other persons coming in over their heads. There were two ways in which harm might come to those persons who wanted to be kept out. Supposing we excluded these men, what would follow? The first thing would be the worst. We would be excluding men who wanted to join. It might be said that they did not want to join, but my answer to this is that representatives of these men have jumped at the chance of joining. Just as these men have come in others may wish to come in in the future. They are bona-fide journalists, and they would be numerically too weak to go elsewhere. Again, supposing a reporter took a keen interest in union matters, and there was trouble between the union and the proprietors. All the proprietors would have to do would be to convert the man into a leader-writer, and he would have to leave the union. We cannot exclude sub-editors, because a man may be a reporter to-day and a sub-editor to-morrow, and then a reporter the next day. We don't wish to force any man to join. No man need join the association unless he so wishes.

Mr. Lewers: The people we desire to exclude are those who have a disciplinary control, and who discharge editorial functions. We do not want to exclude persons temporarily filling the positions mentioned, but only those permanently employed in such capacities.

The Registrar (to Mr. Brennan): Will you tell me how far you are prepared to go?

Mr. Brennan: We are prepared to amend the constitution of the association to exclude editors-in-chief and chiefs of the reporting staffs, permanently employed as such, on each daily newspaper in the capitals of the States, providing that this shall not apply to persons holding such offices, who were members of the association on May 1, 1911, and we are prepared to alter sub-section M of rule 4.

The Registrar: I grant the registration conditional on the rules being amended in accordance with the statements just made by Mr. Brennan.

Some discussion took place as regards the nomenclature of the officers mentioned. Mr. Lewers stated that the terms used did not apply to Sydney, and sought to have them altered, but the Registrar pointed out that, as he understood the terms as used were generally used throughout Australia, he would not make any alteration.

Ten guineas costs were allowed, the objectors represented by Mr. Schutt and Mr. Lewers to pay equal shares.

THE REFERENDUM.

ALLEGED IRREGULARITIES.

ELECTORAL OFFICER'S REPORT.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

The Acting Prime Minister (Mr. Hughes) has received a report from Mr. M'Laren, Electoral Officer for New South Wales, in connection with the complaint that notices advising electors to vote "No" to the referendum proposals were posted in booths at Greenoak, Woollahra, in the Wentworth division. An elector, who is described as a barrister, but whose name is withheld from publication, stated at the inquiry that though the notices were not actually posted up in the booths, he found that cards directing persons to vote "No" had been left in each of the booths from A to G. The cards looked official, and were facsimiles in some respects of the official notices.

Mr. Hughes, commenting on the report, said that it appeared that a systematic effort had been made to influence voters. To what extent officials might be held responsible for allowing the cards to be distributed and remain in the booths depended upon the whole of the facts of the case. He did not know at present what all these facts were, but further inquiries would be made with a view of clearing up the matter.

RAILWAY EMPLOYEES.

INTERSTATE CONFERENCE.

LAUNCESTON, Saturday.

An interstate conference of the railway employees was commenced on Friday. The visiting delegates are Messrs. Sheeran, Fogarty, and Hyett (Victoria), Campbell, Catts, Paull, and Leage (N.S.W.), Adams and Lodge (S.A.), W. Callaghan and J. Callaghan (Q.), C. J. Lewis (Western Australia).

The proceedings are conducted in camera. A motion was carried that an effort be made to secure interstate railway passes for State tramway employees when on holiday. A long discussion ensued on the establishment of a Commonwealth railway newspaper. It was agreed that "The Co-operator" in Queensland be the official organ of the association.

ALLEGED PEARL STEALING.

PERTH, Sunday.

An important case, dealing with a charge of pearl-stealing, occupied the police court, Broome, for 12 days. A lad named Cochrane, a shell-opener on W. Hawkes's boat, and Clifford Gordon M'Intosh, manager of the Miden pearler, were charged with having stolen two pearls from Hawkes, one being valued at £120. The defence was that the pearls came from Miden's boat, and also that a smaller pearl, when seized by the police from Miden's safe, weighed 15¼ grains, and the one produced in court only weighed slightly less than 13 grains. Macintosh swore positively that the pearl was not the same, while Ellies, an expert, and many others, declared that it was.

The accused were committed for trial by a majority of the Bench, bail being allowed.

PURE FOODS ACT.

SINGLETON, Saturday.

At the police court some prosecutions for breaches of the Pure Foods Act were heard. They were the first prosecutions of the kind in Singleton. John Burke, a butcher, was charged with having dirty premises, and was fined £3, with 2/s costs, and 10s 6d expenses of one witness. W. Coleman pleaded guilty to selling raspberry syrup cordial, adulterated with artificial flavouring matter, and was fined £1 and 1's 6d costs. Alexander Mather pleaded guilty to selling an article having the word "vinegar" on the label without the word "substitute" conjoined, and was fined 10s and 10s 6d costs. The same defendant was charged with selling a cordial adulterated by the addition of an artificial flavouring matter. His solicitor pleaded not guilty, and mentioned that he was having the stuff analysed, and asked for an adjournment to enable this to be done. With the consent of the parties, the hearing of the case was postponed till June 1.

SENTENCES REDUCED.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

Appeal cases arising out of the sentences of 12 months' imprisonment imposed on Thomas Fergeus, George Polson, and John Brown by Mr. J. Berriman, P.M., came before Mr. Acting Judge Neighbour at Maryborough. The men were charged with having gold in their possession for which they could not give a satisfactory account.

Acting Judge Neighbour held the offence proved. However, he thought a sentence of 12 months' imprisonment altogether too cruel, and set it aside, and fined each of the accused £10.

NORTH SYDNEY SCHOOL OF ARTS.

A further stage was reached on Friday in connection with the friction that has existed between the executive and a section of the members, when a special general meeting of members was held to consider the situation.

Some 50 members were present, and the meeting was presided over by Mr. I. de H. Larpent. The secretary (Mr. A. E. M'Lean) was present.

Mr. William Darley, one of the delegates, said that as the committee and officers had resigned since the last meeting, it would be competent for the meeting to elect a new executive.

The following officers were elected:—Senior vice-president, Mr. W. Darley; junior vice-president, Mr. W. Roberts; hon. treasurer, Mr. A. Hearne; committee, Messrs. H. Bergstrom, J. T. Cuneen, A. Cunningham, J. Lewis, F. Wickham, and W. Wyatt.

Should cousins kiss? Some people say
That with propriety they may,
In house or street, where'er they meet,
However many times a day.

'Gainst microbes then they are secure,

FOUL BREATH.

A Great Misfortune to Either Man or Woman.

The old saying that "distance lends enchantment" was never more aptly to the point than when applied to those people whose breath is laden with evil-smelling and offensive odours. Many persons appear most attractive at a distance, but produce a feeling of pity and disgust when close to, because of the condition of their breath. For instance, it makes little difference how beautiful a woman may be, or how charming her manner, if her breath is foul; her charm is gone, and she is at a disadvantage when she comes in contact with other people. Foul breath in woman arouses in man a feeling of repugnance and a desire to get out of the company of such a woman as quickly as possible; and even women will avoid her. It is, therefore, important for every woman who values her personal attraction to take such care of herself that this unpleasant and unnecessary complaint is avoided or corrected. Men, women, and children who are troubled with this complaint will drive their friends away more rapidly than with any other affliction. People do not realise their breaths are bad, because they are like those who are constantly employed amongst paints and varnishes—they get used to what is to others a most offensive smell. In nearly all cases this condition is due to Constipation and a Disordered Stomach. A Coated Tongue, a Slight Headache, and Feverishness are sure signs that the digestive organs are retaining quantities of impurities from which the system should be free, thereby causing the breath to become charged with foul odour. In Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills there will be found a searching, cleansing remedy, which will drive the masses of decaying corruption—that poison the blood and contaminate the breath—from the system through the regular channel. They get at the cause as no other remedy does. They get at the foundation of the complaint. They give you clean bowels, a healthy stomach, a lively liver, and blood that is rich and red. They are a safe, sure, and reliable remedy, and will prevent many of the complaints so common if taken once or twice a week to keep the system in a healthy condition. They are purely vegetable, and their action is not accompanied by any nauseous or griping sensation, but is mild and gentle. For all complaints arising from Imperfect Digestion and Impure Blood these pills are unexcelled.

A Sure and Safe Remedy.

Mrs. K. Donaldson, of 48 Eveleigh-street, Redfern, writes:—"For severe headaches, which I have often suffered from in the past, I find Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills to be a sure and safe remedy. We are firm believers in these valuable pills, not only for this ailment, but for any ordinary complaint arising from a disordered state of the stomach. We use them for everything. When feeling out of sorts at all, a dose never fails to restore us to good health again. We recommend them to everybody, and always keep them handy. You may use this if you wish for publication."

THE CLAIMS OF AGRICULTURE.

The first report of the Professor of Agriculture makes interesting reading, not because we are told anything which was unfamiliar, but because we have therein a most optimistic judgment on our resources by an independent expert, who is not only well qualified to express an academic opinion, but who is also able to compare our conditions with those of other countries in the light of first-hand knowledge. Professor Watt rightly began by spending all his available time in seeing for himself what agriculture can do in New South Wales. It is evident that he was early impressed by the fact that it can do a great deal. But his second thought was that it does not do nearly as much as it ought. So far as natural resources go it seems we compare more than favourably with any region known to the professor. This in itself is a matter for congratulation, and we could not do better than reprint and circulate widely his report for the benefit of possible immigrants. More particularly are his remarks likely to buttress those of the Scottish Commissioners, whose favourable judgment is likely to reach us within the next few weeks. The problem of agriculture has two or three outstanding aspects. It is necessary to get the people to the land, to get the land for the people, and to ensure that the land shall be used to the maximum advantage. The first two points involve political considerations. As Professor Watt remarks, hardly a tenth of our available wheat land is under cultivation. That, no doubt, is partly because the area is held for pastoral purposes, but much more because we have not yet got the human material for closer settlement. But we are most of us agreed that the maximum return from land is only to be got by agriculture, and although large portions of the State are admittedly not suited for this purpose there remains a residuum of enormous extent which can be successfully applied to the growth of cereals, to dairy-farming, and to other industries involving intensive treatment. No one who takes a long train journey through the State can fail to remark upon the great areas that are not being used as they should. The main reason for this neglect is the lack of an agricultural population, and that can only be got by systematic advertising of our resources, coupled to a really genuine effort to make good land available for all comers. We are glad in this connection to see that an effort is being made to codify our land laws, and bring them within the limits of one comprehensive measure; but it is a rather ironical comment on this useful work that its authors immediately propose amendments which will make a further codification essential. More important, too, than legislation is administration. We still have large areas of Crown land that ought to be available for closer settlement, but which is kept back from service by the slowness of departmental routine.

Professor Watt gives us some timely hints as to the points we should make widely known if we want to attract a steady stream of agricultural immigrants. As he says, our resources in dairying, cereal-growing, and mixed farming are very little known abroad, and the drawbacks of the climate are grossly exaggerated. This is an evil we can hardly prevent. Droughts, bushfires, and floods strike the imagination at once, and those who hear of them naturally forget the long intervals of steady production that come in between the bad times. The thing for us to do, therefore, plainly, is to counteract this impression of spasmodic disaster by steady and continuous work in the direction of placing our favourable conditions before the immigrant. But, besides that, we ought to give him a convincing object-lesson. Although he is too polite to say so, Professor Watt has evidently remarked how rough and ready our farming methods usually are; and he sees before him an immense field for agricultural education. This is a subject about which it is possible to talk a great deal of nonsense, and as to which the man on the land is not unreasonably suspicious. For it to be taken seriously we have to recognise its limitations. There are those who write as if every farmer should have a degree in agriculture, and be versed in the chemistry of soils, and acquainted with the last word of Mendelism as to breeding. There are others who lay down conditions that are obviously impossible for the practical man, who is apt to retort in contempt that he is out to make a living, and not to produce model farms. Yet it cannot be denied that agriculture is a science, and that it can be successful only in so far as it is prepared to take advantage of scientific methods and results. No amount of empiricism, for instance, can teach the farmer the relation of fertilisers to soils, or explain to him the possibilities and the limits of dry farming, or make him familiar with the role of bacteria in plant cultivation. On the other hand, it is not possible for him to learn these things, and many more, for himself. How, then, are we to proceed to make scientific agriculture an accomplished fact? We must begin by admitting that it is by no means an easy task. The initial difficulty lies with the farmer himself. Much of what passes for agricultural education has only the slightest relation to reality, and he can hardly be blamed for not seeing the use of it. It is here that a really vigorous Department of Agriculture should come in. It should be able to demonstrate to the most unresponsive cultivator that he is not getting all he can out of his land—often, indeed, only half as much, according to Professor Watt's estimate. Experimental work is useful and necessary, but, besides that, there is needed missionary enterprise. Instead of waiting for the farmer to ask for help we should ask to help him. An ounce of direct experience would do more to convince than tons of theory.

Once the man on the land is roused to an intelligent appreciation of the importance of applying science to agriculture, the demand for teaching will become insistent. It must be admitted that so far we have hardly crossed the threshold of agricultural education. Our greatest handicap undoubtedly is the lack of properly qualified instructors. These it is the business of the University to supply, and its courses to that end should prove satisfactory enough. The trouble is, however, to attract the right sort of men to the work. Starting with elementary education, it is most important to realise that the teacher who adds an amateurish or an academic knowledge of agriculture to a miscellaneous assortment of information will never suffice. Specialisation is essential. There are, of course, many practical difficulties to be overcome before we can accomplish this ideal; but it is so vitally important that we should never rest until we attain to it. It has been well pointed out that the agricultural reformation in Germany owes its origin directly to the influence of the highest grade of agricultural research. We cannot hope to imitate that success unless we realise that the University is the vitally essential part of any agricultural training scheme, and that the vivifying influence must come from above, and not from below. This is fully realised in America, and, outside Germany, Belgium, Denmark, and Holland have afforded striking examples of the truth of the theory.

HOSPITAL SATURDAY COLLECTION.

The annual street collection on behalf of the hospitals, by now a firmly-established autumn fixture, had its due attention on Saturday. At all events, it had all the attention that a great and an enthusiastic band of workers could secure for it. In that regard the organisation continues to be admirably served. The first flush of novelty has long since vanished from the idea, but successive years bring out successive battalions of ladies well able and obviously willing to make the annual demand as gracious as it is inescapable. Their efforts this year have had the pleasant result of building up the yearly tribute to record proportions. So far as may be gathered at this incomplete stage of the year's appeal, the total subscription will be substantially in advance of that of last year. It will not reach the £10,000 level hoped for it by the executive, but it will be shown as rapidly in pursuit of that attainment. There will be some disappointment possibly that under such weather conditions as those of Saturday, and in a year of unexampled prosperity, an even greater public response than that given has not been manifested. But, as compared with last year, the result must, in all the circumstances, be regarded as satisfactory. It has not been contributed to, so far at least, by any large single subscription, such as that of each of two years past, and it is shorn of the support this year of an appreciable number of possibly heavy contributors by reason of the Coronation exodus.

As it stands, and having regard to the numerous calls to charitable duty, the public response year by year to the hospitals' fund must be so regarded. In any community there must needs be a considerable section to whom charity of whatever sort makes appeal in vain. As a consequence the Hospital Saturday collection remains the responsibility of the section to whom charity does appeal. It would be difficult, at any rate, to suggest a more effective means of securing the maximum of charity available than that in operation on these occasions. The organisation is comprehensive, the workers are well chosen, the object in view is that of provision for the sick. No charity, in fact, has a greater chance of inducing response to its appeal than that of the hospital, the public institution above all others in whose work all of us alike find an objective for sympathy. And the fact becomes more and more plain that the need of the hospitals for all the support they can get becomes greater and greater. Not even Hospital Saturday, therefore, with all its token of generosity, can wholly discharge the public responsibility for the public hospital. That responsibility increases, as the constant appeal from hospital authorities for more money amply testifies. And though this year's Hospital Saturday sees a record subscription in hand, it will be hoped by all in immediate concern with hospital control that that combined gift of the public is an earnest of individual thought during the coming year for hospital work and hospital burdens.

THE EIGHT-OAR VICTORY.

Those who saw the New South Wales crew row to victory in the interstate eight-oar race on the Parramatta River on Saturday must have been eminently satisfied. For twenty years, from 1886 to 1905, Victoria held a succession of wins, broken only twice—once by this State and once by Queensland. There was one run of a round dozen victories credited to her, and those whose heart was in the sport, so invincible did her oarsmen appear, might well have despaired of disputing her supremacy. What were the elements to which Victoria owed her almost uniform success? We could put as strong and apparently as skilful oarsmen in the boat as the Victorians, our opportunities for gaining experience were at least not unequal to theirs. As the event has proved, we allowed natural prejudice and conservatism to stand in our way. By their consistent success the Victorians proved that they had the better style, but it was not till a new generation of oarsmen had arisen amongst us, men who would not permit themselves to adopt old fashions unchallenged, that any change was made. Mr. Upward, the stroke and afterwards veteran coach of the southern crews, was requested to come over and help us. He did so, he instilled into our oarsmen the rudiments of the Victorian, which may now be classed as the Australian, style, and since that time our progress has been rapid. In the few years which have elapsed the number of our wins has doubled. But if we have sought improvements in style from Victoria, we have at least the consolation of knowing that it was from our scullers that Mr. Upward obtained the basis of his ideas for the proper application of weight in oarsmanship.

It is not to be expected, nor is it to be desired, that such a measure of triumph should always attend the exertions of our crews. If it did so happen it would be a bad day for rowing, not only in the other States but in our own State as well. These contests serve to keep alive the spirit of emulation among the athletes of the Commonwealth. They bring together men of diverse views, and their mingling in harmonious rivalry must broaden their outlook, and enable them to take back and exercise among their clubmates who do not have the opportunity of going abroad an influence which tends to put an end to that provincial jealousy which in other regions besides politics dies all too slowly. But if the probabilities of winning were always in favour of one State the enthusiasm for the contests would die out among the public, as there is no doubt it almost did here for some years when Victoria was in the heyday of her triumph, and this lack of public enthusiasm would react in the number actively engaging in the sport. After all, any sport in which there is a large spectacular element must ultimately depend for its success on public support. Clean sportsmanship makes a powerful appeal, and without doubt amateur rowing is the cleanest of all sport, for there has never been in any eight-oar contest the slightest suspicion of "crookedness" which sometimes attaches itself to other sports, amateur though they may be. Disputes there have been regarding the interpretation of the word "amateur," and, though the definition may, in the opinion of many, have been drawn up with a snobbish exclusiveness, so as to exclude men who in other divisions of the realm of athletics would be accepted without question, it may be excused on the ground that the object sought for must be at all hazards attained.

THE LATE BISHOP OF BATHURST.

By the pathetically sudden death of Dr. Camidge the Anglican Church has sustained a serious loss, and the diocese of which he was so long the distinguished head, a great bereavement. Measured either by length of service or conspicuous ability and devotion in that service, the work of the late Bishop is deserving of grateful and respectful acknowledgment, not only by the members of his own religious communion, but by every person who has any adequate conception of the value to the whole community of great and good men. It is perhaps our misfortune that the influence of the character and personality of men of the type represented by the deceased Bishop is so largely limited by the necessary restrictions of the sacred calling they follow. The message such men bring to their day and generation has perforce to undergo a process of filtration through ecclesiastical media before reaching the public mind, and in the process is apt to absorb elements that rob it of its force and power. What in other times was regarded as an undoubted advantage has, in these later, and perhaps degenerate, days, come to be considered as a handicap, and the churchman who is taken seriously by the public generally must commend himself and his message quite apart from his ecclesiastical status or social prestige. The late Dr. Camidge succeeded in doing this. By temperament, training, and deep conviction he was a stanch churchman. Could he choose the criterion by which his life was to be judged we should say it would be "loyalty to his Church." The history of his occupancy of his responsible position as Bishop of Bathurst is the story of a man of high character and attainments, bending all his energies and devoting all his gifts to the accomplishment of the one object of his ambition—to do the day's work of a Bishop of the Church of England in Australia. To him the best service he could render the people of this land was to strengthen in every way possible the organisation and to inspire the soul of the communion to which he belonged. To this end he was indefatigable in his labours and tireless in his personal oversight of his immense diocese; and let no man say he was not in this way accomplishing more for the real well-being of the people of New South Wales than if he had sought to dwell in the greater publicity to which his fine personal qualities might entitle him to aspire. When occasion arose Dr. Camidge could deal with the larger questions that interest or disturb the public mind in a manner befitting the philosopher and the statesman. His episcopal deliverances on social topics displayed in an eminent degree a clear prevision of tendencies and a keen analysis of facts, and disposed one to regret that the State could not take greater toll of his statesmanlike abilities.

The place the late Bishop occupied in the ecclesiastical scheme of things might be described as that of a High Churchman of the old school. He had no delusions on the question of corporate union with other branches of the Christian Church. He could break a lance if necessary, but he preferred to pursue the even tenor of his way, and only assumed the rôle of controversialist under provocation. Yorkshire-born and Oxford-bred, so far as mental training is concerned, Dr. Camidge had not a little of the geniality and heartiness of his native county, combined with the conservative tendencies of the ecclesiastical school in which he was nurtured. He was not a man of extremes, and knew well the gentle art of courteous disagreement. Not the least contribution to the general uplift of the people amongst whom he went in and out during the last quarter of a century were his cultured refinement of mind and his good taste in matters esthetic. He will be greatly missed in many a squatter's home and in many a worker's camp. The larger life of our western district has been enriched by the personality of one whose memory will be green for many years to come.

Accession Day.—The anniversary of the King's accession was marked on Saturday by a display of bunting on the warships in port and the firing of a royal salute. The Royal Standard was hoisted over the Lieutenant-Governor's offices in Macquarie-street, and the Union Jack was flown from over the public buildings and over a great many private ones.

Harbour Control at Newcastle.—Consideration has been given by the Acting Treasurer to the question of putting an end to the system of divided control which obtains at the port of Newcastle. Mr. Carmichael explained on Saturday that he had no intention of extending the jurisdiction of the Sydney Harbour Trust Commissioners to Newcastle to the exclusion of local interests. He had taken a good deal of interest in developments in the northern port, and in all probability he would visit Newcastle on Monday week, and talk the matter over with those who were specially interested. The Newcastle people, he said, could rest assured that no steps would be taken without the fullest investigation.

Fitzroy Dock.—By way of comment upon the fault-finding indulged in by some persons in Melbourne at the placing of orders for the building of warships at Fitzroy Dock, the Minister for Works said last week that there was no dockyard in Australia which was in a position to do the work except Fitzroy Dock, and possibly Mort's Dock. It was in accordance with the Labour policy that a State-owned establishment should get the preference over a privately-owned one. He was quite satisfied that no amount of pressure would cause the Federal Government to countermand the order it had placed with the Government of this State.

Passing of St. Paul's.—The Railway Commissioners have resumed the rectory and parish hall at St. Paul's, Redfern, for the purpose of widening the bottle-neck tunnel. St. Paul's Church is to be left, but the new line will come very close to its foundations. The rectory is a very substantial stone structure, and was built for the late Canon Stephen, eldest son of the late Chief Justice, Sir Alfred Stephen. The parish hall is practically a new building. It was erected 10 years ago, and has seating accommodation for 1000 persons, in addition to 11 class and other rooms. The land resumed covers no less than 1 acre 36 perches, and includes 166ft to the business part of Regent-street, a main thoroughfare of Redfern.

Highland Lassies in Court.—The usual decorum of the Water Police Court was upset on Saturday morning. A witness was under cross-examination when the rattle of coins in wooden collecting boxes was heard. The magistrate gazed in the direction of the invasion, the police prosecutor stared in open amazement, the officers in charge of the court were open-mouthed; in fact, all eyes turned towards the door, through which had entered two pretty lassies garbed in Highland costumes, who, unabashed by the stares of the uniformed police and other persons gathered in the court, shook their boxes, crossed the court, and endeavoured to collect a few coppers in aid of the Hospital Saturday Fund. Not a word was spoken for several minutes, the invasion being so extraordinary; but at length Sergeant Drew approached one of the young ladies, and whispered in her ear, with the result that the temporary vision of youth assisting a worthy cause was removed, and the business of the court proceeded on its dull, uninteresting course.

Sympathetic though Wronged.—In sentencing a bootmaker, aged 56, who pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy, to a year's imprisonment, at the Quarter Sessions Judge Backhouse granted leave to petition for release on license at once. His Honor said he must impose imprisonment for a substantial term, and could not treat the accused as a first offender, as he must have acted deliberately. The Judge added that he had received letters from the wife and also from the woman with whom he went through the second form of marriage, and each had asked him to deal leniently with the accused. That was a most unusual request in a case of bigamy, and it was on that account that he gave leave to petition.

Boycotting Tobacconists.—The proposal carried at a meeting of master hairdressers a few days ago to advance the price for hair-cutting and shaving has met with much opposition in the suburbs. The meeting which carried the resolution, it is stated, was composed mainly of city hairdressers, and it is needless to say that a great many of the suburban barbers are totally opposed to the suggestion. It is claimed, too, on their behalf that the scheme is impracticable, and that it will be impossible to get the whole of the barbers into line. A correspondent writing with regard to the proposal enters an emphatic protest against any increase of the kind. He considers it an extortion to increase the price for haircutting 100 per cent., seeing that the increased cost of living is only 20 per cent. In his opinion the public should have a voice in the matter. For his part he has resolved to cease buying tobacco and cigars from any place which is also a hairdressing establishment, and if others did the same he says it would be the means of causing many barbers to alter their views on the subject.

Perplexing a Witness.—The monotony and gravity of the coal vend prosecution on Friday was relieved. Mr. Thomas Colebatch, a genial South Australian witness for the Crown, was in the box. Like nearly every other witness that has ever gone into court, he found the rules of evidence perplexing. Why a flow of explanatory words should be ruthlessly cut short by the sudden closure of his own mouth is what the average witness can never understand. But so it was with Mr. Colebatch in an earnest endeavour to make something quite clear to the Court. At one moment the learned Judge moved him to silence, and at the next some ever-vigilant member of the Bar did so. Then, on the top of it all, someone asked a question, which seemed to him, on what he had seen of the mysterious application of rules of evidence, to be quite irregular. "Is that in order?" he asked in open-eyed astonishment. "It wasn't yesterday." Whereat Bench and Bar and attorneys laughed heartily, the witness joining in.

Steamer Fiona Delayed.—The Colonial Sugar Refining Company's steamer Fiona, which was to leave, for Fiji at 5 o'clock on Friday morning, did not get away until about noon on that day. The delay in the departure was caused by the vessel (fully loaded) taking the ground in the harbour off Messrs. Goodlet and Smith's wharf. It was not until the tide came in that the tugs could place the steamer in a part of the stream navigable for her draught.

THE LATE BISHOP CAMIDGE.

SERVICE AT ST. ANDREW'S.

The service at St. Andrew's Cathedral yesterday morning was partly of an in memoriam character for the late Bishop of Bathurst, but the full memorial service will be held in the Cathedral at 4 o'clock this afternoon, simultaneously with the funeral at Kelso. The pulpit and chancel were draped in white and purple, and appropriate hymns were sung. The Archbishop made brief reference in his sermon, and the Dead March was played by the organist at the close of the service, the congregation standing. The Archbishop took his text from Numbers XXIII., 10, "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his."

In the course of his sermon the Archbishop said:—We have lost one who bequeathed us an heritage of a great example. He has left behind him an honoured name. For 24 years he gave himself to the service of Christ and His Church in Australia. He died as he would have wished to die, in harness, at his work. His had been an arduous ministry, "in journeying oft," never sparing himself. We sorrow for those who have been bereaved, and with such suddenness. We sorrow for her who shared his life, and who now is left desolate and lonely. We sorrow for the diocese, bereft of that master-hand at the helm, with all its magnetic power. We do not sorrow for him. He died as he had lived, and as we would pray to die, the devoted, earnest, faithful servant of the Divine Master.

Preaching in the evening, Archdeacon Boyce paid a splendid tribute to the late Bishop.

Preaching at St. Bede's, Drummoyne, yesterday morning, the Rev. H. T. Tranmar (late precentor of All Saints' Cathedral, Bathurst) spoke of the late Bishop of Bathurst as a prince of the Church, and a statesman bishop. He was one whom to know was to love. He (Mr. Tranmar) said he could speak from personal experience of the worth of Dr. Camidge, having served in his diocese for some years.

ROMAN CATHOLIC TRIBUTE.

BATHURST, Sunday.

Expressions of regret at the death of Dr. Camidge, Bishop of Bathurst, have not been confined to members of the Anglican laity, but have also come from members of other denominations. The heads of the Roman Catholic community are unhesitating in their eulogy of the late Bishop. Dr. Dunne, Roman Catholic Bishop, of whom the deceased was a great personal friend, has spoken in the highest terms of Dr. Camidge, and he regards his death as a great loss.

All Saints' Cathedral council has put on record the loss which the diocese has sustained by the death of Bishop Camidge, and has extended its sympathy to the widow in her bereavement.

Speaking in Kelso church this morning, the Rev. Archdeacon Oakes, the newly-appointed Vicar-General, who will administer the diocese pending the appointment of a new bishop, remarked that he had intended departing for England a short while ago, but that the late Bishop had requested the abandonment of the proposal, adding "We cannot tell what may happen at any time." The Bishop, the Archdeacon went on, might have retired, and lived in ease and comfort for some years to come, but his ambition had been to die at his post, and he had had his wish realised. From every quarter kindly messages had already been received. The Anglican clergy especially appreciated the kindly feelings expressed by Roman Catholic friends. The Bishop's attitude towards other sections of the Christian Church might be said to have been expressed in commonplace formula, "Let each mind their own business. They have their work; we have ours. Why should we interfere with the other." Dr. Camidge had always spoken of Dr. Dunne, the present Catholic Bishop, and the late Dr. Byrne, his predecessor, as his personal friends.

PORTLAND'S SYMPATHY.

PORTLAND, Sunday.

News of the death of Bishop Camidge was received here with the greatest regret, as the Church here had much to thank him for. He had shown a live interest in church matters, in this town, paying frequent visits here. Flags are being flown at half-mast to-day out of respect to the deceased prelate. A wreath was sent to Bathurst to-day on behalf of the churchwardens and parishioners.

REFERENCE IN THE CHURCHES.

BATHURST, Sunday.

This morning and evening the services at All Saints' Cathedral were of a semi-memorial character. The building was heavily draped, and special hymns and psalms were sung. The Rev. E. Harvey Walker preached at the morning service from the text "What is your life?" Dean Marriott announced he had received numerous messages of sympathy, including those from the Bishops of Newcastle and Grafton and Armidale. This evening Dean Marriott occupied the pulpit, and referred feelingly to the death of Dr. Camidge. Reference to the Bishop's death was also made in other churches.

ORANGE, Sunday.

Memorial services in connection with the death of the late Bishop Camidge was held in Holy Trinity Church this morning and evening, before very large congregations. The Rev. E. Lumsdaine was the preacher.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FUNERAL.

BATHURST, Sunday.

The body of the late Bishop will leave Bishopscourt at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, and will be met at the Cathedral gates at 2.30 by the church officials. A procession will then be formed, and the body carried into the Cathedral, where the first portion of the burial service will be read. At the conclusion of this service the funeral will proceed to Kelso Cemetery. It is understood that the Bishop of Goulburn (Dr. Barlow), who is now senior Bishop of Australia, will arrive to-morrow morning, and attend the burial services. The official memorial service will be held in the Cathedral to-morrow night, the Primate being the preacher.

DIOCESAN COUNCIL MEETING.

BATHURST, Sunday.

To-morrow the diocesan council will meet to fix the date of a special synod, which will elect a committee to proceed with the appointment of a new bishop. The present position is looked upon as an exceedingly critical one in the history of the diocese.

CORRECTING AGE FIGURES.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

Corrections of mis-statements made on census cards increase in number every day. On Saturday morning in the mail deposit at the office of the Commonwealth Statistician (Mr. G. H. Knibbs) were over 500 letters from men and women correcting the information given in the first place. A bank manager was amongst the number. More than 1000 communications were received during the week, the greater number from women. Nearly all the women's corrections were in respect to age, but no woman has as yet stated that the age which she gave on her census card was greater than her age really was.

PERSONAL.

VICE-REGAL.

His Excellency the Governor-General, attended by Captain Rome, returned to Sydney from Liverpool on Saturday afternoon. On Sunday evening his Excellency left Sydney for the Light Horse camp at Grafton.

The Minister for Customs (Mr. Tudor) left by express last night for Melbourne.

Major-General Hoad, who has been suffering from nervous break-down, supervening on a severe chill caught at a recent camp, is reported to be progressing favourably. He is still an inmate of a private hospital at St. Kilda.

Mr. Donald MacDonell, the Chief Secretary of New South Wales, is at present a patient in a private hospital in Melbourne. On Saturday he was operated upon for an internal complaint. The operation was successful, and the patient is progressing favourably.

Sir Joseph Carruthers is still confined to his room. His medical advisers expect that he will be convalescent this week.

A representative gathering of professors and staff of the University of Sydney was held in the refectory on Wednesday, to bid farewell to Mr. Kenneth Binns, who is about to take up the position of cataloguer to the Federal Parliament Library. On behalf of the staff Mr. Barff (registrar) presented Mr. Binns with a purse of sovereigns.

Mr. Fred. Linsley, Parramatta Sheriff's Officer, who has been transferred to the Narrabri district, was entertained on Saturday evening by the members of the Parramatta Bowling Club, Dr. W. S. Broun presiding. Complimentary speeches were made by the president, the Mayor (Alderman W. F. Jago), Alderman E. J. Brown, Graham, and Waugh, and others; and Mr. Linsley was the recipient of a gold sovereign case and also of a substantial cheque for Mrs. Linsley.

Mrs. George Rignold died at Braybrooke, Middle Harbour, on Friday, after a slow and lingering illness, of phthisis. The deceased lady, who was the famous actor-manager's second wife, was formerly Georgina Coppin, being one of the daughters of the late George Coppin, M.L.C., of Victoria, a veteran actor, who, during the later years of his long life, was known as "The Father of the Australian Stage." Miss Coppin, who was a woman of talent, for many years acted as her father's business manager and secretary. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Rignold in this sad loss. The funeral was private.

The officers of the 2nd A.I. Regiment met at the regimental messroom, Victoria Barracks, on Saturday afternoon before parade, and presented Lieut.-Colonel Ramacciotti, the officer commanding the regiment, with a handsome souvenir containing the photographs of the regimental officers and staff. Lieut.-Colonel Ramacciotti leaves by the Osterley next Saturday for England.

DEATH OF MR. SPENCER.

PROMINENT ABITRATOR.

Mr. Thomas Edward Spencer, a well-known figure in Masonic, industrial, and literary circles, died on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Spencer was, to all appearance, in the best of health on Saturday morning. He went into town with the Rev. Hillhouse Taylor, and conducted some business with his solicitor, and then went to the Masonic Club. While there he suddenly experienced difficulty in breathing, and was taken home in a cab. Dr. Burfitt was summoned, but Mr. Spencer died about 20 minutes after he reached home, death being due to dilatation of the heart. He leaves a widow and a grown-up family of three sons and two daughters. He will be accorded a Masonic funeral, the cortege starting from his late residence, 387 Glebe Point-road, at half-past 1, for the Anglican portion of the Rookwood Cemetery.

The deceased gentleman was a native of London, where he was born on December 30, 1845. He first came to Australia with an elder brother at the age of 18, and after varied experience on the goldfields in this State and Victoria, went back to London, where he was married. He was a stonemason by trade, and at the age of 24 was elected vice-president of the Stonemasons' Society of London, which boasted a membership of 50,000. For some time he was associated with Mr. Broadhurst, president of the society, in the settlement of many disputes in the trade. In the early seventies, after he had helped to settle one of the biggest industrial disputes in London, the question arose of Parliamentary representation, and the selection rested between him and Mr. Broadhurst. But Mr. Spencer had for some time been inclined to return to Australia, and he waived his claim for selection and sailed for Australia in 1875. Mr. Broadhurst, it might be mentioned, entered Parliament, and became a member of Mr. Gladstone's Ministry.

Arriving in Australia, Mr. Spencer entered into business as a builder and contractor, and erected a number of important works for the Government and private firms, including Goulburn gaol, and the Physical Laboratory at the Sydney University. He also carried out a portion of the engineering work in connection with the Sydney sewerage system. In 1907 he was selected as employers' representative in the old Arbitration Court under Judge Heydon. On the abolition of the Court, as then constituted, Judge Heydon paid the highest possible tribute to Mr. Spencer's absolute fairness and impartiality as a member of the Court.

In recent years he has been much sought after, both by industrial unions and by employers, to act on wages boards. At the time of his death he had presided over more wages boards (about 30) than any other gentleman. The success of his work in this direction is shown by the fact that in almost every case (except where he was nominated by the President) he was chosen by unanimous agreement of the parties in dispute. It would be no exaggeration to say that Mr. Spencer spent the greater part of his life as an industrial arbitrator—most of the time in an honorary capacity. Time and again he has been the means of preserving peace between masters and men. Once Mr. Spencer was approached to stand for Parliament at Ashburnham, and though he entered late into the field he polled very well, but was defeated.

In Freemasonry the deceased held high offices in the Grand Lodge, eventually filling the position of Deputy Grand Master for several years. The Grand Lodge later conferred upon him the complimentary rank of Past Grand Master in recognition of his many services to the craft.

To the general public Mr. Spencer was best known as the author of several humorous publications. His first volume "How M'Dougall Topped the Score," was exceedingly popular, and this was followed by a still greater success, "The Adventures of Mrs. M'Sweeney." Other volumes came from his prolific pen, all replete with delightful humour and pleasantry. Now and then his verses nearly approached to true poetry, "Come Back to the Bush" being a good sample of his more serious efforts. Almost his last action was to arrange for the staging of his comedy farce, "Mrs. M'Sweeney." Deceased was a man of genial, kindly nature, full of good humour and wit.

SHIPBUILDING YARDS.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

Speaking in regard to the site of the proposed State shipbuilding yards at Edgar, the Acting Minister for Public Works said to-day that he was satisfied with the progress made with the work. He intended to keep in touch with what was being done, and to expedite the work as far as he could. He was hopeful that in a few years Victoria would take the place it should occupy as a shipbuilding centre.

LIGHT HORSE MANOEUVRES.

HISTORIC CAMPAIGNS.

HOW ARMIES ARE DECIMATED.

SUNDAY IN CAMP.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.)

LIVERPOOL, Sunday.

The Battle of Carne's Hill and the minor manoeuvres which followed the great stand of the Firsts under "Fighting Charlie," formed the topic of conversation in camp to-day, and the rival commanders, who a day before had led the Blue and Red forces out of camp to do battle, and show the prowess and mettle of the historic regiments participating, fought their battles over again in the mess tents.

The Battle of Carne's Hill was not a sham fight, the day of sham fights in Australian military manoeuvres has gone by, and the imitation article is reserved for tattoos and charitable demonstrations. General Gordon, the veteran District Commandant, is not a lover of sham fights, and it is due in a large measure to his representations that the military forces in New South Wales have secured a great manoeuvring ground in the vicinity of Liverpool to operate over. The campaigns which have been fought by the Blue and Red forces have been real engagements, in which all the tactics of opposing forces have been employed, but instead of bullets and live shell being brought into play the word of the umpire has done the deed. The commander of the force which has shown inferior tactics on the field of battle has had the mortification of seeing his men decimated by word of mouth.

On Saturday morning the troops found themselves at Narellan, near Camden. They had had a heavy day on the Friday, and the bivouac on the slopes of Mount Crear that night had been undisturbed. Consequently Saturday morning found both the men and their horses much refreshed, and all were ready for the tactical scheme, which, in addition to providing further military exercise, was to bring them home to camp. The operation order issued at the bivouac was to the effect that information had been received indicating the presence of a hostile force between Oran Park and Raby, in the country this side of Camden. The general officer commanding's intentions were to drive this force north towards the Bringelly-road, and secure the Carne's Hill position. On this occasion the Second Regiment, under Major Onslow Thompson, represented the enemy.

The 1st Regiment, under Lieut.-Colonel Cox, less one squadron, was the first to advance, and the historic Lancers were instrumental in making good the country west from the junction of Cobbitty and Bringelly roads, and a point in clear country north of Raby. The 3rd Regiment, under Lieut.-Colonel Ryrie, less one squadron, followed up the 1st's success by making good the country between the same junction and the Sydney water supply canal. The enemy, as the rearguard of a large retreating force, however, played their part well. They were not expected to adopt offensive tactics, but merely to delay the advance of the 1st and 3rd Regiments. This they succeeded in doing, and in the rearguard action, which they fought all the way to Carnes Hill, they kept in touch with the regiments who were endeavouring to drive them back. The "Stand fast" was sounded when Carnes Hill was reached, and a hurried luncheon was partaken of. No scheme was set for the afternoon, and the three regiments, dusty and tired after a long morning's hard ride, returned to camp at about 3 o'clock.

In the evening the Lancers held a guest night. Amongst the visitors were Colonel Vernon, Colonel Onslow, Lieut.-Colonel Flaschi, Major Purves, and Major Brunton. After the loyal toast and the toast of "The Guests" had been honoured, Captain Woods, on behalf of the area officers attached to the regiment, presented a silver inkstand to the officers' mess. The presentation was acknowledged by Lieut.-Colonel Cox, C.B., who presided.

To-day church parade was held. Services for every denomination were conducted in the lines, and the musical portions were rendered by the Lancer and the Australian Horse bands. In the afternoon thousands of visitors from Sydney visited the camp, and gazed in interested groups at the camp kitchens, the supply tents, and the horse lines. Practically speaking, it was ladies' day, and every soldier had one or more friends, to whom he proudly pointed out the things of interest. Later on a special musical programme, to which both bands in camp contributed, was rendered.

An interesting ceremony was performed in the Lancers' lines to-day. Every year Lieut.-Colonel Cox and the men who fought with him in South Africa foregather in the mess tent, and drink one another's health in bumpers. In connection with this little ceremony it might be mentioned that the Lancers were first publicly paraded on March 3, 1885, the day the contingent left New South Wales for the Soudan, and it was on the same day of the same month in 1898 that 100 of the New South Wales Lancers left for England for training six months later embarking for service in South Africa. Amongst those present at to-day's little ceremony were Lieut.-Colonel Cox, C.B., Officer Commanding the Lancers; Captain Blow, Lieut. Vernon, Lieut. Dooley, Squadron Sergeant-Major Whitney, Sergeant Rose, Sergeant Knight, Trooper Thomas, and Trooper Harrison.

HOSPITABLE AUSTRALIA.

EDINBURGH CITIZEN'S PRAISES.

FORBES, Sunday.

Mr. John Murray, councillor of Edinburgh City, in the course of an address at the opening of the flower show on Wednesday evening, made the following remarks respecting his impressions of Australia:—"I am charmed with Australia. It is quite different to my preconceived ideas. Among the people at home I believe there still lingers, however faint, the idea that it is an inhospitable place where some people—for their country's good—used to be sent as a punishment. But many of these people (I understand they were the earliest settlers) must have been thankful to find themselves in such beautiful surroundings as Sydney Harbour, even though the natives of that day did not give the right hand of fellowship as we have it now. This is truly a country flowing with milk and honey, and, I may add, kindly old-fashioned hospitality. I have visited Perth, Adelaide, Melbourne, and Sydney, and I consider Adelaide and Melbourne models of enlightened town-planning. There is at home an association to promote a better system of town-planning, and in writing to the authorities there I have recommended them to study the plans of the city of Adelaide. As regards Sydney—well, it still bears the mark of early settlement in its winding streets, but it gave an object lesson to the two I have mentioned, from which they have profited. But if the city is not so brand new, where will you find such suburban surroundings, and such a harbour. Echo answers, where? This heritage no other city can vie with, and it can never be taken from you."

LATE POSTINGS.

CLOSING HOURS ALTERED.

The postal authorities intimate that in view of the experience gained by the department as regards late posting by a section of the public, it is becoming impossible satisfactorily to provide, in some instances, for the despatch of letters as promptly as is desirable. In view of penny postage, which is expected to intensify the position, the department states that it has become necessary in some cases to curtail the hours of posting. In making the arrangements necessary every consideration has been given to the public interests, and, it is added, that after a few months' trial the question will be subject to revision. The alterations, which will take effect from Monday, the 15th instant, are as follow:—Suburban mails now closing at G.P.O. at 1 p.m. will close at 12.45 p.m.; mails now closing at the G.P.O. at 2.30 p.m. for despatch per northern train at 4 p.m. will close at 2.15 p.m.; mails now closing at the G.P.O. at 3.45 p.m. for despatch per northern express train at 5.10 p.m. will close at 3.30 p.m.; and the special box open from 3.45 to 4.15 p.m. for places north of Werris Creek, will be withdrawn, and the regulation late fee of 1d charged on all letters posted in that box, which will be known as a late fee box, with a final closing at 4 p.m. instead of at 4.15 p.m.; mails now closing at the G.P.O. at 6.30 p.m. for despatch per southern train at 8.10 p.m. will close at 6.15 p.m., with a late fee box closing at 6.45 p.m., and will include only G.P.O. postings and suburban mails and street clearances that can be arranged to arrive at the G.P.O. not later than 6.15 p.m.

TASMANIA'S POPULATION.

HOBART, Friday.

The first rough count of the census returns gives a total of 188,535, an increase of 16,060 since 1901. The returns from one district are not yet quite complete. The Western Division shows a decrease from 22,090 to 14,902, the North-western an increase from 33,336 to 6,166, the South-eastern, including Hobart, an increase from 60,539 to 69,256, the North-eastern, including Launceston, from 47,832 to 53,107, the Midland a decrease from [illegible] to [illegible].

HOME POLITICS.

REFORMS IN HAND.

SPEECH BY MR. ASQUITH.

QUESTION OF HOME RULE.

"SEPARATION UNTHINKABLE."

LONDON, May 5.

The Premier (Mr. Asquith) has given notice that he will move a motion for the third reading of the Veto Bill on the 11th instant.

LONDON, May 7.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, speaking at Manchester, said the Government was firmly carrying out the work entrusted to it at the general election. Had the party been master of its own House, primary education would ere now have rested on a genuinely national basis, and the evils of the licensing system would have been removed or mitigated.

Referring to Mr. Lloyd-George's great insurance scheme, he hoped it would be canvassed, revised, and perfected by the jointly loyal efforts of all men and all creeds and parties.

On the subject of the veto, he said the Unionists had abandoned passive resistance to all change. The Tories had thrown the House of Lords to the wolves, and, seized with a revolutionary fervour, favoured proposals reducing the House of Commons to the level of a debating society.

No Liberal statesman, he went on to say, ruled out the possible use of the referendum as a conceivable instrument for solving an otherwise insoluble situation, but were they going to make representation merely gladiatorial, saying to the Commons, "You are mere pawns on the chessboard. Whatever you decide, it must return to us for ratification or disapproval." If so, they would no longer get the same men to represent them, and they would be destroying representative government.

He was tolerably certain that it would be possible to get the Parliament Bill through to-morrow without the least [illegible] equity of any sort if they would agree that it should not apply to Home Rule.

Mr. Asquith emphatically denied that there was any difference of opinion in the Cabinet regarding Home Rule. He declared that the land purchase scheme in Ireland and the conferring on Ireland of the benefits of old-age pensions and invalidity insurance had strengthened the material ties between the two countries, rendering separation unthinkable.

The Prime Minister concluded by stating that no Cabinet could be more steadily united on all great issues.

"NEVER AGAIN."

REFORM OF THE LORDS.

LONDON, May 6.

Lord Selborne, speaking at Barnstaple, said that Monday would see the introduction of an alternative plan for the reconstruction of the House of Lords, whereby it would never again be said that both parties were unfairly represented.

The Lords' power of veto, he added, would not be abolished, but provision would be made for a joint session in the event of differences on ordinary questions, and a referendum to settle grave differences.

MR. LLOYD-GEORGE'S BILL.

FEARLESS INITIATIVE.

LONDON, May 5.

In regard to the National Insurance Bill introduced by Mr. Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, there is strong criticism of the provision that the deficiency due to the smaller contributions of workmen when earning less than 15s weekly should be made up by the employer.

The "Pall Mall Gazette" cordially recognises Mr. Lloyd-George's fearless initiative and bold imaginative powers.

"The general advantages of the scheme," it says, "are indisputable. The bill must pinch somewhere. There is no difference between taxing food of the people and taxing wages by a deduction of £11,000,000 a year."

LONDON, May 6.

In the course of an interview, Mr. Lloyd George stated that he had been deluged with telegrams congratulating him on his insurance scheme, the young Tories being particularly favourable.

Sir Joseph Ward, he added, had written to him, expressing profound admiration of the scheme, and it was no small tribute for the scheme to receive the approbation of a colony which had taken so heroic a lead in this form of social legislation.

Typists, bank clerks, and domestic servants are included in the insurance scheme.

The mothers of illegitimate children are to receive a maternity allowance.

WHAT RAILWAY COMPANIES WILL PAY.

The Great Western, London, and North-Western, and Great Eastern railways employ 200,000 men between them, and Mr. Lloyd-George's scheme for insurance against sickness will cost them £130,000 a year.

NEW ZEALAND'S DEFENCE.

TRIBUTE IN THE "TIMES."

LONDON, May 6.

The military correspondent of the "Times," in an article dealing with New Zealand's defence organisation, pays a tribute to the quality of the military spirit underlying it.

While many years must elapse before New Zealand will possess sufficiently trained local senior officers, the writer states that Britain should not stint the supply of the best men obtainable.

Captain Burnett Hitchcock, of the Royal Fusiliers, has been selected for duty in New Zealand.

BOXING IN KANSAS CITY.

KAUFMAN DEFEATED.

KANSAS CITY, May 6.

In a stubbornly contested boxing match here, Flynn defeated Kaufman in the tenth round, the latter being severely punished.

Jim Flynn, Kaufman's conqueror, is known as the "Pueblo Fireman," and his real name is Andrew Chiariglion. He is an Americanised Italian. He was born in 1879, stands 5ft 9½in, and weighs 165lb. He is considered a very dangerous man to meet, for he has the natural instincts of a fighter. His performance in defeating Kaufman, who stands 6ft 1in, and weighs over 15st, is a splendid one.

END OF THE ARMISTICE.

NO PEACE IN MEXICO.

FIGHTING TO START AGAIN.

MEXICO CITY, May 5.

Believing that Mexico City may be besieged, foreign residents are arming for protection, and may offer their services to the Government in the crisis.

May 6.

Madero, the rebel chief, confirms the report that the armistice with the Diaz forces has ended. There is nothing definite as to the President's retirement.

It is not true that there is a likelihood of a revolt in the capital. President Diaz is understood to be willing to resign when order is restored.

Government circles affect to believe that the prospects of peace are still good.

EL PASO, May 6.

The rebels have decided to attack Juarez on Saturday and Sunday if no reply is received from President Diaz as to whether he will resign.

May 7.

The armistice between the Federals and Revolutionists has ended without terms of peace being agreed to.

Madero is preparing a vigorously offensive move. He will probably direct his first efforts towards the capture of Juarez.

The failure of the negotiations is attributed by Madero to the inexplicable ambition of Diaz, who refused the request that he should publish an announcement of his intention to resign the Presidency, Madero promising to simultaneously resign the office of Provisional President.

UNITED STATES' ATTITUDE.

WILL NOT INTERVENE.

WASHINGTON, May 7.

The prospect of a resumption of hostilities in Mexico does not affect the decision of the United States not to intervene in any circumstances. President Taft is undeviating in this decision.

AUSTRALIAN TRADE.

FOREIGN COMPETITION.

MANCHESTER BUSINESS.

LONDON, May 5.

Mr. Hamilton Wickes, British Trade Commissioner in Australia, explained at a meeting of the Manchester Importers and Exporters Association the salient features of the foreign trade competition in Australia.

Mr. Langdon, a merchant, remarked that Australia was penalising a large trade by excluding preference on British goods because the finishing process was added abroad.

Mr. Bythell stated that if cargoes for Australia were obtainable there would be no difficulty in getting the Shire liners to sail to Australia from Manchester direct.

THE CORONATION.

WATTLE AS SOUTH AFRICAN EMBLEM.

CAPETOWN, May 6.

Much comment has been caused by the selection of the wattle as the emblem of South Africa on the stole to be worn by King George at his coronation, because it is an importation from Australia.

The "Cape Times" states that the announcement has occasioned mingled amusement and chagrin.

Professor H. H. W. Pearson, curator of the South African Museum Herbarium, suggests the substitution of the protea for the wattle.

CORONATION HONOURS.

LONDON, May 6.

It has been arranged that birthday honours shall be amalgamated with those connected with the coronation.

BABIES AND GRANDMOTHERS.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE PROCESSION IN NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, May 7.

A huge women's suffrage procession paraded Fifth-avenue, babies and grandmothers being present in hundreds.

The leaders demanded votes in the name of American women.

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

LONDON, May 5.

In the House of Commons to-day an amendment was moved to reject the private bill of Sir George Kemp (Liberal) who seeks to confer the franchise upon women exclusively on the lines of a householder's qualification.

The amendment was negatived by 255 votes to 88.

The bill was read the second time.

COAL FOR ALASKA.

DUMPING IT INTO THE SEA.

VANCOUVER, May 6.

Threats are openly made at Cordova, Alaska, that when a steamer arrives with coal it will be dumped into the sea. The Mayor is telegraphing for troops to be sent.

SEWARD (Alaska), May 7.

The Copper River railroad has been strewn with boulders, with the apparent intention of preventing the transportation of Canadian coal.

There have been no further disorders at Cordova.

A cable in Saturday's issue stated that, emulating the "Boston Harbour tea party" in 1773, a mob at Cordova, Alaska, enraged at the non-settlement of the Alaskan coal lands cases by the Washington legal authorities, threw hundreds of tons of Canadian coal into the harbour, declaring that, while there were millions of tons of Alaskan coal unmined they would not allow the foreign coal to be used in Alaska. The steamship company which owned the coal imported it from British Columbia. The Mayor of Cordova, it was stated, had called for the Governor's help to suppress the mob.

THE CAMORRIST TRIAL.

SENSATIONAL INCIDENT.

ROME, May 5.

During the trial of Camorrists at Viterbo to-day a brother of De Genaro rushed at and struck Abbatemaggio, the informer, in the face.

A terrific uproar ensued, and the assailant was ejected.

THE DYNAMITING CHARGES.

LOS ANGELES, May 6.

The brothers Macnamara, arraigned on charges of dynamiting, pleaded not guilty, and the Court ordered that their pleas should be entered on June 1.

RECIPROCITY.

CONSERVATIVE LEADER'S VIEW.

"MISCHIEVOUS AND DAMNABLE."

OTTAWA, May 6.

Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative party in Canada, speaking at a banquet, characterised reciprocity with the United States as mischievous and damnable.

The Conservatives, he added, intended to never slacken their efforts to defeat the measure, and bring about closer relations with Britain.

It has been finally arranged that the Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, shall adjourn Parliament from May to July, during his absence in England at the Imperial Conference.

The Government refused a prorogation, as a new start with the reciprocity measure would be imperative then.

THE BILL IN WASHINGTON.

MR. CANNON'S BITTER ATTACK.

WASHINGTON, May 7.

The debate on the Free List Bill has ended, and a vote will probably be taken on Monday.

Mr. Joe Cannon, ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives, bitterly attacked the principle of reciprocity with Canada, alleging that the Free List Bill was merely an effort to compensate the farmers.

LOST FOR FORTY DAYS.

TERRIBLE PRIVATIONS.

CAUGHT IN A BLIZZARD.

VANCOUVER, May 6.

Advices from Nome state that three miners were lost for 40 days, as a result of a blizzard, and they went through terrible sufferings. They ate a wolf and a number of dogs.

A letter received at Edmonton tells how the mounted police patrol were lost some time ago in the Arctic regions, owing to the guide becoming bewildered. Their bodies were found in a shocking condition.

An investigation of the loss of the police patrol leads to the supposition that the men were poisoned by Indians.

A WOMAN'S LOVE.

MADNESS FOLLOWS SORROW.

LONDON, May 6.

The Russian woman Trassjonski, who was associated with the burglars who committed the Houndsditch murders in January last, and loved the man Gardstein, is now mad as a result of her experiences and sorrow.

Gardstein was a name sometimes assumed by the Russian Morountzeff, one of the burglars. He was accidentally shot at the same time that the three policemen were killed when the burglars were escaping from a jeweller's shop. At the inquest the landlady of the house where Morountzeff afterwards died, stated that the woman Trassjonski frequently visited him.

CRISIS IN TURKEY.

DICTATORSHIP THREATENED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 5.

Dissensions among the Young Turkey party have led to a Ministerial crisis.

Pasha Mohammed Shevket, Minister of War, has threatened to establish a Dictatorship unless the differences are adjusted.

It is understood that he favours a dissolution.

MELBA IN OPERA.

LONDON, May 6.

Madame Melba is in London, and opens in Puccini's opera "La Boheme" on Wednesday. She will sail for Australia on July 13.

AVIATION FATALITY.

PEKING, May 7.

M. Vallon, a Frenchman, was flying in a biplane at Shanghai to-day, when he fell from a great height, and was killed.

GRAY'S "WATERLOO" PREDICTED.

WILL INMAN BEAT HIM?

LONDON, May 5.

George Gray's match with Inman is for £50 a side.

May 6.

The "Sporting Life" states that great interest is being taken in the match, many billiardists believing that Inman's skill in safety play will result in Gray meeting his Waterloo.

[The future alone will prove the accuracy of "Sporting Life's" forecast. Against its opinion, however, may be placed the fact that Gray had up till the time the last mail had left England taken part in 29 matches, and won the whole of them. He had defeated Diggle, Harverson, Lovejoy, Cook, and Nelson, but had not met either Stevenson or Inman, the two most prominent cueists of England. Last month Inman challenged Gray to play a match for £200 a side, with crystalate balls, the winner to take 60 per cent. and the loser 40 per cent. of the gate money. As Gray is the only player in the world who has made a thousand break under the present rules, it may prove interesting to give a list of the twenty-one thousands he has compiled during the present season:—2186 unfinished, 1576, 1402, 1340, 1318, 1295, 1278, 1244, 1212, 1201, 1200, 1169, 1143, 1143, 1140, 1092, 1058, 1054, 1024, 1024, 1001. In addition he had made 114 breaks of over 400 (including sixty of over 500). Inman's record in this respect is seven breaks of over 400, including two of over 500. The "Twickenham Terror" had played 22 matches, winning 14 and losing six, so that on performances Gray should prove equal to defeating him.]

A CAIRO HORROR.

WOMAN'S BODY IN A BOX.

CAIRO, May 6.

The body of an unknown woman has been discovered in a box at Beutra, Lower Egypt, the box having been sent from Cairo.

A police officer received a note, signed with the name of a well-known swindler, detailing the contents of the box. The body had been cut up, and the limbs were packed alongside.

WELSH COAL STRIKE.

NON-UNIONISTS ASSAULTED.

LONDON, May 5.

Renewed disturbances have occurred at Rhondda.

Some of the strikers mobbed the non-unionists, and dressed them in white shirts, until the police interfered, when the crowd threw stones.

The police made baton charges, several policemen and rioters being injured.

SITUATION IN MOROCCO.

"IMMEDIATE EXPLANATION."

A SPANISH DEMAND.

TANGIER, May 6.

Despite a series of sorties, the blockade of Fez continues, and the prices of food are becoming alarming. A famine is threatened.

The arrival of Major Bremond has left the northern tribes free to besiege Fez.

The morale of Major Bremond's troops has become degraded since their arrival. The artillery ammunition is nearly exhausted, and Major Bremond exhausted his ammunition during his march.

The Sultan is in need of money to pay the troops.

MADRID, May 6.

The Madrid "Imparcial" declares that the conduct of France in Morocco has reached a stage requiring immediate explanation in order to secure peace and reassure the Powers.

The paper emphasises the German semi-official communique, showing that no apprehension now existed for the safety of Europeans at Fez. Therefore, it states, France is deprived of a pretext for continued mobilisation.

THE LATE KING.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

SALUTES IN HONOUR OF KING GEORGE.

LONDON, May 7.

THE BULLFINCH.

MANAGING DIRECTOR SPEAKS.

DENIES RICH ORE PETERED OUT.

EXPECTATIONS IN FUTURE.

SOUTHERN CROSS, Saturday.

Mr. Doolette, who is paying his first visit to the Bullfinch Proprietary since his return from England, when interviewed to-day, made the following statement:—"I am quite satisfied with the progress made in development work while I was away. Considering the difficulties Mr. Morgan had to contend with, such as the strike, etc., excellent progress was made. Now that prospecting work at the 50 and 100 feet levels of the water shaft, and in No. 3 shaft, also in the discovery shaft on lease 916, has proved the existence of large bodies of medium-grade ore, a scheme of work has been laid out for developing them. The discovery shaft is to be cut down into a two-compartment shaft, and sunk to 200 feet. As the ore bodies in the vicinity of the water shaft are all pitching rapidly west, a new two-compartment shaft is to be started 100 feet to westward of the water shaft. These three shafts will eventually be connected with the main shaft, which is centrally situated to them, and by means of crosscutting the whole of the ore channel will be systematically prospected. A promising ore body has been intersected at 100ft in lease 926, and three prospecting shafts covering the whole of the area of this lease are to be sunk at once, and the country crosscut from them. As regards the main shoot of rich ore, no further ore despatches will be made from this, as it will be conserved for sweetening the large bodies of medium grade which we are now opening up. I am particularly pleased with the appearance of the ore in the No. 3 shaft, which is practically in the centre of our leases, and which we have now crosscut for over 40ft in width, and in payable ore. In fact, from the appearance of these large ore bodies it is probable the property will carry a very large milling plant in the near future.

"I have heard expressions of opinion from some shareholders in their anxiety for immediate dividends that a plant should be erected at once, and treatment gone on with. The management do not intend to be forced by the public in this matter, as they have the example of Kalgoorlie to go upon, where plants erected to treat oxidised ore had to be entirely removed and [illegible] replaced, when the sulphide ores were reached.

"I am confident that on my return to Australia next November we shall have crosscut the lodes in the sulphide zone, and then shall be able to determine the nature of the plant required. In the main shaft, at 150 feet, we have intersected ore of over 1oz grade, and it appears to be an extension of the rich shoot. This ore is still oxidised at a depth of 160 feet (50ft below the water), and this fact gives me every confidence in the extension of our high-grade values to a depth.

"We have been very adversely criticised for not sinking below the 100ft level before we did, but anyone acquainted with the difficulty of sinking shafts in soft oxidised country will appreciate the value of such criticism. The temporary headgear and winding plant, which have now been erected, are sufficient for our present purposes, but we are now obtaining a large winding engine suitable for hauling a big tonnage and steam power, sufficient for all working operations in the main stope. We have also ordered an Ingersoll-Rand compressor, to be in readiness for the solid country when it is reached. I have heard a good deal since I returned of the numerous bear rumours which were circulated with regard to the cutting out of the rich ore. Those rumours persistently referred to the winze below the 100ft level on the shoot. I wish entirely to deny these rumours. Until two days ago, when a winze was started, not one foot of country below the 100ft level had been explored, and at this point the ore was wide and of higher grade than at any other point in the mine, with the exception of the very high-grade material cut in No. 2 shaft. I have every confidence that the sinking of the main shaft, which is being pushed on with all speed, will give the lie to our detractors. If solid ground is not met with at the 100ft level in the main shaft, crosscutting will be commenced from three, but, if not, sinking will be continued until we are able to open out with safety."

A DEBASING SPORT.

WOMEN MADE MANIACS.

HOW FOOTBALL IS PLAYED.

TRENCHANT CONDEMNATION.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

At the start of the football season, Mr. Adamson, headmaster of Wesley College, forbade Mr. S. B. Gravenall, one of his teaching staff, playing with the St. Kilda team, and a deputation of football officials, headed by Mr. Agar Wynne, M.P., recently waited on Mr. Adamson, and tried to persuade him to alter his mind. The headmaster declined to fall in with the wishes of the deputation, and as there has been considerable comment regarding his action he has issued a circular to the parents of the boys at his college.

In the circular Mr. Adamson says that last September an important conference was held at the Melbourne Grammar School, consisting of representatives appointed by the councils of the Public schools, who met to discuss questions relating to the government of sports in schools. Among the resolutions passed was the following:—"That it is not desirable for school boys to play in senior football matches." This resolution was arrived at partly on the ground that, as the game was at present played, boys were liable to injury, and that their school games provided sufficient outlet for their energy; but the general opinion expressed by members of the conference was also that, while the conduct of senior football and its surroundings were as at present, it was undesirable to expose boys to any intimate contact with it.

"I feel very strongly," said Mr. Adamson, "that to carry out the spirit of the conference's resolution it is incumbent upon all connected with Wesley College to abstain from taking any active part in senior football as at present conducted under the management of the Victorian Football Leagues or the Victorian Football Association. In the past some boarders have asked for leave to attend senior football matches regularly every Saturday afternoon, and have been allowed to. I do not propose to allow this for the future unless they are accompanied by relatives, or by friends of mature judgment. I do not think that I shall be accused of opposition to football—properly played, one of the finest of games. In justifying my position, I may say, first of all, that I hold as absolute postulates:—(1) That any game, in spite of its possible advantages, is useless, and to be avoided, unless it is regarded also as a moral training in controlling temper, in unselfishness, and in the virtues of hardihood, chivalry, and learning how to lose decently; (2) that where considerations of money and its advantages enter into the playing of a game that game can scarcely provide the moral side of play above stated. I think no worse of a man because he is a professional, or one who lives by a game, provided he does so honestly and straightforwardly, and plays the game as it should be played from the moral standpoint; but taking the history of all sports upon which the curse of large gate money has descended, I do not know of one, except cricket, which has been able to survive the disaster of wealth, and retain its utility and purity."

"Almost a worse evil to our people in general is the sapping of judgment in those who form the crowds which in thousands and tens of thousands attend senior football matches. The average attendants of such matches, many of whom would be better employed in playing some game themselves, go as blind supporters of one of two teams. All that their team does is right. All that the other team does is wrong. The judgment which should temper all enthusiasm in sport is entirely lacking. Even women—and an increasing number of these attend senior football matches—give themselves up to the excitement of the moment. I have seen ladylike, quiet-looking women, excitedly applaud acts of violence committed by players of the club they support, and heard expressions which showed blind indifference to the excellence of the opposite side. I have seen respectable-looking women transformed into raging maniacs, who struck or jabbed with umbrellas at players of the successful side, who had beaten their favourites. To quote from the Melbourne 'Herald' of Saturday evening, April 29, even at St. Kilda a quiet suburb with a team of superior personnel, it is stated—'A strong barrier for the protection of the players has been erected.' I cannot but feel that where excitement of watching games so disturbs the judgment, and even the decency of our womenkind, there is danger for the unborn generation, which all lovers of true sport, and, indeed, of our race, should combat to the best of their ability, whatever unpopularity they may incur in the process. I have not arrived at the above conclusions without careful thought and inquiry. Last year I occasionally drove to as many as three senior football grounds in an afternoon, spending perhaps a quarter of an hour or 20 minutes at each, in order to observe the demeanour of spectators, and the conduct of the players. It is largely on what I saw then, that I find myself compelled to take up the position which I have stated."

FIGHTING FOOTBALLERS.

FIERCE MELEE.

MOORE PARK TEAMS COME TO GRIPS.

A game of football at Moore Park on Saturday degenerated into a free fight. The referee was powerless to preserve order, and only the arrival of the police prevented serious injuries being done to the participators.

The Alexandria Norwoods and the Corinthians—playing in the 9st 7lb division of the junior competition—were engaged in a match outside the Sports Ground, and rough play was engaged in several times. Just as the crowds emerged from the Sports Ground the teams got out of hand, and soon a free fight was raging, over a dozen of the footballers being engaged. Feet as well as hands were brought into play, and several of the players were injured, some rather seriously. One player was carried off suffering from an injury to the groin, the result of a kick. The crowds from the Sports Ground closed in on the miniature Donnybrook, and the police arrived. After some desultory duels the melee terminated.

ASHORE AND OFF AGAIN.

COLLIER MAJORIE'S EXPERIENCE.

A telegram was received on Saturday to the effect that the Bellambi Coal Company's steam collier Marjorie, whilst entering to load at the Bellambi jetty early that morning, ran ashore on the Bellambi Reef. The sea was smooth, and the weather fine, but foggy. Early attempts to refloat the vessel were unavailing, and Captain Fraser, the pilot at Wollongong, went to the scene. The company's steamer Malachite, however, succeeded in towing her off shortly after 1 o'clock that afternoon, the tide being then in. The Marjorie, apparently uninjured, proceeded to the Bellambi Pier, and loaded coal for Sydney. She reached Port Jackson safely, but it is proposed to put the vessel into dock to-morrow for the purpose of having a special survey made.

MOTORING COLLISION

CAR SMASHED.

YOUNG LADY SERIOUSLY INJURED.

A serious motor car collision occurred last night near Narrabeen Bridge, about seven miles from Manly. Six persons sustained minor injuries, and Miss L. Rice was admitted to St. Ronan's private hospital suffering from a fractured collarbone.

Two motor cars, one containing six occupants and the driver, and the other five persons including the chauffeur, were travelling towards Manly. Just after crossing the Narrabeen Bridge they collided. The front car, owned by Mr. William Wild, of Whistler-street, Manly, and driver by his son, Leslie Laurence Wild, was hurled against a tree and overturned. The occupants—two Messrs. Sheldon, Miss Sheldon, two Misses Rice, Mr. Ball, and Mr. L. L. Wild—were thrown on to the roadway. When picked up it was seen that Miss L. Rice was badly injured. She was conveyed to the hospital in the other car, which is owned by Dalgety, Limited, and was in charge of a man named King. Mr. Wild's car was smashed almost to matchwood. The rear vehicle was not very much damaged, while its occupants were uninjured.

LABOUR MEMBERS' MASTERS.

WHAT CONFERENCE CAN DO.

ANOTHER HIT AT MR. HOLMAN.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

The Acting Prime Minister (Mr. Hughes) is withdrawing from the position he took up last week in declaring that there was no "really fundamentally important work" for the Federal Parliament to do.

On Saturday he made the following statement:—"I do not deny for one moment that a great deal of useful legislation can be carried on. I did say that legislation dealing with matters of vital importance relating to the increased powers sought could not be touched. No one can deny that. Mr. Deakin himself sought to make arrangements with the States, and suggested amendments of the Constitution. My point is that the usefulness of the Federal Parliament is very seriously restricted. Inadvertently, no doubt, another construction has been placed upon my remarks. When Mr. Holman suggested that certain matters should be referred by the State to the Commonwealth, I pointed out that he had forgotten the cardinal point of the Labour constitution—that the platform was the work of the triennial conference. It has been said that we are bound hand and foot by the decrees of that conference, giving one the impression that any conference can alter the scope of legislation to which the party is committed during the currency of any one Parliament. That is just what it cannot do. All that the conference can do is to determine the policy for future Parliaments. We are committed to the policy upon which we were elected, and in the currency of this Parliament no outside organisation can amend, restrict, or extend it in any way. My point was to remind Mr. Holman that as long as he is a member of the organisation he must be bound by it. The conference decided that the amendments of the Constitution to provide for new protection and other matters had to be made. Since the conference did no more than say, in general terms, that the amendment should be sufficient for their purpose, the interpretation must be left with the Federal Parliamentary Labour party. In these circumstances, although a person outside the organisation may object to our interpretation, I am at a loss to understand how a person inside can do so."

ARRESTED IN 'FRISCO.

ALLEGED BURGLARY.

MISSING PROPERTY RECOVERED.

AUCKLAND, Sunday.

The police have received a cable from San Francisco that a man named Rogers, alias Turner, and his wife have been arrested there on suspicion of being concerned in a burglary of Kohn's jeweller's shop in Auckland on March 20, when goods to the value of £1200 were stolen.

The cable states that the missing property was found in the possession of the prisoners, who were passengers from Auckland by R.M.S. Manuka.

WHITE MEN AS DIVERS.

PEARLING INDUSTRY.

PROPOSED TRAINING STATION.

BROOME (W.A.), Saturday.

A largely-attended meeting of the members of the Western Australian Pearlers' Association was held relative to the employment of white divers in the pearling industry.

The general feeling of pearlers present was that the attainment of the Government's wishes was practically impossible, and the enforcing of the Minister's decision would result in the ruining of pearlers through the closing of the industry to everyone but foreigners. The Commonwealth would then be powerless to prevent the exploiting of the pearlshell beds beyond the three-mile limit. The meeting adopted, with certain minor modifications, a scheme presented by a committee for the introduction and training of white men as divers and tenders covering a period of 12 months from January next under this scheme.

It is proposed to man completely with all white men five pearling luggers and a schooner, and to maintain this fleet as a training station for 12 months, teaching each man diving and tendering work. Upon each man obtaining proficiency in his work, similar employment would be found him on the fleets of private owners. The vacancies occurring in the association's fleet would be filled by additional drafts of fresh recruits. Every endeavour would be made to procure the men within the Commonwealth, and a recruiting committee would be established in London for the purpose of obtaining a suitable class of men from the United Kingdom and the northern countries of Europe.

In view of the fact that this scheme will involve a net loss of £3000 for the 12 months' operations concerned, it has not been agreed to without great consideration, and its sanction may practically be ascribed to the desire of the pearlers to use their best endeavours to meet the wishes of the Commonwealth Government, if such can be done.

THE YONGALA WRECK.

GOVERNMENT SEARCH COMMENCED.

BRISBANE, Sunday.

Negotiations for the charter by the Government of the steamer Porpoise were concluded on Saturday. The vessel left at 6.30 that day to prosecute the search for the missing Yongala. Captain Rothwell, who is representing the Government on board the vessel, received orders to use all despatch in searching the area where such researches are to be prosecuted. Captain Rothwell will search from Dent Island northward to Cape Cleveland, and from the intervening coastline to the line of reefs to the eastward, following the usual course from Dent Island northward. Nares Rock must be made the centre of a thorough search. Should the search in this vicinity prove abortive, Captain Rothwell has been instructed to continue it along the usual steamer track to the northward. Captain Mackay ordered that the reefs must be carefully examined as far north as Cape Cleveland, and the shoal water surrounding them must be made the object of special care.

Should Captain Rothwell discover any trace of the wreck, he has been instructed to report to the Marine Department as early as possible by wire, and should the wreck be located he must see the locality securely buoyed.

TOWNSVILLE, Saturday.

The launch Magnet returned to-day after an unsuccessful search for the steamer Yongala, extending from Nares Rock to Keeper Reef, near Palms. No wreckage was found on the reef, and no sign of bird life. The party intend resuming the search in a few days.

THE RATTLE OF THE BOXES.

FOR THE HOSPITALS.

LAST YEAR'S COLLECTIONS ECLIPSED.

A GREAT FIELD DAY.

Emptying £5378 4s 2d on the counters of the bank from their boxes with the red cross on them, the ladies engaged on the good work of Hospital Saturday collecting in the streets beat their total of last year by £234 2s 6d; while what is known as the indoor gatherings were ahead by £196 13s 4d.

The total for the day was £7239 13s. Last year's Hospital Saturday yielded £6808 17s 2d. On Saturday, therefore, Sydney's hand went into its pocket to the extent of £430 15s 10d more.

There are yet many other contributions to be added. The movement is not of the day merely. Its work goes on through the year. To the total of £7239 13s has to be put £991 in hand, making it £8230 13s. The financial year closes at the end of the month. By that time it is expected that enough will have been received to exceed the grand total of 1910—£8491 4s 6d.

The concert at the Town Hall to-night has for one thing to be reckoned with. Should the hall be filled at the tariff fixed, viz., 1s per head, it will mean a substantial sum of about £150 that will be handed over to the fund. Then the industrial collections are not yet completed.

And there is the prospect that before the accounts are closed some of Sydney's well-to-do citizens will emulate the example of those in England, where substantial cheques are forwarded when it is known that the total is not up to what it might be. It is thus that the executive is led to hope that the desire to have a record of £10,000 will be achieved.

There were several factors about the day this year that contributed to the committee's expectations not being realised. One, as the chairman pointed out, was that for the first time in its history the movement has been met with the city in the semi-deserted condition that a half-holiday makes it. The Saturday Half-holiday Act is in this one respect something of an unfortunate circumstance. Then again, the public had only a short time previously given the handsome sum of £6003 to one hospital through the medium of the All Nations' Fair. The generosity of the citizens was consequently being drawn upon to an untoward extent at one period of the year, and taking all things into account, the result of Saturday's subscriptions was, as the chairman put it, highly gratifying.

THE RATTLE OF THE BOXES.

The movement is a great and a growing one. Five thousand six hundred boxes, many of them used more than once; 3800 collectors. Sydney streets echoed with the rattle. The young ladies seem to take a peculiar zest in the work. Are they inspired with the enthusiasm of the work of charity? Or is it the excitement of something so out of the ordinary routine? Perhaps it is the fire of competition. Whatever it may be, they worked with a will. But it was slow at times. The shut up shops gave a dull effect, and the people were not about as they used to be. The morning, though, was bright and gay. The town was a-hum with the buzz and bustle of a Saturday forenoon, people coming to business, people hurrying away for the afternoon—to the races, the boat race, golf, football, tennis, picnicking—and the poor collectors left with the bare streets to themselves. "Yes," they said, when the populace began to flock back again from the afternoon of pleasure-seeking, "it's been slow, very slow," and they began to feel that they were not to have the gratification of breaking the record once more.

Still there was the barometer at the bank. "How's it going?" was the hourly question a little more anxiously than of old. The indications were all right. The figures posted up in the morning at 11 o'clock and at 1 o'clock were well ahead. At 4 o'clock it looked like a setback. It had been about £300 of an increase. Now the totals were very near—"1910, 4 p.m., £2649 14s 4d; 1911, 4 p.m., £2634 13s 10d." This was the slackest hour of the day. Then the trams commenced to come in filled with people from the suburbs and the sports grounds. The boxes began to rattle again. A brief respite for a meal, and the theatre-goers and the Saturday night crowd game along. The 8 o'clock figures went up—£4662 18s 2d, against £4013 17s 6d for 1910. Thereafter it kept well ahead.

STRENUOUS WORKERS.

Some of the ladies were at work the previous evening. Not in the streets, but about various establishments. The real thing, however, commenced at an early hour on Saturday morning. Your collector, with the strength of the best of argument at the back of her little box—"For the Hospitals"—is abroad early; and some of the toilers who don't wait for the sun to shine upon their breakfast tables were met at the ferries and trains. They encountered smiling faces and vigorous unworn spirits that would not be denied. It was all fair and above board. The demand was for no personal benefit. It was to the workers going to the waterfront or to the factories just the same as to the clerk or the Civil servant making his way to office simply that it was their own commonweal that was bringing these willing helpers out in the streets—for no man could say when he might not wake and find himself inside one of the wards of the hospitals he was asked to give his coin to. He was not asked every day. He doesn't think of it during the rest of the year. So now when he hears "A penny for the hospitals, please," he recognises the justice of it, and pays.

THE STANDS.

The army of this movement is well organised. Its workers are in sections, each with a divisional base. In place of the stands the sections this year were simply numbers on cards. Many of the ladies, however, went to the trouble of providing their own stands as an attraction, and there were some which arrested attention very effectively. In the city an attraction was the one at which were stationed the ladies of the Criterion Theatre. It was opposite the G.P.O. in Pitt-street. "The Woman in the Case" was represented by Miss Mabel Trevor, Miss Elinor Foster, and the others of the company, who sold flowers and autograph cards, and otherwise secured the coin of the passer-by. Up near Harris-street, in George-street, a stand was worked by Miss Buckley, Miss Nellie Ferguson, and the ladies who are playing "The Bad Girl of the Family" at the Adelphi Theatre. A specialty here was a goat in harness, with the red cross box in a cart, into which many coppers poured. At Newtown a great deal of trouble was gone to by Mrs. E. C. Clegg, who, with her helpers, had decorated very effectively a stand with streamers and flags. In the centre of it was the figure of a child in a swing, with the ever-open box in front of her. At the side stood a nurse. A fresh-complexioned one she was, so fresh, indeed, that she caught the eye, and likewise the coins that went frequently into the box in her hand. It was when she didn't give the customary "Thank you" that many donors discovered that she was made of wax.

INCIDENTS OF THE DAY.

Real nurses were among the collectors in plenty. A diminutive young lady in the "harem skirt" lent her aid near the Hotel Australia. In another part of the city was to be seen a miniature nurse. An old identity was missing in Castlereagh-street—a noble St. Bernard that used to patrol the block and get his box filled many times. He has unfortunately been poisoned, and his help has been lost. Another of the species was formerly to be seen on the Milson's Point wharf at Circular Quay, but he, too, was missing. There was one at the Watson's Bay ferry wharf, however, doing good business.

Dog collectors are not easily pressed into service. Out at Randwick there was one. He was new to the game; and he apparently didn't think much of it. Forgetting his responsibilities, he attacked another animal that didn't know how to appreciate Hospital Saturday work, and in the tussle the box was broken and the money scattered.

An amusing incident occurred in George-street in the afternoon. Two blue-jackets waylaid two of the young lady collectors, and taking their boxes from them stationed themselves outside a hairdresser's shop in which were a number of customers. As the latter came out the tars practically blocked their egress until they had paid toll into the boxes. All managed to get through by contributing, when the boxes were returned with smiling good wishes to their rightful custodians.

Cardinal Moran had a narrow escape from two collectors when he walked off the Manly boat which arrived in Sydney shortly before 11 o'clock. The tall figure of the prelate was easily observable in the crowd, and the two young ladies trod closely on his heels, one nudging the other to induce her to dodge in front of His Eminence. Both lacked the courage necessary to waylay the head of the Roman Catholic Church. The Cardinal was not so fortunate later on, however.

Some of the ladies are born collectors.

Others have seemingly some diffidence. One of the former was held to have put up a record of her own. When the male citizens came along in battalions many escape. This keen spirit, box in hand, took in with her eye five pairs of good marks all coming towards her. She promptly sized up the situation. To parley with one pair was to let the others escape. There was a spare box on a stand. She grasped it, and met the advancing company with the cool, calm, determined mien of one familiar with generalship. The right-hand box met the first pair, and the word was passed. The left-hand box was put under the nose of the second couple just as the coins were going into the other. Then as the left was about finished engaging pair number two the right shot across the path of number three. It was calculated to a nicety, and drew the coin each time.

But it is not all fun collecting. Standing in front of the Bank of New South Wales, a lady had an experience which left her undecided whether to laugh or cry. It was the man-who-didn't-appreciate-Hospital-Saturday. In accents not Australian he said loftily: "My friends give me credit for being very satirical. If I were to let my satire go on you, neither you nor any other woman would ever put a box in front of me again."

Boy Scouts rendered their usual assistance in carrying messages and other duties. The town was thoroughly worked, and the suburbs were invaded in increasing strength by the collectors. Theatres and other places of amusement were all canvassed. At a boxing display at the Stadium a call was made, and the coin was showered into the ring. The tramguards were said to have come out without any half-pennies for the day, so that there would be as few in circulation as possible. Nevertheless there were a quarter of a million of them paid into the bank, together with over 400,000 pennies.

A NURSE'S MISHAP.

A nurse from the Women's Hospital in Crown-street had an unfortunate accident. In her enthusiasm she had boarded a tram, and in alighting was thrown to the ground. She received injuries to the back of her head, and had to be removed to the hospital. It was ascertained by the executive yesterday, however, that she was progressing well, not having received serious hurt.

BANDS STOPPED PLAYING.

The executive believe that a considerable amount has been lost owing to the bands not being allowed to play in Martin-place. They were stopped by the police. The Town Clerk was written to on April 21 asking for permission to play at certain places, including Martin-place. He replied that there was no objection, but that the Inspector-General of Police should be communicated with. The Inspector-General had already been written to. On March 17 he wrote, giving his consent to the Police Band playing in Martin-place between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Just as the band was about to start an inspector came on the scene, and said that, as the City Council had recently prosecuted political speakers in Martin-place, the Inspector-General could not allow the bands to play. This was a notification to the band of the police force itself. The men consequently moved up to the enclosure around the Town Hall and played there. "That's really part of our organisation," said the chairman of the executive, referring to the music. "The Tramway Band came in in the evening to play. They had gone to the trouble of getting some of their men off, and they were greatly disappointed." There were numerous bands performing in the parks and in the suburbs.

TO-NIGHT'S CONCERT.

A fine array of talent, voluntarily contributed, has been secured by Mr. H. N. Southwell for the concert at the Town Hall to-night. Piano, violin, 'cello, and organ solos will be rendered by well-known artists.

"HIGHLY SATISFACTORY."

CHAIRMAN'S OPINION.

"The result is highly satisfactory, considering the various circumstances surrounding the event this year as compared with last," said the chairman of the executive, Mr. D. S. K. Miller.

"It was the first time that a Saturday half-holiday had been in existence, and it was doubtful how it would affect the collection. It did affect it to some extent, but what was lost was gained by the more complete organisation in city and suburbs, and the effect of a very fine day upon both collectors and public.

"This year the energies of a great many of the workers of the fund have been made use of in connection with the All Nations' Fair just over. They were busily engaged in that, many of them, and could not give their whole attention to the collection. The great majority of the ladies who assist our Hospital Saturday work engage in other charities as well. You can't just go out with your box on Saturday and gather money in. It's a matter of getting the staffs of young lady helpers together beforehand. A function like that, that took over £6000, must have materially affected the giving capacity of the general public.

"The Hospital Saturday collection has now become a recognised institution, and it is practically the only opportunity the working classes have of contributing to the funds of the whole of the hospitals. Again, yesterday the reports from the collectors further verified the fact that the working classes gave liberally, according to their means.

"The day is becoming more popular yearly, and this year, in addition to the regular lady collectors, we had the assistance of the ladies from the Criterion and Adelphi Theatres. The former in Pitt-street affected somewhat the takings of the adjoining sections at the Australia Hotel and Rowe-street. The handsome result, £50 6s 10d, however, is very gratifying. The other was at the corner of George-street West and Regent-street. They took considerably more than the same stand last year, viz., £16 12s 11d. There were very many nicely decorated stands in the city and suburbs.

"The efforts of the executive are being directed to the extension of the collection in parts not already reached. We can improve some of our present channels. We are continually on the lookout for ideas and suggestions for more complete organisation, and we wish to emphasise it that the industrial collections should be the backbone of the fund. During the year we have had the assistance of a lady organiser in this respect, and there has been a marked increase in this direction. Some firms who have dropped out and others whom we hadn't been able to secure have now joined in the movement.

"The total collected by the fund since its inauguration with the amount now in hand exceeds £90,000, and although we won't reach the £10,000 this year, I have every reason to hope that we will do so in the very near future."

SYDNEY POST OFFICE.

ALLEGED OVERWORKED STAFF.

THE OFFICIAL REPLY.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

The Postmaster-General (Mr. Thomas) on Saturday received a report from the Deputy-Postmaster of New South Wales (Mr. Young) dealing with the complaints of overwork at the G.P.O., Sydney.

The report reads: "With regard to representations in the press, the statement that matters have been in a state of confusion in the ship room on mail day, is absolutely incorrect, as every article posted in time was despatched, notwithstanding that the day of despatch was Wednesday, as against Tuesday in the previous week. With respect to the delivery-room, owing to increase of letters and other articles, it has been necessary since May 1 to keep the staff that usually got away at 8.45 a.m. till about 10 a.m., and owing to accumulation of redirection notifications, it was necessary to keep the staff usually closing at 5 p.m. till 8.30 p.m. for one night only. Officers who were required to work these extra hours were allowed breaks for breakfast, lunch, and tea. In no instance did the broken periods of attendance extend over 14 hours. The chief reason for the men having to be kept in the delivery-room till 10 a.m. is owing to the increase of matter overnight, which cannot be dealt with by the present night staff, but this staff is to be augmented from to-night (Friday). This will obviate late attendances until 10 a.m. and the redirection notifications having been brought up to date, the staff will not be required to work more than ordinary times. The pressure on the midnight staff referred to, and the increased mails received early in the morning, caused the completion of sorting to be delayed until 10 o'clock, and therefore accounts for the delay in the delivery complained of. It has been frequently shown that continuous shifts, as proposed by the sorters, cannot be arranged without leaving a number of them practically unemployed during portions of the day; but the arrangements proposed by the supervisory officers are such that sorters will be kept occupied during the whole of their time on duty, and with the additional staff applied for, this will obviate broken shifts."

UNDERGRADUATES FESTIVAL.

Although Commemoration Day, hitherto observed on the first Saturday in May, has been abandoned by the senate of the University, the students are determined that this year shall not pass without a gathering of some kind. Their efforts to induce the authorities to grant them permission to hold a procession and to march through the city streets have proved unsuccessful, and a good deal of disappointment has in consequence been expressed.

"The idea of the procession has now been practically dropped," said Mr. Utz, president of the Undergraduates' Association, last evening, "but next Saturday evening the students are to hold a function of their own in the Town Hall, when the Four Junior Blues will be presented, and musical and other items are to be given. Speeches by public men are also being arranged for."

CONTROL OF ROWING.

THE AMATEUR STATUS.

SHOULD CREWS BE ENTERTAINED?

A conference of the Rowing Associations of Australia was held at the Sports Club on Friday. Mr. A. E. Nash was elected president, and the following delegates attended:—New South Wales, Messrs. A. E. Nash, V. Horniman, and D. G. Bathgate; Victoria, Messrs. G. E. Upward, E. Reany, and G. J. Stevenson; Tasmania, Messrs. T. S. Nettlefold, H. J. M'Connan, J. E. Heritage; South Australia, Messrs. W. G. Auld, J. Kitson, and J. J. Sharp; Queensland, Messrs. Geo. Waugh, A. Swenson, Henry Brooks; Western Australia, W. G. Hastings, Emanuel and J. Moss.

Mr. Geo. Waugh (Q.) moved,—"That the custom now in vogue of entertaining interstate crews and visitors having become a severe strain on the finances of the associations, it is desirable that this conference consider the advisability of curtailing or abandoning the same."

Reference was made to the fact that a number of camp followers often followed the crews to the various States, and their entertainment caused undue expense to the various associations. But delegates held that everything should be done to entertain the interstate crews. It was felt that it should be left entirely to the States visited to dispense whatever hospitality was necessary. Uniformity in entertainment was suggested by some delegates. The motion was eventually decided in the affirmative, the Western Australian delegates dissenting.

Mr. Nettlefold (Tas.) moved,—"That any man who has infringed the interstate amateur definition, as laid down at interstate conference in 1896, may be reinstated by any recognised Rowing Associations for future interstate contests, provided that he has not infringed the interstate definition for a period of three years previous to his application for reinstatement, this regulation only to apply to those who may apply for reinstatement up to December 31, 1911; after that date no reinstatement to be allowed."

The mover pointed out that at present the rule regarding amateurism pressed hardly at times. In Hobart a youth named Whiteside rowed in a professional event several years ago, and for that should not be barred entirely from competing in the amateur events.

Mr. Auld (S.A.) said that in Adelaide they were very strong on the question of amateurism. He trusted that all the delegates in favour of amateur sport would vote against the motion. They should not encourage professionalism. If Whiteside rowed for money they should not whitewash him.

Mr. Sharp (S.A.) urged delegates to keep the sport clean, and not admit "whitewashed" men.

Mr. Heritage (Tas.) said that at the last conference it was decided that reinstatements could take place, and prevent hardship to young men who have inadvertently played for money, and were thus debarred by some trivial mistake from gaining the highest honour open to oarsmen.

Mr. Waugh (Q.) said it was impossible to pass a resolution like the present to meet a particular case. It was better to keep the amateur status inviolate than legislate for a special case. Queensland never reinstated men. There was a danger when once a man tasted professionalism he would lapse again.

Mr. Hastings (W.A.) said it was not enough for them to be good sports. They should also be clean sports. There was a principle at stake.

Mr. Kenny (Vic.) said that Victoria was against reinstating professionals.

Mr. Horniman said that they were dealing with the sport of sports from an amateur standpoint. There was a high code of amateurism set for this race, and they played for the honour rather than for what they got out of the game. In New South Wales, under the Amateur Sporting Federation, a professional in one sport was a professional in all.

Mr. Upward said that last year in Tasmania the delegates from New South Wales and Victoria did vote for reinstating men, and he felt it unfair entirely to bar youngsters who inadvertently erred. But he would do nothing that would be likely to destroy or mar the best interests of the race. So he would vote against the motion.

Mr. Nettlefold was surprised at the volte-face on the part of the New South Wales, Queensland, and Victorian delegates since the last conference.

The motion was lost by 14 votes to 3, Tasmanian delegates alone voting for it.

DOMESTIC SERVANTS.

HOW LONG, HOW LONG MUST WE SUFFER?

THINGS ARE DESPERATE.

Who's going to get up and make breakfast in the morning? Cold, shivery morning. Ma's in a bad way, still in bed, the twins allow her no rest or peace.

Dad and the boys raise Cain if breakfast be not ready at 8 o'clock.

Mabel says she won't work in the city all day, and also act slavey at home.

Kate has a bad cough, and goes about with her hands on her chest.

Dad makes the beds at night time, and helps to wash up. The boys are courting, and out of the way. Why don't we advertise for servants? Just you try. If you offer 25s per week and holidays they say "Keep it."

In addition, if you offer them the sweetest kindness, the result is worse. In other words, you cannot get them for love or money.

There is an appalling and absolute dearth of female domestic servants in New South Wales, and also in the other States.

Highly-educated and in many cases delicate ladies, mothers, and daughters are compelled to enter the kitchen and do all the cooking, in addition to household work and worry. Among the moderately well-to-do families, and even with the affluent, things have reached a stage without a doubt, bitter in the extreme.

YOU CANNOT GET GIRLS.

Home life is no longer bright and cheerful. This state of affairs has been in existence for years. The lives of many ladies are simply that of slavery instead of pleasure.

Will Mr. Holman add another laurel to those he now worthily wears, and at once immediately and without a moment's delay cable to the Agent-General in England to ship 2000 young girls, the Government paying every expense? This would be a master stroke, and the greatest boon to distracted mothers of families. Australia wants BATTALIONS OF GIRLS fresh from other lands.

There is one consolation, that for those ladies whose nerves are out of order through worry and trouble, they have a remedy when taking eight drops of "FISHER'S PHOSPHERINE," a most wonderful NERVE TONIC, remarkable aid to INDIGESTION, and Cure for HEADACHE, NEURALGIA, and BACKACHE.

All Chemists, 1s per bottle, four times the quantity, 2s 6d.

Be sure and get "FISHER'S." Take nothing else.—Advt.

LABOUR TROUBLES.

PELAW-MAIN.

SITTING OF BOARD DELAYED.

NEWCASTLE, Saturday.

The arbitration board appointed to deal with the matter of working tops in the Pelaw-Main colliery, and of which Judge Scholes is chairman, was to have commenced its sittings on Friday. This, however, was rendered impossible owing to the fresh difficulty which has arisen over the matter of filling two skips at a time. The proprietors agreed to the appointment of the board, on condition that the men returned to work under the conditions which prevailed before the trouble arose. The men agreed to this, but in the interim the two skips trouble cropped up. The men are willing to return to work while the question of working tops is being considered, providing they have not to fill two skips at a time. They are, however, between two fires, as if they carry out their agreement to work under the old conditions they will be admitting the reasonableness of the manager's demand that they shall fill two skips at a time. The proprietors object to the board sitting until the men have resumed work under the conditions prevailing before the tops trouble.

KURRI KURRI, Saturday.

The Pelaw-Main miners, contrary to expectations, rejected the suggestion from a conference between the officials and the management to return to work on the old conditions. The vote was taken openly, and the more dominant men overawed the others. Consequently not half the men voted.

It is rather remarkable that some time ago the lodge fined a miner for filling two skips at once, and on appeal to the federation the fine was refunded.

HARVESTER STRIKE.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

A conference of representatives of the Federal and State Parliamentary Labour parties and the executive of the Agricultural Implement Employees' Union is to be held, to consider the position arising out of the harvester strike. Either the strike will be ended or support to the strikers will be extended.

NORFOLK ISLAND.

NORFOLK ISLAND, Sunday.

The steamer Makambo arrived from Sydney at daylight this morning after a record trip. She called at Lord Howe Island. Captain Elliot, Chief Magistrate, and Mrs. Elliot were on board. She sailed for Vila at 3 p.m.

MOTOR BOAT CLUB OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

The annual ocean race for the Standard Cup was the attraction in motor boat circles on Saturday last. The course was from Rose Bay to Broken Bay and back, about 32 miles. The officials of the Motor Boat Club of New South Wales sent the competitors away to time. The weather conditions left little to be desired. There were only four starters, and they all finished, but as one condition of the competition is that while competitors must state their boats' speed when entering, if they exceed that speed limit by more than 5 per cent. they are disqualified. The official result of the race will not be available until the next meeting of the committee. The following are the figures supplied by the starter:—

Boat.	Owner.	Starting time.	Finishing time.
Betty ...	Mr. C. H. King	7 a.m.	1.30 p.m.
Rooganah	Mr. A. Taylor	8.35 a.m.	2.13.40 p.m.
Billiken .	Messrs. Edgecliffe and Markell	9.36 a.m.	2.15.30 p.m.
Helene ...	Dr. Forster	8.15 a.m.	2.20.37 p.m.

It was a good trip. Betty had a slight westerly wind early in the race, but it changed to a north-easter, and this was of assistance to the boats on the home run. Billiken made the first 26 miles in about 2h 13m, and finished up home trip some minutes better. Betty was running well, and was first away and first home. Helene and Rooganah have run better, and the latter for some reason stopped for a few minutes about 200 yards from the finishing mark, and came in very slowly. There was a good muster at the club-house, and most of the boats in the bay went up river after the last competitor ran in to witness the interstate eight-oar race. The winner of the race will hold the Standard cup for one year. It must be won three times by the one owner before it becomes his property. The previous winners were:—1907, Mr. C. H. Relph (Invincible); 1908, Dr. F. R. Forster (Pennay); 1909, Mr. C. H. King (Betty); 1910, Dr. F. R. Forster (Narwonah).

ACROSS AUSTRALIA.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

According to arrangements, F. White, who is cycling from Fremantle to Sydney, left Melbourne on Saturday morning, and was so unfortunate as to strike a terrific wind from the north as he quitted the metropolitan area. He got no further than Somerton, 13½ miles, for breakfast, that distance taking him one an a half hour to traverse. Kilmore (37 miles) was reached before 1 o'clock, where a halt of one and a half hour for lunch and rest was made. The progress through Bradford and Tallarook was rendered easier owing to a slight shift in the wind, and the bearing of the road more easterly.

BURWOOD CLUB.

The following handicaps have been declared for the above club's 10-mile road race, to be run to-day over the Burwood-Bankstown course:—W. Atkinson, scr; J. Andrews, A. Moir, A. Murdock, L. Pidgeon, 1m; F. West, 1m 45s; H. Groves, 1m 50s; E. Loundes, E. Dobson, 2m 15s; E. Hewitt, G. Richards, B. Walsh, 2m 35s; W. Parker, W. Hughes, R. Curry, W. Newcombe, 2m 45s; J. Keene, 3m 15s.

CLUB NOTES.

The Lily Club's road race for last Saturday was postponed, owing to the bad state of the road on the Bunnerong course.

The bicycle championship of the New South Wales tramway service is to be decided on the Sydney Sports Ground on July 11. The distance is five miles.

The hon. secretary of the New South Wales Cyclists' Union reports that a first-class list of entries was received at the Sydney Sports Club on Saturday night for the first open road race of the season, the heats of which are to be run over the Homebush course on May 20. Entries sent in this morning will be accepted.

On next Wednesday night the council of the New South Wales Cyclists' Union will meet at the Sports Club.

The Zealandia Club has issued a run card, showing fixtures up to the end of August, which shows a good number of full-day runs.

A list of fixtures up to the end of December is sent in by the Summer Hill Club.

Entries are due next Saturday, May 13, for the 20 miles open road race, Parramatta to Windsor, organised by Ashfield League Club. W. Hansen, hon. secretary, states that the prize list is worth £15 cash.

The run of the Dulwich Hill Club shows that members will be well catered for up to the end of August. At a meeting of club members last week the hon. secretary, J. C. Paris, was made the recipient of a presentation by the members.

In an obituary notice of the late Mr. John Ferguson, of Parramatta, our correspondent stated that the deceased left a widow and a grown-up family. This was an error, as Mr. Ferguson's wife predeceased him by eight months.

During the month of April, 29,160 persons visited the Art Gallery, being an average of 1005 per day. The gallery was closed on Good Friday.

SHIPPING PARALYSED.

THE NORTHERN BARS.

LISMORE, Saturday.

The shipping block is arousing indignation throughout the district. The bar has not been negotiable since Saturday last. There are now seven vessels held up inside and two out. The barbound vessels have heavy cargoes of produce, especially butter. One boat has about 60 head of fat stock. During the past two months the shipping has had four blocks, ranging from five to ten days. There is only seven feet at low water. Stocks of many necessaries are very low, as it is ten days since the last Sydney boat left. The local feeling is that the works entrance should be recommenced and the dredging carried out at once.

RUN OVER BY A LORRY.

NEWCASTLE, Saturday.

Clarence Wright, 7 years of age, and his sister, aged 10 years, were returning to school at about 1.30 p.m. on Friday, when a lorry containing about four tons of chaff was being driven along. The boy attempted to run alongside the lorry, but slipped and fell under the vehicle. One of the wheels passed across his neck, almost severing the little fellow's head from his body. Deceased's sister was only a few yards behind him when the accident occurred. The child's parents reside in Charlestown.

The Most Refreshing

Drink is a Cup of pure Tea—the best Cup of pure Tea you can get is a Cup of "Robur" Tea.

Try the "No. 1" Grade. You will find it refreshing, nice, good, and wholesome, and you will find it saves money, too, for you can put a smaller quantity of "Robur" leaf into your teapot, and still make as good a cup of Tea as any Ceylon or ordinary blended Tea sold at same price.

BOXING.

PICATO OUTPOINTS DOUGLAS.

A pluckier showing than that put up by Arthur Douglas in his contest with Frank Picato at the Stadium on Saturday night is hard to conceive. In the early stages of the contest it looked a foregone conclusion for Picato to win quickly, but Douglas never flinched, and by wonderful grit managed to stay the full term, only to lose the decision on points.

The men were weighed at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Douglas 9st 5lb, and Picato 9st 10lb. Both were in first rate condition.

Douglas fought well, but seems to have lost the dash that characterised his early contests in Australia. Picato is a typical American boxer, and his methods is at times reminiscent of Clabby. On several occasions he had Douglas at his mercy, but bad timing and wild swinging allowed the South African to recover and the opportunity to pass. He hit dangerously low on more than one occasion, and whenever opportunity offered made somewhat questionable play with his elbows. The most noticeable feature about the visitor is his impassive demeanour. By no look or motion does he permit his opponent so much as to have an inkling of what is passing in his mind. This peculiar passivity seems to be a characteristic of the modern American boxer.

The contest was waged at a good smart clip from beginning to end. Early in the proceedings Picato established a slight lead, which he kept till the end, his missing being more than counteracted by Douglas' hanging-on tactics towards the latter part of the bout. At the conclusion of the final round the referee (Mr. Snowy Baker) pointed to Picato as the winner.

THE EQUITABLE PERMANENT.

The report of the Equitable Permanent Benefit Building, Land, and Savings Institution for the 12 months ended March 31 states that the period of prosperity that the State is experiencing is reflected not only in the remarkable increase in the number of applications received for advances, but also in the abundance of fixed deposit money offering for investment. The gross receipts for the year amounted to £189,432, the advances during the year absorbed £89,642, and the sum standing to the credit of depositors' accounts increased to £173,772. The profits for the year, including last year's balance of £7020, amounted to £18,856, from which was paid the regular dividend of 9 per cent. to the shareholders, leaving a balance of £12,518 to carry forward towards the next triennial division of surplus profits. The reserve and contingent funds, together with the amount of undivided profits, now amount to £49,617. The following comparisons may be made:—

WALPOLE ISLAND PHOSPHATES CO., LTD.

Mr. Fred. W. Steel writes, regarding the Walpole Island Phosphates Co., Ltd.:—

Sir,—Having read in the "S. M. H." recently some paragraphs relative to above, and also Mr. A. E. Stephen's timely bit of warning in to-day's issue, I would like to add a word in corroboration of the latter.

I was engaged for a number of years in the "artificial" manure industry, have also been on certain phosphate islands, and have, in the course of my work as an analyst, examined a great many samples of phosphates from most of the deposits both on the mainland of Australia and islands in the Pacific and Indian oceans. I feel, therefore, qualified to speak on this subject both from the chemical and the commercial aspect. I have before me an analysis, made a few years ago, of an accredited sample obtained in the course of business from the agents of the alluvial deposit on Walpole Island. The phosphoric acid present in this sample is all in the form of phosphate of iron and alumina, and is therefore practically valueless for artificial manure manufacture or any other purpose.

If the proposed company is to be floated on the strength of material of this description I fear that a grave mistake is being made, and would strongly advise reconsideration of the matter by the promoters. If, on the contrary, however, there does exist on this island a high grade phosphate of lime the promoters will doubtless be able to produce properly accredited analyses thereof and thus substantiate their claims for flotation.

From my knowledge of the cost of plant, etc. for winning phosphates, I quite agree with Mr. Stephen in his criticism of the (apparently) inadequate amount of capital left, after promoters' claims have been satisfied; but I cannot see that the amount of phosphate, even assuming it to be phosphate of lime of the grade mentioned in the prospectus on the island would justify a greater outlay.

When one considers that there are four islands near Australia holding many millions of tons of very high grade phosphate of lime, and that the product of these islands is shipped to all parts of the world cheaply and expeditiously, it is obvious that the low grade and inferior quality is unable to compete with phosphate has to contend at all. Beyond my criticism I would add that the facts as stated by Mr. Stephens and myself can be easily verified to anyone who cares to give the matter a very small amount of consideration and inquiry.

Mr. Alfred E. Stephen writes:—

When I wrote my letter criticising the prospectus of the above company, which appeared in last Friday's issue of the "S. M. Herald," I merely wished to point out weaknesses which would at once strike any person acquainted with the working of the trade. It is pleasing to find my statements taken up, as they know that one of the directors is mentioned here is not acquainted with the subject, and that most of the objections I pointed out were substantiated by a representative of the board and honestly dealing in guano. Naturally, they were not acquainted with the trade are more conversant with its drawbacks than those who have not had the experience.

I do not hope to mislead the many of such men, and if they are prepared to accept such advice, it can only be hoped that they will not regret it, but the great public may be more cautious. In the second letter the writer states that it is a little sarcastic, carefully refrains from any mention of the financial aspect of the case, a part of the prospectus which any business man can easily grasp. He prefers to recapitulate and enlarge upon the report in the prospectus. This report is by one of the most interested parties in the venture, no matter how conscientiously written it may be.

I am not desirous of entering into a long controversy on the subject, but being a trained analytical chemist myself, and one who has been closely associated with the fertiliser and guano trade since 1899, and also having travelled over the greater part of the Pacific in search of phosphates, both whilst in the employment of the Pacific Phosphate Company (who own Ocean and other islands), and subsequently for private syndicates, I feel quite competent to substantiate any statements I make. I am at present in no way connected with any phosphate firm, and so can express my opinions with no bias, and discuss the question simply on its merits.

With regard to the iron and alumina, all I wish to say is that the promoters have only seen analyses which contain from 6 per cent. to 1.97 per cent., then they do not know as much about the quality of the guano as I do.

With respect to the market for their commodity, I would refer interested persons to page 415 of the official "Commonwealth Year-book," 1901-1909. There the imports of guano and phosphate rock are stated, and their value assigned. From this it will be seen that both substances are valued at under £3 per ton.

The writer of the prospectus neglected to insert the following phrase, which also appears on same page, viz.:—"Guano is imported chiefly from Ocean Island, and in lesser quantities from Malden and Surprise Islands. Ocean Island is also the principal contributor of rock phosphate."

Now, I can confidently assert that of the 97,716 tons of guano and rock phosphate imported in 1908 fully 95,000 came from Ocean Island. Christmas Island sends some rock phosphate, so there can be very little indeed from Malden and Surprise Islands, probably not more than a few hundred tons. Certainly Mr. Cousins would know how much from Surprise Island, and he surely would have stated the amount if of any quantity. Furthermore, although Ocean Island guano may be quoted in a firm's catalogue, I don't believe 100 tons are sold to the farmers for direct use throughout Australia. Ocean Island guano or rock phosphate is almost exclusively used for manufacturing superphosphates. I have been informed that the plant on Ocean Island has cost upwards of £250,000, a fact which is interesting when £14,000 alone is available to equip Walpole Island.

I don't think it is necessary for me to write more, as I stated at the outset I merely wished to point out one or two defects, and this I've done. The would-be investors must judge for themselves.

A CORPORATION TAX.

The decision handed down by the Supreme Court at Washington on March 13 gave definite constitutional sanction to the legislation upon this subject obtained in the Payne tariff. Mr. Justice Day declared the tax to be an "excise tax on the doing of business," and not upon the franchises or property of corporations. It is a tax "upon the doing of corporate or insurance business, and with respect to the carrying on thereof, in a sum equivalent to 1 per centum of the entire net income over and above 5000 dollars, received from all sources during the year; that is, when imposed in this manner it is a tax upon the doing of business with the advantages which inhere in the peculiarities of corporate or joint-stock organisations of the character described. As the latter organisations share many benefits of corporate organisation, it may be described generally as a tax upon the doing of business in a corporate capacity." It is a tax upon the entire net income above £1000 from all sources, but "excluding the amounts received as dividends on stocks in other corporations or associations also subject to the tax." The Court further notes that "as to organisations under the laws of foreign countries, the amount of net income over and above 5000 dollars includes that received from business transactions and capital invested in the United States, the Territories, Alaska, and district of Columbia." The Court for various reasons dismisses the contention that the corporation tax should be held to be unconstitutional as a direct tax, which was the reason why the famous income-tax law was declared unconstitutional in 1895. The second contention, that this Federal tax invades the exclusive rights of the States over corporate franchises, was also dismissed after a review of cases. Finally, Mr. Justice Day addressed himself to the objection that the new tax is unequal and arbitrary. He held that it was sufficiently fair to fall within the authority of the taxing power, adding: "We must not forget that the right to select the measure and objects of taxation devolves upon the Congress, and not upon the Courts; and such selections are valid unless constitutional limitations are overstepped." The decision, the "Economist" apprehends, will bring a good deal of revenue into the United States Treasury, as many corporations have been holding back payments pending the decision of the Supreme Court.

BILLS OF EXCHANGE LAW.

The special committee of the London Chamber of Commerce appointed to inquire into the above matter has issued its report. It says.—In view of the resumption of the congress in the autumn of the present year, the report deprecates any immediate modification of British law, but whilst agreeing with the British delegates to The Hague conference that it would be inadvisable for Great Britain to adopt, in its entirety, the provisional draft uniform law which resulted from the conference, expresses the opinion that uniformity is eminently desirable, where possible, under existing conditions. The findings of the committee are subdivided into:—

(1) Suggestions for the amendment of British law; and

(2) Suggested modifications of the draft uniform law.

Under the first heading, the report suggests, inter alia, that a chain of endorsements should not be interrupted, even though one of them be forged or unauthorised; that bills falling due on a Sunday or public holiday should be payable on the next succeeding business day; that days of grace should be abolished; that protest for non-payment should be permitted on the day a bill falls due and on the next subsequent business day; that where a bill is drawn payable with interest, and no rate is specified, 5 per cent. should be understood; that a bill payable after sight should, in any case, be presented for acceptance within six months of the date of issue; and that no bills of exchange should become invalid by reason of non-compliance with local stamp laws. Under suggested modifications of the draft uniform law, the report further proposes the introduction of the convenient English custom of "noting" for protest; suggests that the return of a dishonoured bill is a sufficient notice of dishonour, and dissents from the article under which the holder of a bill dishonoured by non-acceptance is bound to take the acceptance of a drawer's referee in case of need, as being apt to frustrate the holder's right of recourse. Finally, the committee recommends that the conference on reassembling in September of the present year should consider the difference in practice in regard to the inclusion or non-inclusion, in endorsements, of titles and descriptions.

COMMONWEALTH STOCK RETURNS.

The year 1909 was that in which the number of horses and cattle in the Commonwealth constituted a record, the previous record being attained in 1891. For the sake of comparison the returns of the worst year of the drought—1902—are also given. The figures for the three periods mentioned are:—

MINING.

WEEK END FIRM IN SILVER.

COPPER SHARES STEADY, BULLFINCHES WEAK.

The striking feature of the market on Saturday morning was the unwonted strength of silver stocks, and the firmness with which scrip-holders quoted copper shares. The strength of silver shares was a puzzle to some operators, who pointed out that, although spelter was standing at a good price—£24—nevertheless it had declined 5/; and that lead at £12 17s 6d was not a cheering price to the managers of Broken Hill mines. Again, it was rather perplexing to some operators—possibly they had sold "short"—to find copper stocks held firm, in face of the fact that the price of the red metal had dropped in London on Friday from £54 to £53 17s 6d.

The buoyant tone of the market on Saturday morning for silver shares was also in face of the fact that a broker's cable message, referring to the state of the London Stock Exchange on Friday, said:—"Barrier shares quiet. No change in prices"—that is, no change for the better or for the worse. Yet the local market showed increasing strength. One operator remarked:—"I have given up all hope of gauging either the London or the local market, on the metal values ruling. It frequently happens that when metals are weak, shares quotations are stronger, and vice versa. I think the time has come when the Sydney Stock Exchange should get from London a reliable cable message, giving the daily quotations, 'middle,' as well as 'buying,' of the London Stock Exchange, for Australian copper, silver, gold, and tin shares.

"In order to command the utmost confidence of Australian investors," observed the member, "the cable message should be compiled by one who is not interested in the least in the rise or fall of a stock."

It is only right to say that more than one member of the Sydney Stock Exchange had expressed himself in similar terms. If it is true, as stated in some quarters, the present cable message does not command the utmost confidence of the members; they have it in their power, through the committee of the Stock Exchange, to take steps to remove this difficulty. Members are keenly interested in placing the most reliable information before their numerous clients, especially in the case of stocks, the price of which is largely dependent on the trend of metal values; hence, an expenditure of money by the committee of the Sydney Stock Exchange to secure thoroughly reliable daily quotations of the London Stock Exchange, would be fully justified. As the three leading Stock Exchanges of the Commonwealth—Sydney, Melbourne, and Adelaide—have mutual business relations, it should not be impossible for them to arrange for a "combine" cable message, that would command the utmost confidence. In giving the price of metals, the message should also indicate, where possible, the cause of the rise or fall in a particular metal.

As regards the business recorded locally on Saturday morning, the firmness of the silver division is shown by the fact that in the sales booked British Broken Hill (old) moved from 18/ to 18/9, and Broken Hill South Blocks from 17/9 to 18/1½; whilst very strong buying offers were made for Broken Hill Junction North, North Broken Hill, and Broken Hill Souths, paid and contributing, with fairly steady offers for Sulphide Corporation and Zinc Corporation. A parcel of Kootras changed hands at a recovery of 2, Amalgamated Zinc were not mentioned, though London disclosed strong buyers.

In the copper division Chillagoe, paid, sold very firm, whilst the contributing scrip was also in steady request. Great Fitzroys were quiet, but Hampdens were wanted at an advanced rate on the strength of firm London quotations. The same was the case with Mount Elliotts. Queen Bee were very firm. Tolwong Mineral weak, and Mount Morgans quoted wide.

The Bullfinch group was in a bad way, the shares of the parent mine receding from 20/ to 19/ at three weeks. London on Friday showed a weak feeling in the stock. Monument Hill (Bendigo) held steady on the previous day's decline. In the tin division Tongkah Harbour sold very firm.

MINING NOTES.

During the fortnight ended April 14 the Mungana (Chillagoe) Mining Company despatched 545 tons of ore to the smelters.

During April the Chaffers Company (W.A.) treated 3390 tons of ore, for gold valued at £4543. The total expenditure was £4422, hence the profit was only £121.

The face of the drive on the ore-body at the 200ft level of the Kootra mine shows 30in of good milling ore. All work is being concentrated on this drive at present.

The Hercules Mine (Tas.), for the week ended April 29, despatched 140 tons of zinc ore to Burnie, 29 tons were bagged at Williamsford, and 140 tons of loose ore in the Williamsford mill.

The manager of the Hampden-Cloncurry copper mine telegraphs:—"Hampden No. 3 shaft sunk to 361ft, preparing to cut plat and cistern at 350ft level. Duchess main shaft sunk to 471ft; 400ft level, winze at 265 N. 40 E. sunk to 122ft; width sampled, 4ft; value, 15 per cent. Not on western wall."

Our Melbourne correspondent telegraphs:—"On Saturday there was a rise of 10/ a share for Long Tunnel. In the call-room market was 25/, but after the midday meeting it advanced to 27/. On Friday sales were made at 17/. Two feet of gold-bearing stone have been struck in starting to crosscut east from the 3275ft level."

At the new main north branch tunnel of the Main Ridge Deep Leads mine, the No. 1 rise to the wash, and opened west, for 18ft. The wash is of good appearance, but barely payable. At No. 2 rise south the prospecting drive was extended to 134ft, with fair prospects.

Mr. Albert E. Harte, secretary of the Two-mile Tin-dredging Company, advises having received the following report from the mine manager for period ended April 25:—"Barge was floated up to new site on 23rd, and sluicing resumed on 27th ultimo, the pumps working 390 hours to date, 9380 yards of material being treated (worth about 1lb per yard) for a yield of 4 tons 3cwt 2qr 25lb of tin (value £119 per ton) at a cost of 6¼d per yard."

The main shaft of the Vegetable Creek Tin-mining Company has been completed to 8ft below the plat, and the requisite timbering finished. A chamber is being cut back, to permit of a new eastern crosscut being driven from the main shaft. Work has been stopped in the western end. At the eastern end the leading drive has been advanced 10ft to 275ft. During the week the wash averaged 2ft 6in, and the grade is over the average. The face shows a strong body of wash. The crosscut at 164ft was driven 6ft to 22ft. Here the wash averaged 2ft in thickness. Chandler's shaft is down 48ft.

Steady progress is being made with the sinking of the main shaft of the Kangiara Mines. Five and a half feet were recorded last week, bringing the total depth to 269ft. The No. 2 south drive was stripped 16ft from No. 2 south winze. The ore in the face is now 2ft 6in wide, and assays over 9 per cent. of copper. The stopes produced 44 tons of copper ore, and 61 tons of lead ore. The mill, in an 80 hours' run, treated 84 tons of lead ore, and produced 16 tons of concentrates. Close on 17 tons of ore were despatched, also 13 tons 5cwt of lead concentrates, assaying 60.18 per cent. lead, 28.1oz silver, and 1.8dwt gold.

The secretary of the Radium Hill Company writes:—"The board of directors are in receipt of a report from their scientific expert announcing that he had visited Broken Hill, and supervised the magnetic concentration of some of the samples of ore, which resulted satisfactorily. He had taken the opportunity of inspecting the mine, with which he was very much pleased and satisfied, and considers that the mine promises to be a distinctly payable proposition. The board are now calling for tenders for the erection of works on a site that has already been acquired, and it is expected that the works will be completed in about four months."

For the four weeks ended February 25 there was a loss of £8 at the Myalls section of the Myalls and Peak Hill mine, and a loss of £18 at the Peak Hill section. The capital expenditure on plant for sulphide development at Thomas' shaft amounted to £145. During the four weeks ended April 22 2830 tons were treated for 371oz. The ore bins and rock-breaker plant at Thomas' shaft have been completed, and the whole of the output is now being crushed by the ball mill. Instructions have been received from London to immediately commence sinking Thomas' shaft below the 300ft level for the purpose of developing the sulphide zone.

The prospecting shaft of the Budgery Mining Company is down 180ft, and a crosscut at 177ft advanced 21ft in slate and quartz bands. At the air shaft the winding gear has been fixed to pull ore from the 121ft level, and the breaking of ore will start next week. At the 400ft level the No. 1 south drive, at 54½ft, bulked 3 per cent. copper, whilst the black ore and pyrites by themselves assayed 11 per cent. In No. 2 south drive copper pyrites, laced through dark slate, makes at times nearly all over the face. The clean copper pyrites assays 22 per cent. copper. The balance of account sales from the Great Cobar, Ltd., are to hand, showing that 542 tons 2cwt 1qr realised net £963/12/6.

GRAFTON COPPER MINE.

Operations at the Grafton copper mine during the week ended May 2 show that stoping was carried on over the eastern end of D level, while filling proceeded at the western end. Some 161 tons of ore were broken, the average assay for the week being 10.6 per cent. The winze started in the eastern end of D intermediate was sunk 2ft 6in in sulphide ore 2ft thick.

No. 4 furnace was charged with 45 tons of matte, and tapped 20.5 tons of metal, containing 12.9 tons of copper. No. 1 smelted 22.5 tons of ore, and 7.5 tons of roaster slag, producing 12.48 tons of matte, containing 4.57 tons of copper. It was then charged with 27 tons of matte, and tapped 22.8 tons. This will, however, require retreatment, as it had to be tapped, owing to a break out. The despatchings amounted to 23 tons 17cwt, containing 14.8 tons of copper, leaving on hand 23.7 tons of metal and 509 tons of matte, containing 198 tons of copper. It is expected to start another furnace at an early date.

The tramway rails are commencing to arrive; three loads were delivered on the line by the contractors. The line gang have completed metalling the terminus yard and platform, where plate-laying will commence. The bridge gang are working at the eighth span of No. 1 bridge. The locomotive shed and engineer's shop have been erected. A branch line is to be brought into the shed.

BLESSING A NEW CONVENT.

The Presentation Nuns recently acquired a beautifully-situated property in First-avenue, Five Dock, in which they intend to carry on a high school. The ceremony of blessing the institution was performed yesterday afternoon by Monsignor O'Brien, assisted by a number of priests.

Monsignor O'Brien said they had now a new church, St. Joan of Arc, a new priest, and, to crown the glorious work, they had that new convent. All things were new there, and it would be their duty to develop and take the fullest advantage of the blessings which had been bestowed upon them.

Addresses were also delivered by Mr. P. J. Minahan, M.L.A., and Mr. P. M'Garry, M.L.A., the latter referring to what he said was the splendid work done by the Presentation Nuns at Wagga.

RIFLE SHOOTING.

M'CALLEY CUP COMPETITION.

After the period of quietude, consequent on the absence of many riflemen participating in the annual training at Easter, the Randwick range on Saturday again bore its accustomed air of activity, when the M'Calley Cup competition was advanced a further stage. Either Parramatta or the Australian Rifles were looked upon as the possible winners, though the civilian team had a lead of five points. The chances of squaring matters in the service shooting appeared bright for the regimental team. Parramatta, however, got further ahead, and when the local scores were counted they had increased their lead to 10 points. Unfortunately, though the weather conditions were right enough, congestion at the running-man target caused this fixture to be considerably delayed, and a very late finish was the result. D. Hattersley, of the Parramatta Club, had the honour of leading in the individual totals. He put up a double "possible." F. L. Claye (Sydney) was the next in order of individual merit, with four points behind. Results:—

FOOTBALL.

RUGBY UNION SEASON OPENS.

SECOND ROUND LEAGUE MATCHES.

AUSTRALIAN RULES AND SOCCER BEGIN.

All four divisions of the football phalanx took the field on Saturday afternoon, which was the first field day of the present football season. The Rugby Union officially opened the season and contested the first round of the metropolitan competitions. The Rugby League played the second round of the first grade matches, before large attendances. Lovers of the "national" game opened their season auspiciously, the attendances being greater than last season, a happy augury for the future of Australian football. The fourth division, the Football Association, playing "Soccer" rules, also found plenty of public patronage at the first league matches, as well as at the Nurse cup and juvenile contests. The football season, after weeks of preparatory games and training, is at last in full swing.

RUGBY UNION.

OPENING OF THE SEASON.

University defeated Eastern Suburbs by 25 to 12.
Newtown defeated Manly by 22 to 6.
Balmain defeated St. George by 8 to 5.
Western Suburbs defeated South Sydney by 17 to 11.
Glebe defeated North Sydney by 16 to 11.

The Metropolitan Rugby Union opened the season on Saturday, and notwithstanding the heat some fast and attractive football was shown. Ten first grade clubs took the field, and although doubt was felt a week or two ago as to whether South Sydney would take part, they turned out and played to a close finish. Many changes in the personnel of the various teams are evident since the opening games of last season, the main reason being the effect of the league, which has drawn a number of men to its fold. University is practically the only team that has not suffered on this account, but there are several new names in their side. The attendances were small, reaching a few hundreds in most cases, the match University v Eastern Suburbs at the Cricket Ground having the largest number, which was something under 1000.

As usual these teams provided a fast game, although not quite up to the standard they generally show. No doubt the fact that it was the first match of the season was the reason; and the probabilities are that had they met in about a month's time a most brilliant game would have resulted. University were the better team on the day, victory being theirs by 25 points to 12. Their combination and condition was above that of their opponents, who lacked both these essentials. On the line out, too, they were superior, while the little scrum work did not favour either side much. They stuck to it right through, and got out of some tight corners once or twice, coming into attack from defence. The backs all played well, and should develop into fine combination, while the forwards showed splendid form.

Eastern Suburbs, after starting well, got ragged, and although here was some good individual work, the combination was not there. The backs were not happy. D'Alpuget being very slack owing to having no condition. The scrum was only fair, and the line out work not so good as was expected. George appeared to be the best of the forwards. Baker did some good work, but is apt to interfere with his backs, and should stick to the forward division. With a little more practice, however, the team will be a good one and very hard to beat.

Glebe finished up with a margin of five points in their favour against North Sydney after a close game, in which they were hard put to it at times, the scores being even at half-time.

Balmain opened the season encouragingly with a victory by 8 points to 5 over St. George, which will give them something to work on. They are an improved team, and, having had a hard fight for the last few seasons, are coming into the competition with renewed vigour.

Newtown—last year's premiers—had no difficulty in accounting for Manly on the villagers' ground. It was rather a stiff proposition for the watersiders to have to meet Newtown first match, and the result should not discourage them.

Western Suburbs, putting in a good finish, took the lead from South Sydney towards the end of the game, and had 6 points to the good when the final scores were called.

UNIVERSITY BEAT EASTERN SUBURBS.

BY 25 POINTS TO 12.

Played at the Sydney Cricket Ground. Referee, Mr. N. B. Martin.

Eastern Suburbs.—R. Line, full-back; F. Scully, J. D'Alpuget, T. Milner, and T. Garrett, three-quarters; R. Bolden, five-eighth; H. Corbett, half-back; J. Duffy, C. Greaves, H. Baker, E. Fahey, D. Wallach, H. George, D. Horrigan, T. M'Gee, forwards.

Sydney University.—Hinder, full-back; S. M'Lennan, B. C. Pockley, Harden, and A. C. Jekyll, three-quarters; E. M. Fisher, five-eighth; E. James, half-back; L. S. Reynolds, J. Hindmarsh, N. W. Broughton, J. B. Metcalfe, A. M'Gregor, M. Maxwell, P. A. Morris, C. Clatworthy, forwards.

Eastern Suburbs winning the toss, 'Varsity kicked off from the southern end, and play was fairly even for about 10 minutes. Then Milner, intercepting near half-way, dodged through cleverly, and was off. When tackled he passed to Scully, who flashed through, and scored a brilliant try, running round behind the posts. Bolden missed the goal. Eastern Suburbs, 3 to 0.

Almost immediately they were over again. From the drop-out Baker punted to the 'Varsity full-back, whose return was blocked, and Greaves raced across and scored. Bolden missed the goal. Eastern Suburbs, 6 to 0.

Now 'Varsity got away, and three forwards were off, with only the full-back in front. Metcalfe picked up, but punted before he reached the Eastern Suburbs' last line of defence, and the chance was lost. Soon after M'Lennan wriggled through, and passed to Pockley, who forced his way over the line near the boundary. M'Lennan failed at goal. Eastern Suburbs, 6 to 3.

Up and down it went, both teams putting plenty of life into it, till the blue and gold, coming along, sent the ball over the line, and Maxwell and D'Alpuget raced for it. The 'Varsity man won, D'Alpuget lacking condition. M'Lennan missed the goal, and the scores were 6 all. East attacked, and off-side by 'Varsity put them in their opponents' territory, where a scrum was formed. Then 'Varsity retaliated by a tearing rush down the field, finishing with Metcalfe picking up. Pushing off Line's tackle, he scored between the posts, Fisher goaling. 'Varsity, 11 to 6. Gradually the tricolour worked down the field, and were almost within striking distance, when Pockley intercepted, and, running strongly, attended by two of his men, got as far as the full-back, where he dodged instead of passing, and then passed, but the referee ruled off-side, and Easts relieved. Half-time: University, 11 to 6.

The second half started with Eastern Suburbs attacking hard and keeping the game in the opposing side's territory, but then 'Varsity came through with a fine rush, finishing at Easts' line. Play hung inside their 25 for some time, till the forwards kicked through, and smart following-up saw the 'Varsity full-back downed near half. On came the red, white, and blue right to the 25, only to see it brought back by a clever rush to their own 25, where they were hard put to it. To half-way again, and then Milner, breaking through, sent the ball to 'Varsity's line, where M'Lennan kicking weakly, Bolden nipped in, and was across the line. No goal. University, 11 to 9.

A beautiful rush by Easts, and Corbett getting hold raced away for the line. When tackled he passed, and eventually the ball went out of bounds two yards from the line. Harden off-side gave Easts a chance for goal, but it missed, and 'Varsity forced. Again Easts attacked, and were almost in, but 'Varsity relieved, and dribbled to within a few feet of Easts' line, where from a return 'Varsity marked, and Fisher placed a nice goal. 'Varsity, 14 to 9.

Easts got going hard, and Duffy, breaking away, kicked across the line. He raced with three 'Varsity men for the ball, but was interfered with, and the referee awarded a try. D'Alpuget failed at goal, and the scores were:—'Varsity, 14 to 12.

From half-way 'Varsity worked down the field, and a pass out from the ruck gave the backs a chance. Jekyll finally got hold after fumbling, and wriggled over the line. Fisher failed at goal, and 'Varsity were 17 to 12. A line-out at Easts' line, and another score appeared certain. James actually dashed over, but lost the ball, and a force came in the nick of time. Again they came, and Jekyll, picking up smartly, scored in the corner. Fisher kicked a great goal, and 'Varsity led by 22 to 12. Next Broughton picked up near the line, and fell across. No goal. There was no further score, and 'Varsity ran out winners by 25 to 12.

WESTERN SUBURBS v SOUTH SYDNEY.

Played at Rushcutter Bay Oval in the presence of a few spectators, and won by Western Suburbs by 17 points to 11. Referee, Mr. Butt.

Teams.—South Sydney: Full-back, G. Moy; three-quarters, A. Purves, G. T. Radcliffe (captain), W. Buist, S. Webster; half-backs, R. Fusedale, A. Sandilands; forwards, V. Cell, W. Lenta, E. Castle, T. Wall, A. Anderson, D. Black, T. Kelly, E. J. Grieve.

Western Suburbs: Full-back, R. Williams; three-quarters, D. Watson, H. Prentice, W. C. Prentice, A. Anderson; half-backs, Ward Prentice (captain), A. Prentice; forwards, R. Webster, H. J. Liddy, P. Alderson, W. Sully, A. Hardy, A. Rosenthal, C. Prentice, D. C. Reid.

South Sydney won the toss, and Reid kicked off for Western Suburbs against a strong breeze. Play was very even for a time till Western Suburbs had a shot for goal in a scoring position, but Ward Prentice failed with his kick. South Sydney's vanguard, though light, were proving a lively lot, and caused trouble to their opponents' rear division with fast foot rushes, which carried play to Western Suburbs' territory, where the ball was picked up, and a long pass to Fusedale enabled that player to score in a good position. Fusedale also converted. South Sydney, 5; Western Suburbs, nil. The suburban men sparkled after this reverse, and the forwards with the ball on the ground completely beat the defence, but a drop out was ordered owing to illegal interference near the goal line. South Sydney, aided by the wind, forced play to Western Suburbs' 25. Grieve from a forward scramble scored a try, which was not converted. South Sydney, 8; Western Suburbs, nil. The line kicking of Western Suburbs was a feature of the play, being very effective, but good chances of scoring were lost by the forwards kicking too hard when near goal, and also by Alderson hanging on with a try in sight. At this stage Webster retired with an injury to one of his legs, Maloney taking his place. South Sydney were attacking strongly when Alderson broke away in possession, and with a good run carried play to Souths' quarters. Moy mulled a take, and the ball being rushed goalwards W. C. Prentice ended the movement with a try scored near the corner. Ward Prentice failed to convert. South Sydney, 8; Western Suburbs, 3. Half-time.

On resuming Western Suburbs immediately assumed the aggressive, the backs opening up the game, but the passing was a trifle disjointed, and the attack was staved off. South Sydney played up vigorously, and carried play away down field, but Western Suburbs had found the weak spot in the defence, i.e., the full-back, and taking advantage of a weak kick secured possession and carried to the line, where C. Prentice obtained a pass from Radcliffe and scored. Ward Prentice again failed to convert. South Sydney, 8; Western Suburbs, 6. South Sydney forwards came with a fine burst, and dribbling well beat back after back, and the goal line was reached before the play was stopped. Some warm work took place on the goal line, from which South Sydney emerged with a free. Fusedale was entrusted with the kick, and the ball struck the post, rebounding into the field of play. The game was fought out on the Western Suburbs side of centre with great vigour, and at length South Sydney were rewarded, for after some really fine passing, Buist dived over at the corner. Fusedale made a good but unsuccessful attempt to convert. South Sydney, 11; Western Suburbs, 6. Western Suburbs changed the venue of play from the drop out, and being awarded a free kick they followed up fast, H. Prentice securing and passing to Alderson, who scored after a short run. Ward Prentice failed with his kick. South Sydney, 11 points; Western Suburbs, 9 points. The South Sydney forwards were playing a good game, and more than held their opponents, but the backs in catching were weak, and nullified the scrummers' hard work. From a scrum in front of goal near the 25 mark Western Suburbs were awarded a free kick, but Ward Prentice missed an easy shot. South Sydney forwards carried play the length of the field, but a knock on pulled them up when a score seemed assured. Williams (W.S.) took a mark, and Radcliffe missing the ball in the air gave H. Prentice a chance to secure, which was quickly availed of, and a score was the result. Ward Prentice converted it, and Western Suburbs led by 14 points to 11. Western Suburbs were now in the ascendant, and from a scrum in midfield Ward Prentice started his backs going, and the best concerted passing of the game ended in Watson scoring a fine try. D. C. Reid failed with his kick. Western Suburbs, 17; South Sydney, 11.

BALMAIN v ST. GEORGE.

Played at Epping (Forest Lodge), and won by Balmain by 8 points to 5. There was a very meagre attendance. The game was keenly contested, but the faults usually observable in matches played at the beginning of a season were not wanting on both sides. Mr. J. Nicholls was referee. The teams were:—

Balmain.—E. Wicks, full-back; S. French, R. Featherston, H. Craig, W. Watson, three-quarters; G. Hastie, five-eighth; W. Johnson, half-back; W. O'Toole, F. Kirkby, F. Plumb, D. Christiansen, F. Ballerum, P. Morgan (captain), O. Shirley, forwards.

St. George.—F. Brown, full-back; H. Mullarkey, A. West, A. Rossi, M. Revell, three-quarters; D. B. Carroll (captain), five-eighth; L. Hatfield, half-back; I. Egan, J. Byrne, R. Freeman, R. Crouch, J. Proudfoot, H. Billingham, W. Williams, J. Howard, forwards.

Balmain led off with the sun in their faces. St. George obtained from a scrum about half-way, and looked like scoring, but Watson relieved by kicking out. St. George were aggressive, and forced play to Balmain's line, where they were awarded a free kick. Kirkby, however, blocked, and then the Balmain forwards made a fine rush, ending up with O'Toole scoring. The same player converted. Balmain 5 to nil. Very even play followed, the ball travelling up and down the ground rapidly until a scrummage took place in Balmain's territory. St. George obtained, and Mullarkey, on the wing, centered to Williams, who crossed near the goal posts. Brown converted. Five all. Balmain forced play back to the far line, where Howard was injured and had to leave the field. Half-time.

The second spell was commenced by St. George forcing play to Balmain's line, their forwards showing out well, but Balmain were determined, and drove them back. The St. George backs through faulty handling gave Balmain an opening, and they pressed vigorously. Owing to Carroll hanging on Balmain was given a free kick, and O'Toole landed a fine goal from almost half-way. Balmain, 8 to 5. From this out play was very even, and no further score was recorded, although St. George once or twice looked dangerous.

GLEBE DEFEAT NORTH SYDNEY.

Played on the University Oval, before a small number of spectators, Glebe winning by 16 points to 11. The teams were:—

Glebe.—C. White, full-back; A. Gamble, W. McCarthy, A. Mackay, and B. Angove, three-quarters; G. Buchanan, five-eighth; F. Wood (c.), half-back; H. Logan, T. Griffen, J. Clarken, R. Stone, J. Wylie, J. Waddell, F. Walters, and S. R. Baines, forwards.

North Sydney.—H. Thomas, full-back; H. Buhl, S. A. Geddes, L. Mayo, and W. Thomas, three-quarters; L. A. McKenzie, five-eighth; O. Humphreys, half-back; O. H. Hicks, B. D. Hughes, H. A. Mitchell, S. Farnell, H. J. Johnston, T. Britton, N. Graham, and T. Coleman, forwards.

From the kick-off Glebe attacked fiercely, North Sydney being hard pressed on more than one occasion. A five-yards scrum gave the Shoremen a moment's respite, and then they in their turn invaded Glebe territory. White, the Glebe full-back, however, rose to the occasion and saved the situation with a beautiful line kick over his own head. Glebe kept up the attack, but a fine individual effort by Mitchell brought the game back into the Glebe twenty-five. Gradually the scene of operations was transferred to North Sydney territory. The Glebe pack brought the ball through on the toe, and when near the line Buchanan picked up and scored. Baines' kick failed. Glebe, 3 to nil. Scarcely had they settled down to their work again when North Sydney were awarded a free in the Glebe 25. Hughes took the kick and successfully piloted the sphere between the posts, making the score 3 all. A spell of ragged, scrambling play ensued. From some loose work in mid-field, W. Thomas broke away, and beating the field crossed the line and scored. Hughes added the extra points, making the score 8 to 3 in favour of North Sydney. The game now brightened up considerably. Time and again the Glebe forwards started away with the ball on the toe, but the North Sydney defence proved too solid. Play gradually worked to neutral territory, where the Glebe forwards started another dribbling rush, and got to within a few yards of their opponents' line, when a too vigorous boot enabled the defending full-back to get possession. He punted high, the ball going out near the 25. Finally the ball was kicked over, and the North Sydney men hanging fire, enabled Stone to dive and score. Buchanan converted, making the scores 8 all. Just on half-time North Sydney came with a rush and a score seemed imminent, when faulty handling lost them the opportunity. The scores were unaltered when the half-time whistle sounded.

An interchange of kicks opened the second half. From a scramble in midfield Wood picked up and started a passing rush. A faulty handle of Angove, however, spoilt an otherwise attractive bit of play. The game hovered around the North Sydney line, with Glebe attacking fiercely. The Shoremen, however, cleared and transferred the sphere of play to midfield. Glebe were not to be denied, and in a short space were back in North Sydney territory once more. From a five yards' scrum, Woods got possession, and beating his opponents, scored between the posts. Buchanan kicked an easy goal. Glebe, 13 to 8. The game now became very fast, both sides attacking in turn. From a mark in North Sydney's 25, Buchanan had a shot at goal, but the ball fell short. Glebe continued to attack in a desultory sort of way, when suddenly Mayo relieved the tension by kicking down-field. Buhl then took up the running and doubled through the opposition. White attempted to block him, but fumbled, and Buhl crossed the line and scored. Hughes' attempt went wide. Glebe 13, North Sydney 11. The pace had slowed down, and straggling play was becoming general, when, from a scrum Mackay took the ball through the ruck on the toe. When near the line he picked up, but finding that his opponents were closing on him, passed to Gamble, a recent recruit from the third-grade ranks, who neatly side-stepped his opponent and scored in the corner. Mackay's kick at goal went wide. Glebe 16, North Sydney 11. Both teams now had bellows to mend, and the pace was slackening. Play till the concluding whistle, which went with the scores unaltered, was mostly of an uninteresting character.

MANLY v NEWTOWN.

Played on the Manly Oval, in the presence of about 700 spectators, Newtown winning by 22 points to 6. The game for the first half was fairly even; Newtown excelled in the forward division, but the speedy backs of the village kept play near centre during the early stages. Dunbar, of Newtown, played the best for the victors. Randell for Manly was prominent the whole of the play, and the others to attract notice were A. Buckley, of the forward rank, and S. Terry at full-back.

Newtown.—P. Luscombe, full-back; C. Hamey, A. Dunbar, L. West, and F. Talbot, three-quarters; H. M'Illvray, five-eighth; E. Hodgins, half; W. Watson, P. Dibley, F. Gilroy, R. Hill, E. Dibley, R. Wrightson, S. Slater (captain), and R. Tilley, forwards. G. Pugh came on during the first half in place of R. Tilley, who retired injured.

Manly.—E. Terry, full-back; C. Terry, J. Randell (captain), R. Ball, A. Terry, three-quarters; J. M'Donnell, five-eighth; D. Fitzgerald, half; E. Kirke, I. V. Hind, A. Lord, R. Farnell, D. M'Cubbin, A. Buckley, C. Elrington, and G. Drebenys, forwards.

B. Fitzpatrick, referee.

Slater for Newtown started the ball rolling against the wind. The ball went out of play immediately afterwards near centre, and several scrums occurred without any gain to either side. Manly were awarded a free kick for offside play by Newtown, and Randell's attempt at goal was all but successful. The Newtown forwards came with a rush with the ball on toe, and carried play to Manly's 25, where Gilroy picked up smartly and crossed the line. Dunbar's kick for goal went wide, and the scores were:—Newtown, 3; Manly, nil.

The Manly contingent then livened up, and Newtown were hard pressed. The local supporters cheered lustily when Manly were awarded another free kick near the 25 line. Fitzgerald, however, failed to convert. Manly still continued to force the pace, and from a penalty kick near half-way Randell piloted the leather over the bar, to the delight of the villagers. Newtown then took a turn at the attacking, and Slater came with a great dash towards Manly's line. He was ably tackled by the Manly three-quarter, and several brisk passes then ensued between the blues, P. Dibley eventually securing the try. Again Dunbar was unsuccessful at goal. Newtown, 6; Manly, 3.

With the ball in play again, the two sides mixed matters, and the game was a little on the rough side, the referee having to administer several cautions. R. Tilley had to receive ambulance attention, and retired from the field. At half-time the scores were:—Newtown, 9; Manly, 3.

Manly were penalised shortly after commencing the second half, and Dunbar was again entrusted with the kick. The ball sped with great force past the posts, just missing by a few feet. Play then opened up, and the ball was quickly handled by the blues, but a fine piece of play by T. Terry placed Manly in a safe position for a while. Gilroy passed the ball into play from a throw-out, and Wrightson got possession. The Manly men were completely surprised, and Wrightson scored without opposition. Dunbar's kick failed, and the scores were:—Newtown, 12; Manly, 3.

The Manly players were showing signs of weakening, and the superior combination of Newtown accounted for several other tries being obtained.

The final scores were:—Newtown, 22; Manly, 6.

NEWTOWN v TRAINING COLLEGE.

Played at the Alexandria Oval. Training College won by 11 points to 3. Newtown had the advantage of the wind in the first half, but the play was very even, the ball travelling from one end to the other. Just on half-time, Campbell crossed over, and S. Martin added the extra points. In the second half the play continued even, until half-way through, when training college forced an opening, and Bartram worked his way over, Cummings converting. Rodgers was the next to score, but Cummings on this occasion failed at goal. Play became fast, and Wright was injured. He was forced to retire through a kick on the head. Shortly afterwards Fleming secured, but Martin failed to add the extra points. The final scores were:—Training College, 11 points; Newtown, 3 points.

RANDWICK v ST. GEORGE.

In a hardly-contested game at Epping, Randwick and St. George played a draw—no score.

GLEBE v BALMAIN.

Glebe met Balmain on Drummoyne Park, and won comfortably by 14 to 9.

DARLINGHURST v EASTERN SUBURBS.

Darlinghurst defeated Eastern Suburbs at Rushcutter's Oval by 8 points to 5. For Darlinghurst Nicholls scored a try, which Carlson converted. Carlson also kicked a penalty goal. Geddes scored a try for the losers, Carroll converting.

UNIVERSITY II. v Y.M.C.A.

University II. defeated Y.M.C.A. at the Sydney Cricket Ground by 14 to 3.

WESTERN SUBURBS v MARRICKVILLE.

Western Suburbs II. defeated Marrickville, at Marrickville Oval, by 26 to 9.

MANLY v NORTH SYDNEY.

Played on the Manly Oval, and won by Manly by 17 points to nil.

Manly had the best of matters right through the game. The North Sydney backs lacked training and combination. James, for Manly, was very speedy, and crossed the line on three occasions. McLean and Phelp also played well, securing tries, one of which Tolhurst converted. The match was refereed by Mr. R. P. Cohen.

THIRD GRADE.

CAMPERDOWN v EASTERN SUBURBS.

Played at Alexandria Oval. Camperdown won by 10 to nil. For the winners Leonard and Parker each scored a try, and Quigley kicked a goal from the field.

GLEBE v NORTH SYDNEY.

Played at University Oval, and won by Glebe by 14 points to nil.

NEWTOWN v FIVE DOCK.

At Five Dock Newtown ran over the local third graders by scoring 45 to nil.

CITY AND SUBURBAN REFEREES' ASSOCIATION.

The second annual meeting of the City and Suburban Referees' Association was held on Thursday night at the Rugby Union Rooms. Mr. R. L. M'Donald presided, and the following office-bearers were elected:—President, Dr. Arthur Palmer; vice-presidents, Messrs. C. B. Cochrane, N. B. Martin, C. E. Murnin; general committee, Messrs. F. J. Herlihy, A. C. W. Hill, F. T. Huthnance; examination board, Messrs. C. B. Cochrane, N. B. Martin, C. E. Murnin; delegate to City and Suburban Union, Mr. E. E. Keary; representative on referees' appointment board, Mr. F. J. Herlihy; hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. E. Keary.

Eighty-six matches were controlled during the season by members of the association, and it is interesting to note that the total expenditure for the year was only 10s. This is mainly owing to the fact that the referees defray their own expenses throughout.

Mention was made in the report of the attendance at Rugby Union matches having fallen off, and the opinion was given that this fact would be beneficial, inasmuch as the interests of the players would be more carefully considered, while the game will be played for the game's sake.

NEWCASTLE GAMES.

NEWCASTLE, Sunday.

The following matches were decided yesterday afternoon, on the Rugby Union Ground. South Newcastle defeated North Newcastle by 6 points to 3. Quinn and D. Brien scored tries for the winners, and Messenger kicked a goal for the losers.

In the third grade, South Newcastle defeated East Newcastle by 4 points to 3.

In the fourth grade, North Newcastle beat East Newcastle by 3 points to nil.

In the first junior, North Newcastle defeated Wallsend and Plattsburg by 14 points to 6.

RUGBY LEAGUE.

SECOND ROUND MATCHES.

EASTERN SUBURBS, SOUTH SYDNEY, AND NEWTOWN IN THE VAN.

Fine weather, though a trifle too warm for football, graced the second round of the metropolitan competitions of the Rugby League. Play throughout was distinctly good, showing that thus early in the season the players have got thoroughly into their stride. The results of the games were:—

Eastern Suburbs beat North Sydney, 22 to 9.
South Sydney beat Glebe, 11 to 7.
Newtown beat Western Suburbs, 25 to 2.
Annandale beat Balmain, 13 to 8.

These results were quite anticipated on last Saturday's form, though it was doubted in some quarters if South Sydney's clever backs could withstand the charges of the heavy Glebe forwards. About 10,000 people witnessed this match, played at Wentworth Park, and the best contest of the day was fought out. About 2000 people saw Newtown down Western Suburbs with consummate ease. Not the most enthusiastic Shoreman hoped for victory against Eastern Suburbs, and the result, 22 to 9, was about the difference between the teams. Annandale, having succumbed the previous week to Eastern Suburbs, made amends by defeating Balmain by 13 to 8. The first grade competition points are as follow:—

RUGBY LEAGUE PREMIERSHIP.

	W.	L.	D.	Points For.	Points Agst.	Pts.
Newtown	2	0	0	41	5	4
Eastern Suburbs	2	0	0	52	12	4

Annandale	1	1	0	16	28	2
Balmain	0	2	0	11	25	0
North Sydney	0	2	0	14	47	0
Western Suburbs	0	2	0	2	32	0

SOUTH SYDNEY DEFEATS GLEBE.

South Sydney and Glebe provided a capital game at Wentworth Park before an attendance of about 10,000 people. The first half display was largely confined to the forward divisions of both teams, and while fast and interesting lacked the brilliance of the closing half.

South Sydney.—O. Brown, full-back; H. Gilbert, A. Conlin, A. Hallet, J. Stuntz, three-quarters; A. J. M'Cabe, five-eighth; J. Levison, half-back; W. Cann (capt.), S. Hilliard, W. Spence, H. Butler, H. Nicholls, A. Hennessy, forwards.

Glebe.—R. Algie, full-back; B. Garlich, M. Moggison, E. White, D. Gleeson, three-quarters; L. Cubitt, five-eighth; C. M'Kivat, half-back; K. Boughton, E. Swinson, S. Griffiths, A. Burge, F. Burge, P. Burge, forwards.

South Sydney won the toss and chose the western end, with their backs to the sun, and a light breeze favouring them. Each team played somewhat carefully for the opening 10 minutes, the forwards seemingly measuring their opponents' strength. Hallet punted high to Algie, but the sun was shining in the full-back's face, and he mulled the catch; the three-quarter had followed on, secured the leather again, and was off goalwards. Inside the 25 he passed to a S.S. forward, but the latter was downed on the line. Glebe were penalised, and Hallet's kick struck the post and rebounded in field.

M'Kivat relieved the pressure by exchanging passes with White and Cubitt, then Gleeson made more ground by a dashing run on the left wing, being forced out inside the Souths' 25. A penalty for illegal interference with Algie was against the visitors, and A. Burge landed the goal. First blood to the reds—2 to nil. Hard ruck play on the left wing ended with H. Butler picking up and sending out to Hilliard, who cut in, beat a Glebe centre three-quarter, but was grassed on the line by Algie. Hallet then passed out to Stuntz on the wing, but the speeding three-quarter was forced out at the corner flag.

Twice the visitors made assaults on this wing, only to be repulsed when on the line. The red forwards were defending splendidly, and with ball at toe transferred to half-way, where Cubitt and White raced on to the S.S. 25. Hilliard sent them back again, and the red and green were moving goalwards once more. Butler and Hilliard led the charge, and the latter kicked to White on the Glebe 25 line; the three-quarter could not gather it in, and, like a bolt from the blue, M'Cabe dashed in and had scored before the defence could get near him. Conlin failed to add the extras, and South Sydney led—3 to 2. Each side took a turn attacking, with South Sydney trying to open up the game for their backs; but the red forwards smothered every attempt for awhile, tackling in fine fettle. South gradually worked along the right wing, Gleeson forcing Stuntz out at the 25 flag. From some ruck play the ball was kicked across the mouth of the goal, and the ever-watchful M'Cabe pounced on it. A mighty cheer went up as he sped off. Nearing the line he passed out to Gilbert, who had backed up nicely, and the latter scored within the embrace of a Glebe back. Gilbert failed at goal. South Sydney—6 to 2. The score was mounting up against the reds, and they renewed the attack until half-time, but without success. Almost in on two occasions, they seemed to falter when the score was within their reach.

The second half opened sensationally for the Glebe. With the sun shining in his eyes, full-back Brown mulled a high punt, and A. Burge got to it with a clear field in front, and scored. He took the kick at goal, and failed. S.S. 6 to 5. The visiting forwards made the pace a merry one now, but Algie was illegally interfered with, and this stayed their gallop. Well-judged line-kicking by Hallet started them again, only to find the nipping red forwards coming to the 25 line at a great pace. Brighton looked dangerous until Stuntz swooped down, and in the nick of time raked it up off the forward's boot. One stirring rush followed fast on another, and the fastest spell of the match was a treat to the onlookers. The red scrummagers won in nearly every scrum, but their back machinery was not perfect. White and Cubitt made attempts to open up play for the three-quarters, but the tackling was always too deadly. A great burst by Cann, M'Cabe, and Gilbert was spoiled by the latter knocking on. Later, P. Burge had his side penalised, and Conlin piloted the leather over the bar from inside half-way. S.S. 8 to 5. Forced back by the weight of the red onslaught, the red and green had a warm time defending; but they held the fort. Over-anxious when near the line, Glebe spoiled what should have been scoring efforts. A brief spell at centre, and then South Sydney got their machine working effectively for the first time this half. Levison obtained from a scrum in front of goal, near the 25 yards' mark, and whipped on to Hilliard, to Cann; the burly forward cut in and sent on to Hallet to Gilbert, near the touch-line. The wing popped and turned in-field, and Hallet came round in nice time to accept the re-pass and score. Gilbert failed at goal. South Sydney now led by 11 to 5. Not discouraged, Glebe kept at them, but Brown was the stumbling-block. He did not miss an opportunity of sending them back. Glebe returned again, and a South Sydney forward was penalised in front of goal. Algie made no mistake, and the board showed S.S. 11 to 7. M'Kivat lost no time in starting his side again, but the full-time whistle gave South Sydney the victory. Mr. L. Kearney was referee.

NEWTOWN BEAT WESTERN SUBURBS.

Played at Metters, before about 2000 people. The match was not of an interesting nature, Newtown being always in the ascendant. Western Suburbs shone out in patches, but their efforts were never sustained for any length of time. Naylor, Courtney, and Jones did them excellent service; but they were overshadowed by the brilliancy of the Newtown players. Tries were registered for Newtown by Graham, Hawkes (2), Glover, Catt, while Graham kicked five goals. The following were the teams:—

Newtown.—W. Neill, A. Hawkes, W. Graham, V. Farnsworth, W. Catt, D. Farnsworth, W. H. Hayes, W. S. Noble, W. Glover, J. Murray, J. T. Barnett, P. McCue, D. Grundie.

Western Suburbs.—R. Well, A. Munnery, J. Thompson, Gilbert, C. McFayden, H. Naylor, J. Tolby, W. Elliott, E. Mead, S. Perry, E. Courtney, W. Jones, Muller.

Western Suburbs winning the toss, Newtown kicked off against the wind. Courtney soon shone out in a dribbling rush; but had no support, and Newtown were soon in West's 25. From a scrum W. Farnsworth secured, sent on to Graham, who dashed over, the same player converting. Newtown, 5; W.S., nil. Shortly after W.S. were penalised near the half-way and Graham kicked an excellent goal from a difficult angle. W.S. made several futile efforts to gain ground, but the Newtown men would not be denied. Hawkes, putting in a fine run, galloped round the opposition and touched down between the posts, Graham kicking the goal. N., 12; W.S., nil. The half-time whistle blew without any alteration to the score.

The second spell opened with Wests pressing; but the Newtown forwards swept them back to their own line, where Wests strove to keep them out. From a scramble Catt eventually scored, McCue failing with the kick. From this out Newtown romped over Wests. Their passing bouts between the forwards were very pretty, although they would not have been so effective had they met a stronger team. Hawkes and Glover scored tries just before the end, and Graham converted one. The same player kicked a goal from half-way, a magnificent effort. The only score that accrued to Wests was a penalty in front of Newtown's goal, which Wall kicked. The final whistle went, Newtown, 25; Western Suburbs, 2.

EASTERN SUBURBS BEAT NORTH SYDNEY.

At the Sports Ground between 5000 and 6000 spectators witnessed a strenuous game in which North Sydney's forwards and Eastern Suburbs' backs gave an excellent display. The scoring does not give an accurate idea of the play. Teams:—

Eastern Suburbs.—Full-back, F. Kinghorn; three-quarters, D. Frawley, J. D. Campbell, H. H. Messenger, F. Strickland; five-eighth, B. Dalton; half-back, L. Cody; forwards, R. Williams, S. Green, S. Pearce, F. White, E. Griffiths, M. Frawley.

North Sydney.—Full-back, A. Morton; three-quarters, O. Deane, A. Ferguson, T. Berecry, A. Broomham; five-eighth, E. Anderson; half-back, M'Farlane; forwards, C. Sullivan, O. Sullivan, N. Greenwood, J. Davis, W. Maher, K. M'Phee.

Referee: Mr. T. J. M'Mahon.

North Sydney won the toss, and Messenger kicked off against a slight breeze. Eastern Suburbs attacked at once, the forwards heeling to the backs from a scrum at centre, but faulty handling by the backs impeded progress, and C. Sullivan relieved the pressure with a smart dribble. Again E.S. advanced, but again faulty handling gave Anderson and Berecry (N.S.) an opening, and the pair gained ground. North Sydney forwards were playing splendidly, and repeatedly carried the scrums, but the backs were slow to follow up the advantage, Anderson's (five-eighth) passing being inaccurate. With his side on the defence, Messenger, from well within his own 25, fielded a rolling ball just like a cricketer, then started off towards the right wing, but meeting opposition he swung away to the left wing, with comrades in attendance. At centre he passed to Dalton, thence to Campbell, who transferred to Strickland, who, hemmed in on the touchline, failed to take the ball, and the movement ended. Here Messenger kicked a splendid penalty goal from the vicinity of centre. Immediately afterwards another rush by the same players ended at the 25, where North Sydney forwards broke through, but a clever catch by D. Frawley averted danger. Then came the tit-bit of the afternoon—a magnificent run by Strickland. North Sydney were attacking at the 25 end, and a pass came out on the open wing. Strickland darted forward very quickly, fielded the ball, and dashed off. At first he veered towards the left wing, then cut in, beating Anderson in transit. Next he side-stepped Berecry, then swerving in towards goal, he beat Morton badly, and going on scored. It was a great try. Messenger converted, and E.S. led by 7 to nil. North Sydney forwards were playing splendidly, and repeatedly attacked, but the half and five-eighth were very slow in getting the backs moving. At last they started scoring, by M'Farlane landing a neat penalty goal from the 25. This was supplemented by a great try, the ball coming out of a scrum at centre, and reached the wing by the aid of smart passing by M'Farlane, Ferguson, and Broomham. The last-named side-stepped Messenger and Strickland, and passed to Berecry on the extreme wing. The latter beat Kinghorn badly, and scored an easy try, which M'Farlane converted, making the scores E.S., 10; N.S., 7. This success by the Shoremen stimulated the Easterners, whose back started a brilliant bout. Campbell fielded the ball in the ruck, and, darting through, slung a pass to White, waiting on the extreme wing. Going on, White in-passed to Messenger, who dodged a couple of opponents, and sent the ball to Williams, who scored. Messenger failed at goal. E.S., 13; N.S., 7. Half-time.

On resuming, play was at centre for some time, till Eastern Suburbs advanced. At the 25 they were awarded a penalty, and Messenger kicked a goal. Green was now injured whilst tackling Broomham, and Eastern Suburbs had to play with 12 men for the rest of the game. North Sydney now attacked, and the back were streaking goalward, when D. Frawley intercepted the other side of half-way. Immediately the scene was changed, the Tricolours' backs making ground at a great pace. Frawley got to the 25, where he was tackled, and lost the ball, which Campbell picked up, and sent to Dalton on the wing. Dalton sent it in to Williams—a difficult pass—and the latter passed to Cody, who scored between the posts, thus putting the finishing touch to a beautiful effort. Messenger converted, making the score 17 to 7 in favour of East Sydney. Play now became rough, and the referee cautioned a player on either side. North Sydney forwards, playing splendidly, rushed the half to within a few yards of the line where from a penalty Morton kicked a good goal. E.S., 17; N.S., 9. Next came a magnificent goal from a mark at half-way by Messenger, and this was followed by a brilliant movement in which Messenger, Dalton, and Campbell participated, the last-named scoring a brilliant try. Kick at goal failed, and the whistle sounded, with Eastern Suburbs 22 to North Sydney 9.

ANNANDALE v BALMAIN.

There was a splendid attendance at Birchgrove Oval to witness Annandale engage the locals. A cool breeze tempered the atmosphere, making it an ideal afternoon for the strenuous work which the league code demands.

Teams.—Annandale: Hedley (full back), Rex. Norman, Roy Norman, D'Alpuget, Stuart (three-quarters), Hay Norman, F. Greshier (halves), E. Burdett, W. Haddock, Lillyman, B. Gray, G. Munce, R. Green (forwards).

Balmain: Latta (full back), Wright, Sawyer, Fraser, Smith (three-quarters), Holloway, Hillier (half backs), Graves, McCarthy, Ward, McMurtrie, Woodward, and Craig (forwards).

Referee, Mr. W. P. Finegan.

McMurtrie kicked off for Balmain, and play was near the centre for a few minutes until Stuart picked up, and, successfully dodging several of the opposition, passed to Burdett, who streaked for the line, and got over in the corner. The try was not converted, although the attempt was a good one. Balmain, undismayed, came with a rush, but the passing was faulty, and nothing resulted. Annandale then treated the crowd to some fine passing, the three-quarters bringing off a fine chain of passes, but a knock-on spoilt the effort. Shortly afterwards Hedley increased Annandale's total by registering a penalty goal. This reverse infused new life into Balmain, and by gradual stages they got within the danger zone, Wright making a supreme effort, but was forced out on the line. In again, Balmain secured a free, and Wright narrowly missed the bar. Several scrums, the formation of which was decidedly weak, followed, and then Annandale were awarded a "free" for illegal tactics. The advantage gained was microscopical, and Balmain were back again in the "twenty-five." Each attempt on their part to get through, however, was frustrated by Annandale's back division working like Trojans. At last McMurtrie, the burly Balmain forward, bored his way through half a dozen opponents, and scored, the extra points were not added. Stuart, of Annandale, was the next to score—Greshier passing to Rex. Norman to Stuart, who got over comfortably. Hedley failed with the kick, and the whistle sounded, with Annandale leading by 8 points to 3.

On resuming, play was quiet for some time, until Annandale started a forward movement, Haddock being the last to receive, and he got over with several opponents hanging on to him. The try was unconverted. Hedley was then called upon to defend, and he blocked a dangerous rush by the Balmain vanguard. The tackling was now hard, and the Annandale three-quarters were beginning to feel the strain. For interference, Annandale obtained a "free," and Hedley piloted a magnificent goal. Stewart (Balmain) then obtained possession, after a fine passing bout, and racing hard fell over the line. Fraser put on the extra. Both sides were now inclined to play the man and not the ball, Mr. Finegan cautioning a player on both sides. From this out Balmain were undoubtedly the aggressors, but the effort was too late, and the whistle blew, leaving Annandale victors by 13 points to 8.

SECOND GRADE.

NEWTOWN II. v WESTERN SUBURBS II.

Newtown walked over Wests to the tune of 21 to nil.

For Newtown, Dennis, Orward, Brookes (2), Farnsworth, scored tries, while McLeod kicked four goals. Western Suburbs played well against the wind, but the effort took too much out of them, weight and condition eventually enabled Newtown to do as they liked.

BALMAIN v ANNANDALE.

Balmain played Annandale at Birchgrove, winning by 13 to nil. Davidson, Stewart, and Murphy scored tries. King converted one, and Stewart kicked a penalty goal.

NORTH SYDNEY v EASTERN SUBURBS.

Played on the Sports Ground, North Sydney won by 11 points to three. Wilkinson, G. McFarlane, and Morris scored tries for the winners. McFarlane converted two. Dalton obtained the try for Eastern Suburbs.

SOUTH SYDNEY FEDERALS v SYDNEY.

Sydney defeated South Sydney Federals at Hampden Park by 21 to seven. Reynolds, Ross, McCabe, Smith, and Hanna scored for Sydney. Ross converted two and Reynolds one. Dalton scored for the losers.

WAVERLEY v REDFERN.

After a keen game Waverley defeated Redfern at Waverley Oval by 10 to nine. Leslie and Wright scored for Waverley, and Wallace kicked two goals. Snead obtained a try for Redfern, and Rowley kicked three penalty goals.

THIRD GRADE.

GLEBE v ALEXANDRIA.

Glebe defeated Alexandria by 19 points to seven at Sir Joseph Banks Ground, Botany. For the winners Griffin scored four tries and Farrell one. Burin converted twice. For the losers Hilham scored a try and kicked two penalty goals.

PADDINGTON v WAVERLEY.

At Waverley Oval Paddington beat Waverley by six to four. Elliott and Tatty scored for Paddington and Brown kicked two penalty goals for Waverley.

BRITISH ASSOCIATION.

NURSE CUP MATCHES BEGIN.

Although the season, so far as the first and second League competitions are concerned, does not officially open until Saturday next, several practice games, arranged by the council of the association, were played on Saturday last. The most interesting of all was the match at Lyne Park, where the H.M.S. Powerful team met their conquerors of last year, for the West Sydney eleven included most of the Ultimo team of 1910. Wests had, in addition, a fine half-back in Milner, who recently arrived from England.

Canterbury created a surprise by putting up a creditable draw with Balmain, and Newtown showed to advantage in an even game with the Glebe B team, which included T. Laird.

The draw for the first round of the first and second League competitions will be made to-night, after the teams have been arranged into divisions.

A start was made on Saturday with the Nurse Cup and Juvenile competitions. Great enthusiasm is being shown by the young players who take part in these matches.

Results:—

FIRST LEAGUE (PRACTICE MATCHES).

The Navy (H.M.S. Powerful) drew with West Sydney at Lyne Park, each side scoring a goal. Baxter drove a lightning shot through the goal for Powerful, while the ball went off Easton, one of the Powerful backs, through his own goal, West Sydney thereby equalising.

Balmain and Canterbury played a draw at Campsie, three goals all. Moore, who was Glebe's main stay at centre-half last year, scored two goals, and Newman one for Balmain, and Perrins kicked the goals for Canterbury.

Glebe beat Granville at Clyde by two goals to nil. Newtown drew with Glebe B at Kogarah, two goals all. A. Jennings, formerly of Adamstown, and W. Cook scored for Newtown.

Sydney defeated Newtown B at Moore Park rather easily by six goals to two, although Sydney's team included several new players. Gallagher (2) Hughes, T. Meehan, Melville, and Brookfield were the goal-kickers for Sydney, and C. Smith scored for Newtown.

NURSE CUP.

Leichhardt Rovers beat Balmain Wanderers at Fletcher's Paddock by two goals to nil.

Pyrmont Rovers beat St. Thomas' by three goals to one. Golden (2) and McLean scored for the winners, and Thompson for the losers.

Balmain Earlsbrae beat Balmain Gladstone by one goal to nil. J. Wilson kicked the goal.

St. Benedict's beat Glebe Royals at Rowling's Ground by four goals to nil. McIvor (2), Young, and Abrahams were the scorers.

Glebe Ferndeigh beat Y.M.C.A. at Moore Park by four goals to nil.

JUVENILE COMPETITION.

Rozelle Juniors beat Leichhardt Rovers at Fletcher's Paddock by one goal to nil, Matthews scoring.

Leichhardt Federals beat St. David's at Moore Park by one goal to nil.

OTHER MATCHES.

Y.M.C.A. drew with the Navy (Garden Island) at Lyne Park, no score.

Granville Shamrocks beat H.M.S. Prometheus at Clyde by four goals to two.

AUSTRALIAN RULES.

The opening of the season on Saturday was productive of some fine football, and gives great promise of a higher standard of excellence than has ever been attained in the metropolis. In two of the league matches clean, clever work by the players and keen enthusiasm by the onlookers was evidenced. In the other two games the fact of two of the strongest teams being opposed to the two weakest robbed those matches of interest, although flashes of brilliant play were shown in each.

The neighbouring rivals, East Sydney and Paddington, put up the finest contest of the day, and the game was in doubt right to the final bell; in fact, had the direction of a shot for goal (which looked a certainty for Strange) been more accurate it would have turned defeat into victory.

Newtown played a sterling game, and scored a win over North Shore, which team, according to all accounts, were certainties for this year's premiership.

Y.M.C.A. defeated the newly-organised South Sydney team rather easily.

Sydney did not give the Training College a look in, but went after the points from bounce to bell.

LEAGUE MATCHES.

EAST SYDNEY (32) BEAT PADDINGTON (28).

This match was played before a crowd of 3000 spectators at Moore Park. Captain Watts won the toss from Goldie Thomas, and decided that Paddington would take advantage of a fairly strong breeze from the north-east. Mr. G. F. Petrie umpired. Paddington quickly got to work, and assailed strongly, a fine mark by Anderson clearing the lines. A mistake by an East Sydney half-back in working over to the wrong wing nearly gave Paddington their opening score, but a fine dash by Hedger transferred to the centre. Strang was putting in some useful high marking, and on a couple of occasions had possible chances of scoring, but the determination of East's defenders smothered his efforts. At length M'Phail broke through the lines, a single going on the board. This seemed to spur the blue and white to further effort, and a couple of additional minors were quickly notched. East, by dint of good combination, took the ball to their opponents' territory, and despite the breeze a couple of behinds were recorded. The quarter-time scores were:—Paddington, 4 behinds; East Sydney, 2 behinds.

On changing ends East's ruck quickly bore down on Paddington's stronghold, where Ashley, from a fine mark, scored the first goal. Up and down the field the ball travelled, but seldom reaching East's half-back line. Holland and Lepiastrier were doing fast, clever work on Paddington wings, but were not adequately supported. Mahoney also showed fine judgment. Parr and Watts worked hard in defence, but East Sydney would not be denied, and some fine work by Thomas, Fleming, Maxfield, and Bond gave Barry possession within distance of the uprights, a good goal resulting. East also added a couple of minors during this quarter, and at the same time prevented their opponents from scoring.

Half-time Scores.—East Sydney, 2 goals 4 behinds (16 points); Paddington, 4 behinds (4 points).

Paddington set the pace in the third term, and the game had only been going three minutes when M'Phail cleverly secured Paddington's first six. East redoubled their efforts—fine combination, in which Bailas, Thomas, Ashley, and Maxfield shone out, gave Hughes possession within 30 yards, which resulted in East's third goal being recorded. Again Paddington pressed the attack, and Strang and Lepiastrier added sixes, four minors also going on the board, giving Paddington the lead, but a beautiful shot by J. Ashley, just before the bell, put East once more in the ascendancy.

Three-quarter time scores—East Sydney, 4 goals 4 behinds (28 points); Paddington, 3 goals 8 behinds (26 points).

The final quarter opened at a rattling pace, every man battling his hardest to put his side on top. Paddington started off with a single, then East notched a couple. Again Paddington prevailed, and a roar of anticipation emanated from the crowd as Strang took an excellent high mark 30 yards in front of East's timber. A groan of anguish was heard from Paddington's contingent as his effort went wide of the mark—a single only resulting. East rushed the ball to the opposite end, and from a couple of tries registered a like number of behinds, leaving them victors by 4 points.

Final scores:—East Sydney, 4 goals 8 behinds (32 points); Paddington, 3 goals 10 behinds (28 points).

NEWTOWN (64) BEAT NORTH SYDNEY (32).

This match was played at Erskineville Oval, and attracted about 300 spectators, who were treated to a fine open contest. Mr. D. Dillon, central umpire.

On the bounce Newtown prevailed, the fine play of Jeffreys, Provan, and Foster worked the ball to the Norths' back lines, where A. Dartnell secured and safely piloted it between the uprights. In play again, Kitt, M'Lean, and Robertson were responsible for a brilliant wing movement, which gave Scott an opportunity, and the scores were level. The game see-sawed for a while, neither side being able to pierce the opposition defence until Wilson secured at a favourable position, registering the maroon's second goal. The breeze blowing diagonally across the ground kept the play a good deal in the vicinity of the grand stand, which gave neither side an advantage. M'Conechy managed a steer just before the first bell, when the scores read:—North Shore, 2 goals 2 behinds (14 points); Newtown, 2 goals 1 behind (13 points).

Hortin, Dawson, and Adams put in fine work early in the second quarter, and, despite the attacks of both sides, the defence of their opponents proved all too solid. Newtown put on 6 behinds to Norths' 2 for the term, and the scores at half-time read:—Newtown, 2 goals 7 behinds (19 points); North Shore, 2 goals 4 behinds (16 points).

After the interval Newtown took possession, and fairly ran North Shore to a standstill. M'Conechy, Kane, Blackburn, Forster, Sanders, M'Gregor, Warwick, and Young shone out conspicuously in attack.

Three-quarter time scores—Newtown, 8 goals 10 behinds (58 points); North Shore, 2 goals 6 behinds (18 points).

The final quarter was slightly in favour of the North, as they put on 2 goals 2 behinds to Newtown's 1 goal.

The final scores were:—Newtown, 9 goals 10 behinds (64 points); North Shore, 4 goals 8 behinds (32 points).

Goal-kickers for Newtown: A. Dartnell 3, Adams, Cutts, Provan, Kane, M'Conechy, and Blackburn. And for North Shore: Scott, Wilson, Kriesling, and Fox.

Y.M.C.A. (86) BEAT SOUTH SYDNEY (20).

At Moore Park, before a large crowd, these teams opened the season. Mr. B. Sheiles, central umpire. The game does not call for much comment, as last season's premiers, playing a winning game from the bounce, held the newly-formed Souths in subjection. The winners had posted 58 points to 6 at half-time, after which South showed better combination, and reduced the surplus somewhat. The final scores were:—Y.M.C.A., 11 goals 20 behinds (86); South Sydney, 4 goals 6 behinds (20). Ellis (3), Williams (2), Reece, T. Dickson, B. Dickson, Fisher, Pryde, and Kruse were Y.M.C.A.'s goal-getters; for South, Lipman, Lyons, Groves, and Keating scored.

SYDNEY (114) BEAT TRAINING COLLEGE (16).

This game, which was in charge of Mr. W. G. Prince, proved rather a runaway match, the "red-legs" putting up a cricket score at the expense of the collegians, and this sort of thing will prevail whilst the league retain their ridiculous system of awarding points on averages. It does not give a weak team much encouragement to go on the field week after week to be so badly beaten. The final scores were:—Sydney, 16 goals 18 behinds (114); Training College, 2 goals 4 behinds (16). Sydney's goal-kickers were Sheppard (4), Astles (3), Eastment (2), Lynch (2), Blackerby (2), Conn (1), Lyons (1), Bourne (1); and for the collegians Forsyth and Bogle.

YOUNG AUSTRALIAN COMPETITION.

BALMAIN (29) BEAT NORTHERN SUBURBS A (22).

This match was productive of a great contest, being fast and open from start to finish, last season's premiers asserting supremacy during the last term over the new combination. M'Laren (2), Turville, and M'Culloch showed fine form for the winners; whilst Ratcliffe, and Billington were always prominent for the northerners. The final scores were:—Balmain, 4-5 (29); Northern Suburbs, 3-4 (22).

ALEXANDRIA INSTITUTE DRAW WITH PADDINGTON II., 25 ALL.

This match, played at North Botany Park, proved an exciting finish, owing to the local men failing badly in the goal-kicking department, as they scored 2 goals 13 behinds to Paddington 3 goals 7 behinds. Mr. M'Donald umpired.

ASHFIELD (28) BEAT NORTH SHORE II. (11).

A very interesting exposition of the national game was given by these teams at Moore Park. Mr. Harry Hall, as central umpire, was strict and impartial. Up to half-time the scores were level, but the better condition of the lads from the western suburb stood them in good stead in the latter half, and they ran out winners by 4 goals 4 behinds to 1 goal 5 behinds. Dunbar, Perrin, Iler, Miles, Alderson, and Westwood for Ashfield, and Mathieson, M'Darra, and Wirth, for North Shore, played best.

MARRICKVILLE (94) BEAT NORTHERN SUBURBS B (26).

Marrickville proved too much for their opponents in their match at Five Dock, and finished easy winners by 68 points. Mr. Lyle umpired.

NEWTOWN II. BEAT Y.M.C.A. II.

These clubs played the early match at Erskineville Oval, and Newtown won comfortably.

SPORTING.

THE TURF.

Entries will be received up to 4 p.m. to-day by the secretary, Mr. E. L. Johnson, for the half-dozen items on the card for the May meeting of the Moorefield Racing Club on the 20th inst. The prize money totals £520, of which £100 each goes to the Flying Mile and May Handicap, while each of the other races carries £80.

The weights for Tattersall's Club May Meeting are promised this forenoon.

The general entry for the Cup meeting of the Newcastle Jockey Club, to be held on the 20th and 24th inst., closes to-day with the secretary, Mr. J. Grisdale. For the half-score items on the card, £1450 has been provided, of which £600 endows the Newcastle Cup, for which nominations have been closed; and the principal event on the second day, the J. C. Handicap, carries £200, and the leading sprint races, £100 each. Such a liberally endowed programme should attract a hearty response from owners and trainers.

The right to collect at the entrance gates, Randwick, on the occasion of Tattersall's Club May meeting on Saturday next, will be offered for public competition at noon to-day by Messrs. Wm. Inglis and Son at their bazaar, Pitt-street.

The programme framed by the New South Wales Trotting Club for its meeting at Epping on the 15th inst. demands attention to-day, for at 8 p.m. entries close with the secretary, Mr. R. C. Hungerford. The five events carry £200 prize money, of which £50 goes to the Epping Handicap, to be decided over a mile and a half.

Mr. E. Cowcher, secretary, invites up to 8 p.m. to-day nominations for the five events on the card for the May meeting of the Wallsend Jockey Club on Saturday next. The prize money aggregates £300, of which £80 endows the Town Plate, the other prizes ranging from £45 to £65. Entries can also be lodged with Mr. P. A. Oatley, at the office of the Warwick Farm Racing Club, city.

The fields at Canterbury Park on Saturday were hardly up to the average numerically, but wagering was very brisk, and, though three well-backed horses got home in safety, the success of Fortius in the Stewards' Mile, Bon Frisco in the Park Stakes, and Brackenburg in the Canterbury Handicap left a substantial balance in favour of the ringmen.

Messrs. Wm. Inglis and Son will offer for sale by public auction at noon to-day, at their bazaar, Pitt-street, the racehorses Hollyn and All Serene.

As was anticipated, none of Nond's team of jumpers took part in the Hurdle Race at Canterbury Park on Saturday, and Lemonwood was regarded as the best of the eight that survived the assaults of the scratching pen, while Minore, The King, and Good Shot were next fancied in order, and Emerald Isle also met with some support. The first obstacle, however, put Emerald Isle out of commission, for he hit hard, and parted company with his rider, H. Jury. The son of Sir Tristram, however, kept his place in the procession, and finished the course, flying the obstacles in fine style. The favourite shaped most disappointingly. He ran behind the riderless horse for the greater part of the journey, and never gave his backers any hope. The King, a recently arrival from Bega district, where he won over the sticks last spring, made all the running until three furlongs from home; then Minore, who had held a forward position all the way, joined issue and, silencing the pretensions of his opponent ere the last obstacle was reached, beat him easily from that point. The winner was bred at the Ilford stud by Messrs. Readford and Harris, and is by Holbrook (son of Lochiel) from Clothilde, by The Friar from Flirtation, by Yattendon.

The Projectile gelding Veronite accounted for a double—the Flying Handicap and Shorts Handicap—at Canterbury Park, on Saturday, starting favourite for each race. In a field of 11 for the Flying Handicap the Flavus horse Mavus ran him very close in the market quotations, while Beebeeru and the top-weight Oweenee were the only others whose chances were seriously considered. The favourite and Oweenee were together in front in the early stages, but in the latter half of the journey the issue lay between the former and Adjacent, who only suffered defeat by a narrow margin. The field for the Shorts Handicap numbered 18, and Lady Maltster was regarded as the most likely to put down Veronite, whose success incurred a 7lb penalty, there being only half a point difference in their respective quotations at the close of business. On this occasion the favourite waited on Holline and Lady Maltster, who, almost on terms, cut out the work until fairly in line for the judge's-box, then, coming away, scored with the greatest ease. Spray, the dam of Veronite, is one of the Hobartville matrons, and is by Niagara from Rose Flaneur, by Segenhoe.

There was most money for the Sequence gelding R.F. and Flavinia in a field of ten for the Stewards' Mile at Canterbury Park on Saturday, while Salladay and La Pistol were the only others quoted in the betting. R.F. had a slight call in the market towards the close of business. Fortius took charge soon after the rise of the barrier, and for a couple of furlongs was attended by Flavinia and La Pistol, who retired before the half-mile post was reached, and C.H. ranged up alongside the son of Fortunatus. C.H. was done at the home turn, where the favourite put in his claim, but could make no impression on the outsider, and had to be content with second place. Flavinia ran prominently in the early stages, but had nothing to say in the settlement of the question, and her running was challenged by the stipendiary stewards, who instituted an inquiry, which was adjourned until Wednesday. The winner, who was bred at the Currandooley stud, is by Fortunatus (imp.) from Boonoona, by Orzil (imp.) from Betsy, by Lochiel from Lady Betty, by Dante, and his success was a welcome turn up for the pencillers.

Backers were again off the mark when they selected the Holbrook horse Prince Yattendon as the best of the 11 starters for the Park Stakes at Canterbury Park on Saturday, or, though he flattered his party at the bend, he drifted out of it from that point, and had nothing to say in the settlement of affairs. Flavescent was also prominent in the early stages, but petered out of the fray at the business end of the trip. Idyia, a full sister to The Acolyte, who divided second favouritism with the Hova horse Harley, looked like an easy winner as she swept into the straight at the head of the procession with Bon Frisco in her wake, but the latter finished with such resolution that he had her in difficulties at the distance, and won easily from Harley, who also finished fast, and cut the filly out of second money. Bon Frisco is, as the name indicates, a three-year-old gelding by imported San Francisco from Bonnie Crest, by Wallace from Bonnie Rosette (imp.), by Barcaldine, and was bred at he Mungie Bundi stud. He was rather fractious at the post, and his victory further benefited the bookmakers.

Nine of the seventeen listed for the Canterbury Handicap on Saturday faced the music, and Possune left the paddock a short-priced favourite, while Merei and Arbor also received sound support; but, bar three, long prices were on offer. The favourite was in evidence all the way, but was just beaten out of a place. Arbor, The Royal Friar, and Rose of Lancaster formed the leading division to the home turn, where the field bunched up, and Brackenburg and Merei emerged from the cluster ere the distance was reached. Thence Brackenburg swerved out, and finished almost on the rails, but though he lost some ground, he beat Merei by a length. A protest for interference lodged by Merei's owner was heard by the stipendiaries, who refused to alter the judge's decision. This was the third of the series of outsiders that got home in front during the afternoon.

The lightweight jockey, E. Huxley, son of the Randwick trainer, Ernest Huxley, left on Saturday by steamship Mooltan for England, where his brother William has lately been earning distinction. Ernest Huxley is also about to take his departure for the old country, and will catch the Mooltan at Adelaide. He intends to follow his profession as trainer in England, and the younger lad will ride for him. The elder brother William is still about three years to serve with R. Wootton at Newmarket before he will be out of his apprenticeship.

The committee of the Moss Vale Jockey Club have decided to abandon the race meeting which it was proposed to hold on May 13 on account of insufficient entries having been received.

SOUTH AUSTRALIAN SPORTING NOTES.

ADELAIDE, Sunday.

After the running of the Elder Stakes on Saturday, J. Lynch put his pen through the name of Dobi for the Adelaide Cup. Nallyappa and Sir Percivale are also unlikely starters for that event.

MAITLAND JOCKEY CLUB.

WEST MAITLAND, Saturday.

The Maitland Jockey Club's May meeting was held at Rutherford this afternoon, when the weather was beautifully fine, and there was a very large attendance. After the Welter Handicap, in which Maltster's Daughter got a great break at the start, the stipendiary stewards held an inquiry into the cause, and cautioned the starter, F. Onus, to be more careful, and to be stricter with the boys.

S.A.J.C. AUTUMN MEETING.

LORD ALWYNE WINS ST. LEGER.

MUSKET BELLE THE GOODWOOD HANDICAP.

TRAFALGAR THE ELDER STAKES.

ADELAIDE, Saturday.

Morphettville was en fete to-day, when the autumn meeting in connection with the S.A.J.C. was inaugurated. The weather was dusty and disagreeable, but that did not deter a large crowd, including a big representation of interstate sportsmen, from being present. Quite a galaxy of interstate talent was competing, which lent additional interest to the proceedings, and keen racing was provided. The customary Maiden Plate started proceedings, with Salvator Rosa, Berry Consols, and Bibbenluke most fancied, and backers were right on the spot, as the trio filled the places, with the English colt in the prime place.

A huge shock was provided in the Hurdle Race, which was easily captured by Kalos from Royal Malion. The favourite, Destinist, ran disappointingly, while Golden Grain was compulsorily pulled up after clouting the hurdle at the top of the straight.

With the withdrawal of First Shot, 17 runners were saddled up for the Goodwood Handicap, and Mala and Rightaway never wavered from the positions of favourites, but as events turned out, they proved unreliable. Rightaway had his supporters hopeful at the top of the straight, but he then had enough, and drifted right out of the fight, finishing in the ruck bunch. On the other hand, the little Pistol filly, Musket Belle, who was always lying in a handy position, drew right away from the distance, and won brilliantly from Lord Kitcheran and Braw Scot. Chittagong fell near the half-mile post, and, breaking a leg, was destroyed.

The nicely-bred Ipidi, by United States from La Carabine, put in a dazzling run in the South Australian Stakes, and easily defeated the favourites, Bandshire and T.T., and, after a great tussle, Lord Alwyne was a little too good for Phormio in the St. Leger.

The sport was brought to a successful conclusion by a stirring finish in the Elder Stakes, which attracted eight runners. Trafalgar was at the remunerative price of 5 to 4, and the dividend was a great advertisement for the totalisator. Eyeglass and the favourite had a great tussle from the top of the straight, and it was only on the post that the champion secured the measure of the Englishman amid tremendous excitement. That the pace was on all the way was shown by the time—1m 54½s for nine furlongs. Eyeglass is engaged in the Adelaide Cup with 8st 12lb.

Details of the racing are subjoined:—

Maiden Plate, 1m.—Mr. S. A. Rawdon's Salvator Rosa, by Foundling—Renegade, 8st 7lb (Burn), 1; Mr. W. H. Morgan's Berry Consols, 8st 2lb (Lewis), 2; Messrs. P. and W. Mitchell's Bibbenluke, 8st 2lb (C. Andrews), 3. Other starters: Galvanic, Overhaul, Celerity, St. Veran, Mallvale, Lady Joyful, Lindley, Piccaninny, Our Princess, Wairingan, Milva, The Master's Choice, Celt. At the start Salvator Rosa jumped off, and led down the side from Berry Consols, Our Princess, Lindley, and Bibbenluke. Salvator Rosa turned into the straight well clear of Berry Consols, and won easily by two lengths, three lengths separating second and third. Celt was next, then Our Princess and Piccaninny, with The Master's Choice last. Time, 1m 44s.

First Hurdles, 2m 35yds.—Mr. J. E. Clarke's Kalos, Sunstock—Loo, 10st 9lb (Carter), 1; Mr. M. J. O'Grady's Royal Malion, 10st 10lb (Mooney), 2; Messrs. Crozier and Egge's Kaimhurs, 12st 1lb (Hale), 3. Other starters: Golden Grain, 11st 13lb; Destinist, 11st 12lb; Elderslie, 10st 12lb; Blondin, 10st 5lb; Brownlock, 10st 2lb; Boom, 10st 12lb; Kopenick, 9st 5lb; Lyric, 9st 7lb. Golden Grain after clouting the second hurdle, pulled up. Kalos and Royal Malion took the last hurdle on terms. Kalos then drew away and won nicely by two lengths. Kopenick was fourth, then Destinist, Brownlock, and Boom, with Elderslie and Blondin last. Time, 4m 1½s. Dividends, £15/2 and £1/17.

Goodwood Handicap, 6f.—Mr. J. James' Musket Belle, by Pistol (imp.)—Pedings, 8st 3lb (Liddle), 1; Mr. Harvey Patterson's Lord Kitcheran, 6st 10lb (Harmer), 2; Mr. J. Rowen's Braw Scot, 8st (C. Andrews), 3. Other starters: Jolly Beggar, 8st 10lb (Bolton); Mala, 9st 9lb (Burn); Rightaway, 8st 11lb (E. Andrews); Radiant, 8st 9lb (Campbell); Glasgow, 8st 9lb (Marshall); Coonabar, 8st 5lb (Ross); Tercel, 8st 4lb (Lambert); Valla, 7st 13lb (J. Hopwood); Master Koran, 7st 12lb (M'Cowan); Autieres, 7st 10lb (Whelan); Ristori, 7st 9lb (Lewis); Salvia, 7st 6lb (Anderson); Forever, 7st 9lb (Osborn); Chittagong, 7st 8lb (Ray); Jew Boy, 7st 9lb (Campbell); The Pagan, 6st 10lb (R. Campbell); Calmus, 6st 7lb (Jacques). Amount in totalisator, £4357 10s. Dividends £36 9s and £2 16s. Salvia was first to begin, from Jew Boy, Lord Kitcheran, and Rightaway. The lastnamed soon drew out from the field, and at the half-mile post was well clear of Radiant, Mala, Ristori, and Chittagong, who fell. Rightaway rounded the turn clear of Radiant, Glasgow, Musket Belle, Ristori, and Lord Kitcheran. Coming into the straight Rightaway was still in front, followed by Mala, Forever, Radiant, and Musket Belle. When fairly in line for home Musket Belle ran to the front, and in the end easily defeated Lord Kitcheran by two and a half lengths, with Braw Scot a length and a half away third. Tercel was fourth; then came Jolly Beggar, Mala, and Forever, with Calmus, Rightaway, and Master Koran the last three. Time, 1m 15s.

South Australian Stakes, 7f.—Mr. Rupert Clarke's Ipidi, by United States—La Carabine, 8st 10lb (Lewis), 1; Mr. A. D. M'Donald's Bandshire, 8st 10lb (Campbell), 2; Mr. T. Kelly's T.T., 8st 10lb (Burn), 3. Other starters: Arya (3lb penalty), Pearl King, Jean, Peacham, Dryope, Takapuna, and Sir Vincent. Ipidi made the running from Pearl King, T.T., Arya and Bandshire; Takapuna led to the distance from T.T., Pearl King and Bandshire. Bandshire then took charge, only to be cut down by Ipidi, who scored by a bare length, two lengths separating second and third. Takapuna was fourth. Then came Sir Vincent and Pearl King, while the last three were Arya, Jean, Peacham, and Dryope. Time, 1m 31½s. Dividend, £11 2s.

South Australian St. Leger, 1¾m, and 138yds.—Mr. J. James' Lord Alwyne, by St. Alwyne—Demure, 8st 10lb (Burn), 1; Mr. W. Hopwood's Phormio, 8st 10lb (W. Hopwood), 2; S. E. Beach's Sir Percival, 8st 10lb (Campbell), 3. Other starters: Sergius and Nallyappa. Nallyappa paced the field, followed all the way by Sergius and Sir Percival, with Lord Alwyne and Phormio in the rear. Nallyappa led round the home turn, but Phormio and Lord Alwyne then singled out, and victory went to the latter by half a neck, two lengths separating second and third. Nallyappa was a good fourth, and Sergius last. Time, 3m 11s. Dividend, £2 19s.

Elder Stakes, w.f.a., 9f.—Messrs. P. and W. Mitchell's ch h Trafalgar, by Wallace—Grand Canary, 9st 2lb (C. Andrews), 1; Mr. E. E. D. Clarke's Eyeglass (imp.), 9st 7lb (Lewis), 2; Mr. J. Lynch's Dhobi, 9st 7lb (Burn), 3. Other starters: Son of a Gun, Sparkle, Eighteen Carat, Fastness, and Dyed Garments. Eyeglass soon slipped off with the lead, and at the six furlongs post was three lengths clear from Dhobi, who was two off Trafalgar, Fastness, Dyed Garments, and Eighteen Carat. Racing down the side Eyeglass was still piloting Trafalgar, with Dhobi the nearest of the others. Trafalgar caught Eyeglass entering the straight, and a great fight to the judge's box ended in favour of Trafalgar by half a head. Dhobi was three and a half lengths off third. Eighteen Carat and Fastness were together next, with Dyed Garments, Sparkle, and Son of a Gun last. Time, 1m 54½s. Dividend, £2 1s.

BOWLS.

SATURDAY'S PLAY.

The chief item in Saturday's bowling programme was the interstate match between New South Wales and Ballarat, played on the Warringah green, and won by the New South Wales team by over 30 points. In addition to that, the Northern Suburbs Shield contest was advanced another stage, while a number of metropolitan clubs engaged in interclub play. At Petersham the rink competition commenced a fortnight ago was completed, and resulted in a win for the rink captained by O'Neill. The following are the details of the different games:—

NEW SOUTH WALES V. BALLARAT.

FIRST TEST MATCH.

HOME TEAM VICTORIOUS.

The first of three test matches between Ballarat (Victoria) and New South Wales was played on Saturday on the Warringah green, victory resting with the home team, who defeated the visitors by 21 points.

The green was in capital order, and played truly, and as there was but a light wind blowing there was nothing in the elements to influence the game.

Among the visitors are several bowlers of renown, and as their opponents had been carefully selected, an interesting game was anticipated. The home players, however, showed their superiority from the start, and soon established a lead, which was maintained throughout. At the end of the first half-hour's play New South Wales led by eight points, which was increased to 14 when the tenth head was reached. During the next half-hour the visitors made a slight recovery, but at the fifteenth head were 19 in arrears. The home side quite outplayed their opponents in the following period, and finished the twentieth head with an advantage of 26 points, which was increased at the termination of the match to 31 points.

In No. 1 rink Brogden (N.S.W.) and Minster (B.) played an interesting game. During the early stages Brogden had all the best of the struggle, and led his opponent at the tenth head by nine points. Minster then put in his claim, and played well. Receiving support from the other members of his rink, he got within two of Brogden at the fifteenth head, but it was the last hope, as at the twentieth head Brogden had increased his advantage to six, and ultimately won by eight points.

J. Harrison (N.S.W.) had T. Williams (B.) as his opposing skipper in No. 2 rink. Harrison quickly got his rink going, and at the fifth head led by six points. During the next half-hour Williams took a hand in the scoring, and at the tenth head was within one of his opponent. This small majority was changed into a majority of one at the fifteenth head, the result of skilful drawing. Williams by this time was thoroughly accustomed to the green, and playing with excellent judgment, increased his advantage until at the twentieth head the scores were 24 to 19 in his favour. The last half-hour's play was of an even character, but Williams was not to be denied, and ran out the winner by seven points.

It was in No. 3 rinks that Thorpe (N.S.W.) quite outclassed Trotman (B.), and was in a large measure responsible for the final figures of the match. Although at the fifth head he was in the minority of one, he soon recovered his position, and laying shot after shot quickly established a strong lead. At the fifteenth head he led by 14, at the twentieth head by 19, and ran out a winner by 26 points.

A very even struggle was witnessed in No. 4 rink, where Denyer (N.S.W.) and Berry (B.) were the opposing captains. Berry had the advantage at the start, and at the tenth head led by three points. Denyer here got his rink going in something like form, and not only caught but passed his opponent, having a margin of four in his favour at the fifteenth head. Some close play followed, but Denyer managed to maintain his position, and, notwithstanding a good recovery on the part of his opponent, won by four points.

WHY WE SELL FOR LESS.

FOY'S VALUES ARE PRETTY WELL KNOWN, NOT ONLY IN SYDNEY, BUT THROUGHOUT AUSTRALIA.
OUR POLICY HAS ALWAYS BEEN TO SELL GOODS AT A LOWER PRICE THAN ELSEWHERE.
THE FOUNDER OF THE BUSINESS THOUGHT IT A SOUND PRINCIPLE TO WORK ON. WE HAVE NEVER VARIED FROM THE ORIGINAL IDEA THAT HAD FOR ITS MOTIVE LOWER PRICES.
IF YOU ASK FOR DEFINITE REASONS, WE WOULD TELL YOU THAT THE PRICE SYSTEM CONTROLLING OUR SELLING MAKES IT IMPOSSIBLE FOR US TO IMPOSE EXORBITANT PROFITS.
WHEN ADDING NEW DEPARTMENTS TO THIS HELPFUL STORE, SUCH AS JEWELLERY, ELECTROPLATE, AND OPTICAL GOODS, WE DO NOT ASK FOR THE BIG PROFITS USUALLY ASSOCIATED WITH THESE GOODS BY EXCLUSIVE HOUSES. WE PREFER TO SELL A GREAT MANY GOODS AT A SMALL PERCENTAGE OF PROFIT RATHER THAN A FEW GOODS AT A BIG ONE.
WHICH OF THESE TWO SYSTEMS OF BUSINESS APPEALS TO YOU?
THIS WEEK, LADIES, WE ARE OPENING UP STILL NEWER GOODS FROM OVERSEAS. THERE ARE FAR TOO MANY GOOD THINGS TO ENUMERATE, SO WE RESPECTFULLY ASK YOU TO MAKE A POINT OF PAYING US A VISIT, ACCOMPANIED BY YOUR FRIENDS

TO THE PIAZZA.
BRING THE BOYS AND GIRLS, TOO. WE HAVE SOME OF THE SMARTEST LITTLE FROCKS FOR THE GIRLS, AT EASY PRICES; AND THE BOYS WILL APPRECIATE THE SMART, MANLY AIR FOY'S SUITS GIVE THEM.

A SERMONETTE.

EVERY HIGH-CLASS DENTIST REGARDS THE HONOUR OF HIS PROFESSION "AS HIS OWN HONOUR."
THE BEST DENTISTS NOT ONLY ARE CONSCIENTIOUS IN THEIR WORK, BUT GIVE THEIR IDEAS FREELY FOR THE ADVANCEMENT BOTH OF THE PROFESSION AND THEIR PATIENTS.
There are Lectures on Theory, Lectures on Practice, Lectures on Ethics—but there are few Lectures ON THE IMPORTANCE OF USING ONLY THE BEST MATERIALS AND CHARGING A MODERATE FEE.
Insistence should be placed upon using what is known to be right, though it costs the dentist a little more, rather than on a reduction of prices to a point which calls for INFERIOR MATERIALS AND CHEAP DENTISTRY.

PAIN.
Pain drives more people away from the dentist than all other causes combined. With my famous CATAPHORESIS and other methods I can eliminate ALL PAIN. I can take out a nerve, I can prepare the most sensitive tooth for FILLING or CROWNING, I can extract any number of teeth WITHOUT ONE BIT OF PAIN.
In conclusion, I can guarantee honestly and truly that I am now in a position to treat ANY TOOTH PAINLESSLY, with perfect comfort, and without the SLIGHTEST DANGER to my patients.

SELF-REDUCING CORSETS A MISNOMER.
To say that any Corset is "self-reducing" is an absurdity. The simple fact is that there never has been and never will be invented a Corset capable of reducing the figure ever so slightly. What is worse is, that when the fat is there the best Corset in the world only serves to throw it into greater prominence. What fat folks require is to actually remove the fat already formed, and to prevent more fat accumulating. No Corset can do this.

FORMETTES
are the only known, tested, and approved remedy for reducing fatness. They are pleasant little herbal tablets, that remove excess fat easily, quickly, and permanently, without causing a wrinkle or the slightest ill effects. FORMETTES strengthen the whole system, increase the appetite, and allow you to eat WHAT you want and WHEN you want it. No dieting or exercising is necessary where are used, and not only do they reduce weight, but as well they have been found a splendid remedy for dyspepsia, sick headaches, and other stomach troubles, besides rendering breathing easy, and banishing palpitation of the heart for ever.

FORMETTES
are sold by all Chemists and Drapers at 3/3 per box, or may be obtained direct from A. E. MARSHALL, Chemist, 246 Clarendon-street, South Melbourne. Stocks held by ANTHONY HORDERN and SONS, PATTINSON BROS., and WASHINGTON SOUL, Chemists; ELLIOTT BROS., Wholesale.

CREME SIMON is pleasant to use, is not sticky, and gives a beautiful complexion. All chemists.
